Agnew Given Warm Welcome In Korea

Says Jets To Replace U.S. Troops

SEOUL, South Korea (UPI) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew began a tour of the Far East today with handshakes and waves to cheering crowds and a promise of supersonic Phantom jet fighter-bombers to allay South Korea's fears about the withdrawal of some U.S. troops.

The warplanes and other aid will be forthcoming to soften the effect of withdrawing 20,000 American troops from Korean soil, Agnew said as he arrived on the first leg of a tour that will take him to four Asian nations.

CHEERED IN RAIN

Standing bareheaded in City Hall Square in a drizzling rain, Agnew told Prime Minister Chung Il Kwon and a big welcoming crowd in a city bedecked with American flags that President Nixon had ordered him to "reaffirm the importance we attach to the pledges contained in our mutual defense treaty."

He promised to send 54 Phantom jets to South Korea and additional "military assistance to substantially modernize the defense capability" of South Korea.

JETS WITH RADAR

"To help you resist North Korean attempts to infiltrate your country by sea, we are also providing you with some aircraft specifically designed to detect by radar North Korean boats attempting landings in South Korea," Agnew said.

Sunburned from playing golf this morning on the Pacific island of Guam, Agnew drove through the streets of Seoul in a motorcade that stopped so that he could greet Koreans waiting to see him.

"Hi, how are you?" the smiling Agnew shouted to the crowd as he stepped from the car to shake hands with people along a curbside near Ewa

Mansfield Blasts Aid For Cambodia

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield expressed concern today that additional U.S. arms aid to Cambodia might bring a revival of policies that "led us into our troubles" in Vietnam.

With Washington-Phnom Penh agreement for $40 million more of U.S. weapons and equipment, and following Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's comment that the United States would "do everything" to help the Cambodian regime, Mansfield told reporters:

"It appears to me the increase in aid, the increase from 11 to 50 of the U.S. mission, the close air support in all parts of Cambodia — all these could be a prelude to advisers to administer the aid and then others to protect the advisers.

"I can only hope it doesn't get out of hand like it did in Vietnam."

He said he could partly understand the Nixon administration's desire to see the regime of Premier Lon Nol survive, but added that "I also can see a revival of the policies that led us to our troubles in the beginning in Vietnam and that we're in today."

The Democratic leader also said that the "vice president does not speak for the administration, except in passing. I believe what the President said prior to and on June 30."

Mansfield said he was referring to President Nixon's assertions that American forces would not be used to support the Lon Nol government.

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., assistant Senate GOP leader, told reporters at a news conference separately that Agnew was "acting as a spokesman for the President" and was restating the administration's Cambodian stance.

"It would be very dangerous to our situation in Vietnam if there were a Communist takeover in Cambodia," Griffin said. "We support the idea of a neutralist government in Cambodia.

"We all agree that American troops shouldn't go in to support the Lon Nol government, but to help it defend itself — by supplying small arms, for example — is certainly consistent with protecting our troops in Vietnam."

The State Department Thursday had disclosed the terms of the agreement with Cambodia, outlining the ground rules for

Hanna Backs His Site For Regional Shopping

A major Novato landowned has written the Novato Chamber of Commerce that his property is probably the only location in the region suitable for a large regional shopping center.

The property was rejected as a site for such a center by consultants Sedway and Cooke in their downtown Novato plan and program, presently under study by the city, because of its distance from the downtown area.

In a letter dated Aug. 19, Richard W. Hanna of Burlingame, owner of a 450-acre parcel of land northeast of the intersection of Highways 101 and 37, cited freeway exposure and access as advantages over other properties in the area.

Hanna has asked the city council for time to prepare his own downtown plan based on utilization of his property rather than the recommended Pinheiro Ranch property for the regional shopping center recommended in the Sedway and Cooke plan.

Hanna wrote: "For several years now our property has been under close observation by both major department stores and major develcpers for a regional shopping center.

"We have about 450 acres in the City of Novato . . . within several years a new interchange is scheduled . . . wh'ch will give the property complete access.

"The developers and so-called anchor tenants have recognized many competitive advantages over other properties in the general area, including:

" . . . Visibility from both Highway 101 and Highway 37 and its extensive freeway exposure.

" . . . Highway 37 will become a major east-west connector with the advent of the future north-south freeway east of Ignacio Wye.

"The property is probably the only location in the Novato region in light of a weak market for a number of years that an experienced shopping center developer can generate major tenants, promote a regional center and attract an adequate market beyond normal market projections for such a center."

The letter also said that the land was strategically located for a municipal golf course, parks and civic center.

Bel Marin Tax Limits Vote Slated

Voters will go to the polls tomorrow to vote on a proposed Bel Marin Keyes Community Services District tax rate limit increase from $1.25 to $3 per $100 assessed valuation.

Polls at the Bel Marin Keys Community Center will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m., with 412 persons eligible to vote.

The proposed increase is to accumulate funds for prevention of silting and dredging from the Bel Marin Keys lagoon and portions of Novato Creek within the services district area.

Arguments for the measure, signed by John D. Kniveton, a past president of the Bel Marin Keys Homeowners Association, will accompany the sample ballot, citing a need for more money to study the siltation problem in detail and to find solutions to preserve land values and retain use of the lagoons for boating.

No argument against the measure appeared on the ballot.

Bomb Rips Wisconsin Campus, Kills Student

MADISON, Wis. (UPI)—A thnuerous explosion which police said was caused by a bomb rocked the University of Wisconsin's mathematics research center today, killing at least one person and injuring four others.

The facility long has been the target of antiwar protesters.

A few minutes before the explosion the dispatcher at the Madison police station received an anonymous call. "Hey, pig," the caller said, "there's a bomb in the math research center."

Damage to the six-story concrete building was extensive. Other buildings in the area also were damaged by the explosion. These included the university's hospital complex, the chemistry building and the medical research center.

Authorities identified the dead man as Robert Fasshacht, 33, father of three and a candidate for a doctorate degree who had been employed as a graduate assistant in the physics department.

Among the injured were Norbert A. Sutter, 56, a security officer; Davis Schuster, 28, Johannesburg, South Africa, a graduate student and Paul Quin, Madison, a research associate in physics.

Also injured was a patient at the university hospital, who received cuts about the eyes when a window blew in. He was not immediately identified.

Federal authorities were called into the investigation immediately.

The research building has been a target of vandals in almost every war protest at the university. Its windows have been smashed several times. There have been several attempts to set it on fire.

Assistant Fire Chief Harold Muenkel said the building contained a nuclear accelerator. He said there were "some sources of radiation" that had been "secured."

The explosion occurred at about 3:45 a.m., a time when only a relatively few persons were inside the building.

Classes are scheduled to begin late next month at the university but there have been warnings from radical groups that school would not be permitted to open.

The research center was created after a contract was agreed to by the University, the U.S. Army and the Wisconsin alumni Research Foundation.

Bagley Measure To Reagan Desk

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill barring oil and gas drilling on state-owned tidelands on the coast and in San Francisco Bay was approved at the close of the Legislature and sent to the governor for his signature.

The prohibition against drilling would be for only five years, but the author of the measure, AB 684, Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, said the ban should be permanent if drilling technology does not advance enough in five years to guarantee against accidental spills.

Senate Confirms Kirkpatrick

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate today confirmed the nomination of Miles W. Kirkpatrick of Philadelphia, Pa., as a federal trade commissioner.

President Nixon named Kirkpatrick, who headed an American Bar Association committee which wrote a report critical of the FTC, to succeed Caspar W. Weinberger as the agency's head.

The Senate also confirmed the nomination of Robert McClellan of California to be an assistant secretary of commerce, succeeding Kenneth N. Davis, Jr., who resigned.

Marin Bus Line Given New Chance To Fix Up Vehicles

The California Highway Patrol has dropped its bid to prosecute Marin County Transit Systems for violations of state safety regulations in order to give the Marin City-based company one more chance to comply with the regulations.

The highway patrol and the Marin County district attorney's office agreed, however, that any further violations will subject the company to immediate prosecution.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Joshua W. Thomas told the Independent-Journal that the company had made "a sincere effort" to correct its violations found on the three buses it owns. Violations also were found on several buses it rented from other companies, he said, but it was common practice for a bus company to assume that rented equipment met safety regulations.

The company, however, has been advised that it is responsible for the condition of rented equipment as well, Thomas said.

The prospect of proseution arose last week when the highway patrol said it would take its case to the district attorney. The highway patrol has been seeking since February to have the company meet safety regulations.

The head of the highway patrol's motor carrier inspectors in the Bay Area, E. H. Mattoon, said the company's buses would be reinspected in 60 to 90 days "to see if they are maintaining them or letting them deteriorate again."

Mattoon said that until the reinspection is made the highway patrol also will suspend its warning to seek revocation of the company's California Public Utilities Commission permit.

Congressmen Express Land-Purchase Hope

A congressional subcommittee joined Marin County supervisors today for a tour of Point Reyes National Seashore, and expressed hope that the entire 53,000 acres can be purchased by the end of next year.

"I hope we'll have most of the land by the end of next year, if we can agree on the price," declared Rep. Roy Taylor, D-North Carolina, chairman of the House Subcommittee on National Parks, a subcommittee of the House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee.

'But if we have to go to court, if may take longer," added Taylor.

Thomas Flynn, deputy director of the National Park Service, was less optimistic. "It may take several years," he predicted.

Flynn said that if the price of seashore land cannot be negotiated with the owners, the National Park Service will continue to follow the congressional policy of condemning the land which means the government can back out if the court finding on land price proves too high. landowners, who contend that even after years of land condemnation proceeding, they could be left holding the bag if the government decides not to buy.

Of the 53,000 acres originally designated for the seashore, almost 23,000 acres have been purchased by the government. A total of $58 million has been appropriated by Congress for the entire purchase. Chairman Taylor said he hopes this is enough money to buy all 53,000 acres, despite the rising land costs.

Marin suprevisors, headed by Chairman John F. McInnis, welcomed the congressional delegation at a breakfast at the Alta Mira Hotel in Sausalito before the seashore tour. Supervisors William A. Gnoss, Louis H. Baar, and Michael Wornum attended the breakfast. Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. met the congressmen at Point Reyes later in the day.

Packwood Rips Seniority System

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Robert Packwood, R-Ore., the Senate's youngest member, proposed today that the system by which committee chairmen are selected on the basis of seniority be abolished.

Packwood, 37, said he would introduce legislation under which the chairman and ranking minority member would be elected by members of the committee.

He said the seniority system was "rigid, inflexible, and unyielding."

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Diphtheria Feared

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—School opens today with more than three quarters of the city's population unprotected against diphtheria. Health officials report the number of confirmed cases of the disease has doubled in the last month.

Both educators and doctors fear the crowded conditions in the city's schools could spread the diphtheria epidemic. City Health Director Dr. William R. Ross said if one child in a classroom contracts the disease all the classmates will be checked.

Ross estimated only 15,000 persons in the city of 648,189 have been immunized since Aug. 10. He also said the city must inoculate 90 to 95 per cent of the population before the disease can be stopped.

Farm Strikes Voted

SALINAS, Calif. (UPI)—Cesar Chavez' farm union voted to strike today against 97 vegetable growers and shippers in an effort to become labor bargaining agent for some 10,000 agricultural employees.

Of the growers the AFL-CIO United Farm Workers Organizing Committee voted Sunday to strike, 35 are in the fertile Salinas valley and the other 62 are smaller farms in the Santa Maria area.

At issue is whether growers will release their employees from a contract with the independent Teamsters Union and sign contracts with the UFWOC.

Nun Scandal Denied

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — The Vatican has suspended the practice of recruiting poor Indian girls to become nuns in European convents. One newspaper said the girls were "sold" to the convents for up to $750 each.

The London Sunday Times, in a story headlined "The scandal of the nun runners," quoted a priest as saying "it's a form of slavery."

What happened, according to the Sunday Times, was that recruit-starved European convents paid up to $750 to the Roman Catholic hierarchy of the southern Indian Kerala state for the girls, many of whom were totally unqualified to become novices.

Some 2,000 girls were involved since the practice began in 1968, the story said.

The Vatican took the unusual step of issuing a denial late Sunday night — a time when all Vatican offices generally are closed. It said the allegations were exaggerated and sensational.

Japan Role Argued

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., says he cannot see why it is necessary for the United States to have 100,000 troops in Japan —or why the Japanese are allowing it.

Symington made the comment during hearings by his Senate Foreign Relation subcommittee in January. The testimony was released Sunday.

Symington said the Japanese "are a people of great pride . . . I do not see why the Japanese are not getting fed up with our being there. Nor do I see why it is necessary for us to stay there."

Undersecretary of State U. Alexis Johnson told the hearing the troops no longer are there as occupiers but are there to help the Japanese defend themselves and to protect South Korea.

Storm Still Risky

MIAMI (UPI)—Tropical Depression Dorothy, whose 70 mile per hour winds and floodwaters have killed at least 43 persons, died down Sunday to just a big wave—but in a dangerous location.

The National Hurricane Center downgraded Dorothy to a "tropical wave." But kept an eye on the storm as it wandered into the western Caribbean Sea. Forecasters feared Dorothy would rebuild its strength in the area, a spawning ground for many summer storms.

Seaman To Face Sabotage Trial

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—An 18-year-old Navy fireman apprentice has been ordered to face a general court-martial on charges of sabotaging the destroyer Richard B. Anderson.

William F. Passmore, Long Beach, Calif., was accused of putting nuts, bolts and other objects into the gears of the destroyer shortly after it left here May 26 for duty off Vietnam. The objects jammed the reduction gear and stopped the port propeller from turning and the ship underwent $231,000 in repairs.

Passmore faces a maximum punishment of 30 years confinement and a dishonorable discharge.

Two other firemen apprentices were arrested after the incident but no decision has been made in their cases. They are Ken Roberts, 19, Los Angeles, and Thomas G. Black, 19, Boise, Idaho.

Desegregation Rules Are Clarified

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Nixon administration has decided to make it clear it will not allow schools which are now desegregating to assign their students to all-black or all-white individual classrooms.

There have been reports that such segregation by the classroom was a possibility among some schools preparing for desegregation this fall. But the government says its policy is:

"The term desegregation means the assignment of students to public schools and within such schools without regard to their race, color, religion or national origin."

That definition —with the key term "within such schools" —is contained in regulations being prepared for the disbursement of $75 million in federal emergency funds to help districts which are desegregating. The money, for which an estimated 1,400 school districts in the South and North may be eligible, is the first installment of $1.5 billion in emergency assistance requested by President Nixon in March.

Applications for the money may be coming in as early as the first week of September.

To be eligible, a school district must be implementing the final phase of either a court-ordered desegregation plan or a voluntary plan approved by the Health, Education and Welfare department.

Cardinal Reaches 75

BOSTON (UPI) — Cardinal Richard J. Cushing, who once said he hoped to retire when he was 75, passed that landmark today — and retirement isn't on the horizon.

He planned to mark the birthday quietly at his archdiocesan residence in Brighton before attending a $100-a-plate dinner in his honor tonight.

U.S. Writer Released By Red 'Friends'

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — Robert S. Anson, a Time magazine correspondent released by the Communists after 20 days captivity, said Sunday he is finished with reporting the Cambodian war because "I have a very personal stake in this now."

Ansen, 25, was released Saturday and drove to Phnom Penh Sunday in the same white car he was driving Aug. 3 when he was captured near Skoun, 32 miles northeast of the capital.

The Communists released French TV newsman Alain Clement and Anson about the same time the Cambodian exile government of Prince Norodom Sihanouk announced in Peking the release of four Western newsmen.

They included a Dutchman and a French woman. Clement flew immediately to Paris.

Anson said he was well treated while in captivity. He declined to identify his captors by nationality or ethnic or political base.

"They were members of a front . . . a group of people banded together to fight for a common cause," Anson said. "The treatment—it was marvelous. They treated me first as a friend and after awhile, we really got to be brothers.

"I feel I have left friends back there. They were not jailers nor my captors nor my enemy. They were my friends," Anson said.

"I have a very personal stake in this now," he said, explaining his decision to quit reporting the war. "I know people of both armies. I just don't want to see my friends dead."

Anson's release left three American newsmen missing and presumed prisoners of the Communists. They are Welles Hangen of NBC, Dana Stone of CBS, and Sean Flynn, a freelance photographer and son of the late actor Errol Flynn.

Land Grab Thwarted

NEW DELHI (UPI)—Police arrested 36 Socialist demonstrators Sunday when they attempted to seize a four-acre farm belonging to Prime Minister Indira Gandhi as part of a land reform movement.

Cambodians Belatedly Report On Air Strikes

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—The Cambodian military command said today Allied air strikes killed 500 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong in a Communist sanctuary region along the Vietnamese border.

The spokesman said the raids were flown Aug. 9-11 but the Cambodian high command had not learned of the results until Sunday. The strikes were in an area around Kompong Trach, a Communist base 67 miles southeast of Phnom Penh.

The spokesmen declined to say whose planes were involved in the air strikes. He said they were "just air strikes, that's all." He said the raids also destoyed a Communist command post and a weapons factory.

Information on the bodies was provided by villagers and Cambodian troops operating around Kompong Trach, he said.

Official sources in Saigon said ground fighting in Vietnam fell to a "real low level" today but allied commanders expect a surge of Communist attacks to mark the first anniversary of the death of Ho Chi Minh Sept. 3.

The sources said the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong had avoided contact recently with Allied units. They attributed the lull to Allied success in seizing supplies in Cambodia and regrouping of Communist forces.

The U.S. Command said American troop strength in Vietnam declined by 2,350 men in the past week to a total of 403,700. It left 19,070 men to be pulled out of the war zone by Oct. 16 under the Nixon administration's Phase 4 withdrawal. It was the fewest troops in Vietnam since the week ended Jan 22, 1967.

The Cambodian command's belated report on the air strikes came after it reported 500 other Communist troops had been killed in 24 hours of fighting in which a North Vietnamese assault against Phnom Penh's outer defenses had been thrown back. In that engagement, military spokesmen said Cambodian defenders stopped the Communists seven miles north of the city.

The spokesman said Cambodian troops were taking the initiative across Cambodia.

"The Viet Cong are often refusing to fight our troops," he said. "They disperse when our troops arrive."

Maj. Am Rong, Cambodian information officer, denied a report allegedly carried on the U.S. Armed Forces Vietnam network last week quoting Am Rong as saying Phnom Penh had come under direct attack.

"I did not say this at all," Am Rong said. "Not only did I say the Communists would not attack Phnom Penh, but I also said our troops successfully were pushing the Communists away from our outermost defenses several miles from the city."

Communiques from Saigon said U.S. B52 bombers flew four strikes overnight, all of them in Vietnam. Two raids were just below the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) separating the two Vietnams, one at the northern edge of the A Shau Valley near the Laotian border and the fourth 46 miles north of Saigon.

Leak Is Denied By White House

SAN CLEMENTE (UPI) — The White House emphatically denied any involvement with a Life magazine article accusing Sen. Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md., of obtaining a government loan to enhance stock value of a Florida-based company.

Tydings had accused presidential assistant Peter Flanigan and Daniel Hofgren, former White House aide, of leaking the information to Life.

White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said he discussed the matter with Flanigan, who denied any involvement in the published article. Ziegler said he is also "quite sure and almost positive" Hofgren was not the source.

Red-Hot Ship Slowly Sinks Into Pacific

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—An abandoned freighter, her sides "cherry red" because of a disastrous fire, was slowly sinking today in the Pacific Ocean 1,000 miles west of San Francisco.

A Coast Guard C130 airplane pilot, taking a last look before returning to his base, reported the Don Jose Figueras' "Superstructure was engulfed in flames" and that she was listing 45 degrees.

In San Francisco, however, guard headquarters declared "there is no guarantee that the ship will sink soon" although "most ships in this condition usually go down within a few hours."

The word that the 466-foot, 7,673-ton vessel's sides were glowing "cherry red from the heat inside" came from a passing Air Force Pilot.

The Don Jose Figueras, owned by the Republic of the Philippines, caught fire Friday and was abandoned Saturday by her two passengers, crew of 40 and a mongrel mascot dog after a futile fight against the blazes.

Captain Demosthenes Gabac and five officers stayed aboard trying to put out the fire for hours after the others had been taken aboard the Cuba Maru, one of two Japanese ships that answered the S.O.S.

Freak Winds Help A Winning Balloon

A 5-year-old San Rafael boy, aided by some freak weather condition, has been named the winner of the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Department Blast-Off competition.

A postcard attached to a helium-filled balloon released June 26 by Peter Sutterland of 866 Patricia Way was found in a field in Canada —approximately 1,500 miles from San Rafael.

Peter's was one of 1,000 balloons thrown to the sky in June to open the parks and recreation department's summer program.

The balloon's 1,500-mile journey smashed previous records for the annual competition. In the last three years, winners' balloons traveled 97, 129 and 160 miles.

When Peter's postcard came back by mail to the park and recreation department, officials were a bit skeptical.

Recreation supervisor Dennis Jauch said that in past years a fewyoungsters mailed their postcards in envelopes to relatives in distant places and then had the relative return the card to the recreation department, saying they had found it somewhere.

The balloon's journey from San Rafael to Westlock, Alberta, Canada, however, proved to be authentic.

Jauch checked with a San Francisco meteorologist who checked with the U.S. Weather Bureau and learned that because of hurricane conditions off Baja California, wind currents along the coast were traveling at speeds of 120 to 130 miles per hour.

The conditions that got Peter's balloon to Canada in three days could occur only about once in every 20 years, Jauch was told.

The whole thing didn't make much difference to the second prize winner, 7-year-old Mary Jane Schwab of 21 Dolores Street, who postcard was returned from Eugene, Ore.

In any other year, her postcard would have traveled more than twice as far as the winner's.

Jauch blamed the weird winds for the fact that the number of postcards returned this year was much less than in the past. Only about 5 per cent came back, compared with an average of 30 per cent in past years. He theorized that most of the balloons were taken over the ocean by the winds.

Check On Baby, Then Cars Collide

A San Anselmo mother, checking her 3-month-old baby while driving, collided with another car yesterday afternoon in Kentfield, and the baby suffered a head bump, according to the California Highway Patrol officers.

Officers said a car driven by Mary Ann Marsili, 19, of 9 San Rafael Avenue, Apt. 1A collided with the rear of a car driven by Clara Hart Gordon, 70, of 33 Angela Avenue, San Anselmo, on eastbound Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, west of Toussin Avenue, at 1:10 p.m.

With rear section cut away, you see axle as it flexes with road.

"Mercedes-Benz cars have to cope with the roughest roads in Europe. That's why we build our axles this way—not as a rigid, one-piece beam."

EVER make the mistake of taking what you thought was a shortcut?

You chose a road that looked quicker on the map. But you were soon jolted into admitting your error. You had to fight to keep control as your car bottomed and bounced at every rut and bump.

That's because most cars are designed to provide a "boulevard ride." Provided you stay on boulevards and turnpikes.

Articulated rear axle tames rough roads.

Try that same shortcut with a Mercedes-Benz. You'll appreciate the feeling of control when you slam into that first unexpected chuckhole. And you'll notice less pitching and bouncing over bumps and railroad crossings. Even washboard surfaces and cobblestones won't produce that skitterish, you're-about-to-lose-it feeling.

Independent rear suspension

Our secret: An articulated rear axle. A sophisticated and tough combination of shafts and joints that allows each rear wheel to move up and down independently of the other. Just as the front wheels do. To give you a smooth ride without compromising road-holding.

But the advantages of independent rear suspension aren't limited to rough going. On a turnpike the benefits are more subtle, but perhaps even more important.

Tracks like an arrow

When you aim a Mercedes-Benz down an expressway, you'll find it tracks like an arrow, without those tiny steering corrections you used to make for "road wander."

Slap it over tar strips. The suspension soaks them up with firm control. Not four or five reverberations.

And if you've ever been lulled by high-speed expressway driving into taking an exit just a bit too fast, you'll appreciate the adhesive cornering power of Mercedes-Benz' independent suspension. It gives you an extra margin of control that somehow keeps your palms a little drier and your brake foot a little less itchy.

Disc brakes on all four wheels

Automotive editors and engineers agree that disc brakes are superior to common drum brakes. So when it comes to brakes, our philosophy is simple. Use disc brakes. Not just on the front wheels. Not as optional extras. Use them on all four wheels. Offer no options.

The four disc brakes on a Mercedes-Benz will help you stop surer, smoother and reduce the chances of fade and lockup.

How to judge a car

Before you judge the character of a car, you should view it as a totality. Somewhat the way you judge the character of a person. So here are a few more points to help you judge a Mercedes-Benz.

1. Our overhead camshaft engines are precisely machined, balanced and bench tested to withstand the rigors of Germany's Autobahns. At American speed limits, a Mercedes-Benz is literally loafing.

2. Subtle characteristics of tires have profound effects on the overall performance of a car. Tires used on our cars are tuned to the movements of our suspension, so they'll work as integral parts of the total system.

3. All the engineering and automotive theory in the world isn't going to build a great car. The actual building is up to the craftsmen in the factory.

That's why we use skilled cabinetmakers to craft and fit the wood trim. Former dressmakers to sew the upholstery. And an assembly line that pokes along, always willing to switch off an imperfect car when one of our 2,000 or so inspectors says, "No that's not good enough."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Majority Of Skin Disorders Not Traceable To Pregnancy

Pregnancy is blamed for many skin disorders, but careful studies show that most expectant mothers are no more susceptible to dermatitis than they were when not pregnant. Some skin conditions are aggravated during this period, but the treatmnt is the same as in the nonpregnant.

There are exceptions. Pigment increases in some parts of the body because of glandular changes that occur during pregnancy. Irregularly-shaped brownish patches on the face have been dubbed the mask of pregnancy. Discolorations may occur also on the neck and trunk.

THESE LESIONS disappear shortly after delivery and reappear during subsequent pregnancies. A permanent zone of pigmentation may develop after the woman has several children. The cause is not known, and no treatment is available, but many women camouflage the brownish patches with cosmetics.

The gums may darken, swell and bleed easily. Sometimes hemorrhages into the gums lead to protrusions that can be likened to small oval or rounded tumors.

STRIAE, OR pinish stripes appear on overstretched skin because of rupture of the elastic fibers in the epidermis. These marks appear on the abdomen and breasts of women who have had children. Stretch marks are of mechanical origin; fatties who lose weight also develop striae.

Pinhead-to pea-sized skin tags often grow on the chest during the latter months of pregnancy. A fine growth of hair may arise on the face and abdomen. Spider veins affect the face, neck and trunk. These lesions are related to pregnancy and usually disappear or fade away after the baby is delivered.

MISQUOTED

D. E. writes: Someone said the only exercise you believed in was walking. Is this your opinion?

REPLY

No, it is not. I believe everyone ought to exercise, within his physical limits. A young, healthy person should remain active so long as possible via noncompetitive sports, such as golf, swimming, tennis and hiking. It is better for the oldster to avoid strenuous exercise. For him, walking is excellent. What I object to is a 45-year-old sedentary man who suddenly decides to become a weekend athlete. Perhaps this is what you had in mind.

VISION OF PREMATURES

T. E. writes: Do all incubator babies have eye defects?

REPLY

No. Fifteen years ago some incubator babies became blind after receiving too much oxygen. Giving oxygen to prematures is a life saving procedure. But the tiniest babies, who were born before the eyes had a chance to develop were the ones whose vision was affected. This no longer occurs.

RHEUMATIC ACTIVITY

S. D. writes: How is the severity of rheumatic fever determined?

REPLY

By examination and the use of blood studies and other laboratory tests. The most popular tests for rheumatic activity are the white blood count, sedimentation rate, the antistreptolysin titer, C-reactive protein, and the electrocardiogram.

HEADACHE AND EYESTRAIN

H. H. writes: In headache due to eyestrain, what part of the head hurts?

REPLY

Gunshot Wound Kills Non-Com

Staff Sgt. Freddie Leonard Jones, 37, a Hamilton Air Force Base air military policeman with 19 years service, was found dead yesterday apparently of a self-inflicted gunshot wound in the head, the Marin County coroner's office has reported.

Jones' body was discovered by his daughter in his bedroom at 949 Ulloa Drive, Novato. A .38 caliber revolver was near the body, according to the coroner's office.

A note was found indicating that Jones had been despondent over his job, according to the report.

SHAKES HANDS

En route from Guam, Agnew held a news conference aboard his jet and said the administration will circumvent, if necessary, the proposed congressional restrictions on paying foreign troops to fight in Indochina. He also said the administration was dedicated to helping the present Cambodian regime.

"We're going to do everything we can to help the Lon Nol government," Agnew said. Lon Nol is premier of Cambodia.

North Korea called Agnew's visit to South Korea "a dangerous war junket designed to . . . directly stir up the provocation of a new war."

"The villainous U.S. vice President arrived in South Korea . . . under the cloak of the so-called special envoy of Nixon, tte warlike boss," said a broadcast of the Korean News Agency.

CLEAVER CRITIZES

American Black Panther Eldridge Cleaver, visiting Hanoi, says Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's Asian trip is aimed at carrying out President Nixon's policy of making Asians fight Asians, the Vietnam News Agency (VNA) said today.

The VNA, in a dispatch monitored in Tokyo, said Cleaver, Black Panther minister of information, is in Hanoi as head of one of two visiting American delegations.

The two American organizations were identified as the New Mobilization Committee to End the War in Veitnam, headed by Phil Lawson, and the U.S. People's Anti-Imperialist Delegation, headed by Cleaver.

Guilty Plea In Marijuana Case

Martin Gerald Bida, 25, of no known address, pleaded guilty today in Marin Superior Court to a charge of possessing marijuana when arrested last September near Point Reyes Station.

Sentencing was set for Nov. 2.

Sheriff's deputies who arrested Bida said he had a pot plant, the machete and three books on how to raise marijuana in his car.

Injured Bike Rider Off Critical List

Anthon Moreno, 7, of 42 Granada Drive, Corte Madera was reported off the critical list and in fair condition at Marin General Hospital today.

He had been in critical condition from Aug. 16 to yesterday after suffering a fractured skull when his bicycle collided with a car in Corte Madera.

Six Demerits To Sheriff's Inspector

A Marin County sheriff's inspector was slapped with six demerits today by the county safety commission for a March 13 automobile accident.

The commission, however, defeated a move to recommend to Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos that Inspector Kenneth L. Irving be suspended without pay for 10 working days.

The motion to recommend suspension by commission secretary Richard L. Uchida was defeated 5-2 with only Uchida and Wayne Diggs, fleet dispatcher for the county garage in favor.

County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom then moved that a letter be wirtten to Mountanos expressing the commission's concern and directing Mountanos to take whatever disciplinary action he deems necessary.

Uchida alone voted against Bloom's motion.

Irving was given three demerits for lack of judgments and three for excessive speed in wet driving conditions which resulted in an accident at 12:15 a.m. on Nicasio Road.

Irving's patrol car went off the road near Howard Ranch and severed a telephone pole. He left the car there overnight and went home without reporting the accident.

A California Highway Patrolman saw the damaged car the next morning and turned in the accident report. Irving called the highway patrol at 9:45 a.m. to give his statement.

The six demerits opened the way for severe disciplinary action by the sheriff up to and including dismissal from county employment.

Irving's failure to appear before the commission Thursday was explained today by Sheriff's Sgt. Robert Bertrand who said that he had instructed commission secretary Uchida to cancel Thursday's meeting and that he had told Irving that it would not be necessary for him to appear.

Through a mixup the meeting was not canceled.

Irving was accompanied to the meeting today by San Rafael attorney Michael B. Duffiey.

Irving said that he was returning home from a confidential meeting with an informant when the accident occurred. He said it would have taken two hours for the highway patrol to reach the scene, he had a meeting to attend the next morning and decided to go home and contact the highway patrol in the morning.

The police radio in his car was made inoperable by the accident, he said. He added that two times earlier the day of the accident the steering on the car had failed, although Terrence Wolohan, foreman of the county garage, said the steering failures were not reported and that the garage could find nothing wrong with the steering following the accident.

handling the new aid program as well as the $8.9 million in military aid supplied on an emergency basis in May and June.

Officials said the military aid includes small arms and ammunition, trucks and other transport, as well as communications equipment.

The plan for Cambodia is not affected by last week's action in the Senate prohibiting the use of American funds by Thailand or any other country to send "mercenaries" to fight for the Lon Nol government. The $40 million goes directly to Lon Nol.

The State Department has said, and Vice President Spiro T. Agnew repeated at a news conference on Guam Sunday, that the United States "has no commitments" to Cambodia and none is incurred under this agreement. It will be an executive agreement which does not require congressional approval.

The funds will be taken from discretionary money available to the President or diverted from other programs.

U.S. officials today denied assertions that the new aid program for Cambodia would involve the establishment of a large-scale American military mission in Phnom Penh. They said the aid agreement provides for no military advisory group (MAG). Supervision of the modest program, they said, will be handled by military attaches at the American embassy.

Minimum Litter Fine Gains Nod

By I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill setting mandatory minimum fines for litter and allowing judges to sentence litterers to clean up highways won final approval in the closing hours of the 1970 legislative session.

The bill, SB 902 by Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, set a minimum fine of $10 for the first conviction, $25 for the second, and $50 for the third. It went to the governor for his signature into law.

Multiple offenders could be required to pick up litter for four to eight hours.

The Department of Motor Vehicles will keep records on convictions, so that repeat offenders can be detected.

The measure also requires local government to use half of its revenue from the fines for waste cleanup programs.

Israel Picks Eban To Start Mideast Talks In New York

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Israel has named Foreign Minister Abba Eban as its official representative to the Middle East peace talks, clearing the way for the negotiations to begin this week in New York.

At the same time, both Israel and Egypt did some verbal sparring as a prelude to the negotiations.

Premier Golda Meir said Sunday Israel must go into the talks strong. "The first moment of weakness on the part of Israel would be the moment when it will have no friends anywhere," she said. "Our friends have only one choice to make: They cannot choose to make us accept what they believe we cannot and should not accept because we are weak."

And the semiofficial Cairo newspaper Al Ahram said today Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser and Jordan's King Hussein have agreed the 90-day cease-fire and the peace negotiations are no reason to crack down on Palestinian guerrillas or call for the withdrawal of Iraqi troops from Jordanian territory. Neither the guerrillas nor the Iraqis have accepted the cease-fire.

Egypt and Jordan already have named their representatives to the talks, to be held in New York under the auspices of United Nations mediator Gunnar V. Jarring. They are their U.N. ambassadors — Mohamed Hassan El-Zayyat for Egypt and Mohamed El-Farra for Jordan.

ABBA EBAN
Israel spokesman

Israel had wanted to start the talks at the foreign ministers level, but finally solved the problem by naming Eban as its official negotiator and then saying U.N. Ambassador Josef Tekoah had been deputized to represent him at the opening negotiations.

Mrs. Meir, speaking to the closing banquet of the 20th anniversary conference of the International Israel Bond Drive, said Israel's friends "would be with us only so long as we and you are together and are strong together."

She said her nation entered the peace talks "with all sincerity and desire that they end with peace agreement" but added "we will not accept a makeshift peace, we will not accept something that has no connection with peace, and we should be expected to receive as peace."

She said the Egyptians and Syrians are "no problem," but that the Soviet Union was behind them "with all its great, brutal power."

"We have no reason for war with the Russians . . . but we are an obstinate, hard-necked people," she said.

Al Ahram, reporting on the talks between Nasser and Hussein which ended Sunday, said they agreed on the necessity of "complete coordination" between them at the forthcoming talks.

Agreement also was reached that "the Palestinian resistance movement should be safeguarded by every available means regardless of the failure of some Palestinian groups to understand the calculations of international politics."

INFORMATION — Col. P. Lee Mason has been named information officer for the Sixth Army at the Presidio of San Francisco. He will be responsible for information programs in eight western states.

Hub Council Sets Approval Of Budget

The council will hear a report on flood control from Donald Frost, county director of public works.

Racist Brawling Rocks U.S. GIs In West Berlin

BERLIN (UPI) — A brawl between dozens of Negro and white American soldiers took place in a U.S. Army barracks in West Berlin last week, an Army spokesman reported today.

The spokesman for the West Berlin garrison said the brawl erupted Thursday night at McNair barracks. The fight started between two white and two black soldiers and others quickly joined in.

The soldiers stoned military police when they intervened. One policeman and seven other soldiers were hospitalized with injuries.

The Berlin brawl was the latest of a series of incidents between Negro and white American soldiers in Germany. Army sources said tension has been fanned by the increasing influence of Black Power organizations in the Army.

Pot Testing Shows Shift In Thinking

CHICAGO (UPI)—Male medical college students became less precise in their thinking after smoking marijuana, an article in the American Medical Association Journal said today.

The article, by two doctors and a researchers from the Lafayette Clinic in Detroit, reports on a study of 10 healthy male freshmen medical students who had smoked marijuana before.

Dr. Ernest A. Rodin, Dr. Edward F. Dominio and James P. Porzak said the students had smoked marijuana for more than a year before the tests. They were given as many marijuana cigarettes as they wanted in the laboratory, until they reached their usual subjective "high," the article said.

"The findings of neurological examination, except for mental status, remained completely normal," the report said. "There was no evidence of ataxia (loss of muscular coordination) or impairment of cortical sensation."

The artcle said, however, "thinking appeared to be altered in a very subtle fashion" after the marijuana was smoked. "Associations had become somewhat looser, there was an excess of jocularity and the prosody of language tended to show a slight sing-song type pattern."

The medical students' thinking 'lost some of its preciseness," the article said.

The researchers found the "pleasure derived from the use of the drug is probably due not only to enhanced sensory impressions, but also to a decrease in critical judgment and loosening of inhibitions."

Rep. Don H. Clause, R-Calif., remarked that it was "sturdy enough to survive almost undamaged the great earthquake and fire of 1906."

Teen-Agers Draw Movies

By WAYNE RATLIFF

SOUND EFFECTS — Peter Merrill (left) directs recording of the sound sequence for their animated cartoon, while Richard DeFord operates tape recorder. Michael Terry uses the water can as an echo chamber and John Merrill holds the duck that must quack on cue. The recording was done outdoors to capture such natural noises as birds and wind.

Most of us, when we were children, played with comic flip-books with pictures that seemed to move when pages were flipped by rapidly — and promptly forgot them along with other toy fads.

A group of Novato tee-agers didn't forget them, however. Interest in flip-books led them to interest, and growing knowledge and ability, in making animated movies.

John Merrill, now 14, started making small flip-books three years ago when he was in the fifth grade. Soon he and several classmates were making larger flip-books with more complicated actions.

In November of 1968, after seeing a television show on animation, he and his brother Peter, one year older than he, began making drawings on paper for their first animated movie. They and several of their friends have been working on increasingly sophisticated animated movies since then.

John and Peter's parents, Councilman and Mrs. Douglas M. Merrill of 2060 Vineyard Road, bought them a movie camera for Christmas in 1968, and the boys began photographing their drawings with a simple tripod and homemade frame as their only other equipment.

Making animated movies is complicated business, even for well-equipped professionals wil years of training and experience; and the boys were dissatisfied at first with the jerky appearance and uneven coloring of their movies.

They gathered information from television shows, encyclopedias, magazines and technical books in animation and soon had assembled and built equipment to allow them to make much more polished movies, with sound and even an experimental effect very similar to three-dimensional photography with a single-lens camera.

They now have their camera mounted on a frame from an old enlarger above a work table they designed and built themselves to allow them to use fixed or sliding backgrounds and middlegrounds on plastic so that only the moving protions of a scene need to be redrawn.

They bought an old movie editor at a rummage sale and a projector that has equipment for recording synchronized sound track on the film.

Movies they have made include two drawn on paper, with each part of each drawing reproduced for each frame. The first was "Easter Special," a simple cartoon about a railroad train. The other was a collection of five cartoon sequences involving characters they created themselves . . . a rat, two cats, a turtle and four ducks they modeled after family pets.

Their next movie, "Defeat," a story of a flying saucer invasion, was done partially with animation and partially with live photography; and they did some experimental work using pipecleaner puppets instead of drawings and animation.

Peter and two classmates made a movie for a science project, and all three boys earned "A" grades for their efforts. The movie, "Time and Space," demonstrates relationships between time and space. The classmates, Joseph Huffaker, 14, of 14 Fleetwood Court, and Joseph Lusk, 14, of 2040 Vineyard Road, and Peter spent about 100 hours and $23 on the project. They plan now to add narration to the film, which was made without sound.

Three of the boys' films have been entered in the 1970 Kodak Teen-age Movie Contest, and the current project is a 30-minute movie for the 1971 contest. The movie, named "Abacaveny" after the popular song "Abergavenny," is an adventure story about a frog and his turtle sidekick who are kidnapped and carried to a tropical island by pirates searching for gold.

The story has been plotted on the boys' story board — a wall of their studio — and parts of the sound track have been recorded and accompanying animations and backgrounds drawn.

Peter is the producer and John an animator for the film. Chief animator is Richard DeFord, 13, of 728 Sun Lane. Michael Terry, 13, of 18 Western Drive, has a voice part and helps in tracing and painting in the animation drawings.

Peter, who hopes to become a producer of animated movies for his career, said he works on them because "It's fun. I like working on the technical things."

John, Richard and Mike said they also hope to work as animators.

Being somewhat removed from normal movie circles, the boys have developed their own technical vocabulary. Films, for example, are uncut movies or movies that aren't worth looking at.

"Sometimes they mistakenly put a film in a movie theater," said Peter, "and people walk out on it. Don't say we make films."

The only project they plan beyond completion of "Abacaveny" and adding a sound track to "Time and Space" is an adaptation of a children's book entitled Anatole over Paris, about the adventures of a mouse family flying over Paris on a kite, the boys said.

Home Is Flooded During Vacation

A San Anselmo home was flooded while the occupants were on vacation, causing extensive water damage upstairs and downstairs, San Anselmo firemen reported yesterday.

Firemen said a water pipe broke in the upstairs at the home of John Mlodzianowski at 330 Fawn Drive, and was discovered yesterday by Mlodzianowski's father.

The family has been on vacation about a week, and the pipe apparently had been broken for several days, firemen said.

Five Petalumans Face Marijuana Prosecutions

Three Petalumans have been arrested on suspicion of selling marijuana to an undercover agent in Walnut Park, Petaluma.

Booked into Sonoma County Jail were Douglas Rayford Farley, 18, of 312 Coronado Drive, accused of possesion, sale and cultivation of marijuana; David Eli Ortiz, 27, of 1279 Ponderosa Drive, on possession and sale of marijuana; and Joseph Henry Norton, 19, of 470 Lohrman Lane, on cultivation and possession of marijuana.

They were scheduled for arraignment today in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court.

Police said two Petaluma youths were arrested last night on drug charges after a routine traffic stop on Western Avenue.

Steven Edward O'Shea, 15, of 855 Schuman Lane, was arrested on suspicion of possession and being under the influence of marijuana. Steven John Lafranchi, 16, of 717 B Street, was arrested on suspicion of possession of marijuana.

Ferry Breakdown No Joke; It Was A 'Heartbreaker'

Some may have thought it something of a joke on the Golden Gate Bridge District when the new Sausalito-San Francisco ferryboat broke down on its first day of regular commute operation.

For decades the bridge board has been a typical governmental body in the sense that it talks, studies, consults, talks, studies, consults, and does very little.

IT FINALLY went into the ferry business.

This was quite remarkable. The odds were against it. Many thought it could not happen on schedule.

The bridge board did not take final action to clear the way until Aug. 14. But the action was taken and the way cleared before the deadline.

Feeder bus service was operating to and from the ferry. New parking lots were ready.

THE LOSS OF an engine on the first day of regular commute service under the circumstances, was not a joke but, as Luehring said, truly "a real heartbreaker."

Luehring and all the others who worked so diligently to get the service started on schedule, have our sympathy and strongest hopes that there will be no further lapses in service.

Higher Tire Standards Needed

We keep reading notices of recall of automobiles for inspection of possible deficiencies which might render them unsafe under some conditions.

If you have a car that has a flaw, which would make it unsafe to operate in a way which you would expect to operate it, recall for inspection and rectification if necessary is a Godsend.

Now the U.S. Transportation Department is proposing that tire manufacturers set up a system of recording the name and address of each tire buyer so that tires with possible flaws can be recalled effectively.

Again, if you have a tire which may have a flaw that would make it unsafe, recall and possible replacement or repair is a Godsend.

But all of this record keeping and recalling and inspecting tens of thousands in order to hunt for perhaps a few score of defective units is terribly expensive.

Increasingly, it is becoming a regular cost of auto and tire manufacturing. This cost is passed along to the customer. Prices rise even higher.

Somehow it doesn't seem right that the customers should pay for the errors of the manufacturer.

The government keeps inspectors at slaughter houses to insure that the product meets required standards for human use. Why not government inspectors in auto and tire factories for the same purpose?

Planners' Reports Are Borders Between Ho-Hums And Ho-Hums

PETERZELL

Tons of reports by planners cross our desk, most struggling successfully for archival oblivion, but few match the beaut the Association of Bay Area Governments came up with this month.

Planners usually try to embellish their startling rediscoveries of bald truths, but occasionally slip and express themselves clearly enough to reveal that they have said nothing.

ABAG's study of the ocean coastline, for example, found the following: "The Pacific Ocean dominates the coastline in many ways. The shore and the adjacent uplands owe much of their materials and form to the action of the ocean."

OR HOW ABOUT this one: "For recreational purposes alone, the coastal zone is unique . . . These (population) pressures are generally growing on all coastal recreational resources and there is danger of overuse for some." Yep, the beaches sure are crowded.

Some others: "Accelerated urbanization of the Bay Area, notably since the 1940s, has produced a scarcity of developable land and increasing pressures for development."

But the absolute topper was the bold declaration that "an important factor in the history of the coastline is that it is a boundary between land and water.

Who could dispute this?

But who could dispute that taxpayers' money has not been spent well spinning out this silliness! Whatever value such a report has is effectively masked by burning up a lot of useless words.

INEPT HANDLING of a major environmental problem in the legislature belied the Reagan administration's claim of concern about such problems.

At issue was the need to consider the environmental effects of electric power plant sites. The administration had drafted fairly worthy legislation to create a statewide commission to investigate such effects. No matter that it would have been tailored to the power companies' requirements — this objectionable feature was cured by a key amendment.

BUT THE administration gave the bill to Assemblyman John V. Briggs, R-Fullerton. His credentials as one of the less effective legislators was proved again as he fumbled the bill from one committee to another until it finally drowned last week. Virtually everyone condemned it by then for the string of amendments Briggs hastily drew to try to appease everyone.

The administration's decision to give the task to Briggs apparently was designed to win some points with the conservatives, since Briggs usually sits pretty far out on the starboard wing.

But if the administration is serious about such a measure, it may want to find another author next year. It'll take a tough fight to get the bill, and it will need a legislator who knows how to argue both on his feet and with his colleagues.

AS CITED BY the Sierra Club, the present system for power planning "Has broken down because of two flaws — it assumes that the supply can keep doubling every seven to 10 years, and it assumes that environmental concerns should not be a major concern in power planning.

The culb's executive director, Michael McCloskey, in a letter to President Richard M. Nixon, warned that "environmental concerns are not merely a matter of sentiment — they are basic to keeping our environment habitable."

Cartoon Belongs On Comic Page

Too bad that you permit the monstrosities perpetrated by the "artistic" pen of C. Hugh Haynie to obtrude into the quiet absorption and consquent appreciation of your always timely, thoughtful and ever to-the-point editorials.

Political cartoons, to be effective, should be subtle, appealing to the mind of the thinker. The monsters portrayed by this cartoonist, who is a master of masochism, cater to the tastes of the sensation seeker. The one of Aug. 17 is a good example of his type of vulgarity.

Mini-Bike Riders Must Follow Rules

Re Brad Weber's letter which appeared Aug. 19 (Boys Hunt Spot to Ride Mini-Bikes), I suggest that he ask the salesmen, dealers and firms which sell mini-bikes to tell him where he can ride. I believe they should let the prospective buyer (either adult or child) know BEFORE purchase what the legal operation restrictions are, and also suggest where owners can legally operate these vehicles.

Too often mini-bikes have been purchased by affluent parents as a new "toy" for children too young to have a driver's license. Then, after they have this "toy", they become angry with the police and ordinary citizens who object when unlicensed drivers operate these vehicles in places where it is unlawful to do so. If a mini-bike is purchased, it is the owner's responsibility to find a place to legally use it, or else suffer the consequences.

Print Full Text Of Major Speeches

I have been accumulating BOUQUETS and BRICK BATS on I-J publishings during the past few months.

BOUQUETS — For including the full speeches by President Nixon on Cambodia and Governor Reagan on closing the colleges. It is not easy to gather the full meaning of any speech given over the radio or on T.V. in one sitting. Reading the text afterwards makes it possible for every interested citizen to check accuracies. The news media for years have so badly chopped and quoted out of context important public utterances, they are no longer worth reading. Radio and T.V. commentators are equally as bad. I hope you will make it your policy to give the text of all important public speeches.

BRICK BATS to the press on publishing Nixon's statement on the Munson trial. It is easy to understand how some foolish young reporter might badger the President into making a remark that could ruin months of a costly trial, but the editors are supposed to be reasonably intelligent and able to sift out such thoughtless reporting as a service to the public. Freedom of the press or any other kind carries the responsibility of judgment.

BRICKBATS to George Nevin on his interview with Threlkeld (Aug. 20). The Defense Department in its "Pocket Guide to Vietnam" gives the following breakdown on Vietnam religions. Of 14 million people there are approximately: 1,500,000 Catholics; 500,000 other Christian religions; 1,000,000 Animists — worshipers of gods of soil, river, etc.; 1,500,000 Cao Dai — mixture of Eastern and Western religions; 1,000,000 Hoa Hao — (founded 1939 contains elements of magic and Buddahism); 4,000,000 Confucianists -- peasant level simple ancestor-worshipers; 500,000 Taoists; 500,000 Hindus and Muslims.

Total 10.5 million leaving 3.5 million Buddhists and those with no religion at all. Nevin either misunderstood Threlkeld when he said some 85 per cent were Buddhists, or he forgot to do his home work before publishing his article.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

LAID LOW by an attack of flu just two months before he died, the famous author, Somerset Maugham, was disturbed in his Cape Ferrat home by a female admirer who phoned to ask, "May I send you a basket of fruit — or would you rather have flowers?" Replied the ailing old Maugham, "It's too late, I fear, for fruit, my dear — and too early for flowers."

FABLE: A very rich old man, realizing that his days were numbered, summoned his three sons to his bedside and told them, "I'm going to leave the greater part of my fortune to the son who can prove he's most qualified to preserve and even increase it. There are are three identical rooms on the first floor of this house. I want each of you to fill every nook and cranny of one room. Use any commodity that you wish, but the task must be completed by 1:00 p.m. today."

The first son chose to fill a room with sand. The second used straw. Neither, unfortunately, was able to meet the 1:00 p.m. deadline.

Meanwhile, Son Number Three appeared to be doing nothing. At five minutes to one, he wheeled his ailing father into his room, raised the shades, and let the glorious sun fill every corner with light and brightness. The father shaded his eyes and beamed, "My boy, you are the one who has shown yourself most worthy of inheriting the bulk of my fortune."

Soviet Union Took Greater Risks In Reconciliation With Bonn

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — The Soviets must have wanted their new treaty with Bonn very badly to accept the risks it brings to its Eastern European empire.

Some in the West feared that West Germany's reconciliation with Russia would weaken the NATO alliance by drawing the most powerful NATO ally in Western Europe toward the Svoiet orbit.

The evidence points the other way.

It is the Soviet Union which will have to worry about its Eastern European satellite being drawn into the economic and political orbit of West Germany and Western Europe.

MOSCOW HAD TO CHOOSE the lesser of two risks to get the treaty. It chose to risk something of its tight grip over Eastern Europe to improve its relations with the West at a time of ominously deteriorating relations with Red China.

This had to be the overriding reason. The Soviets at last made peace with West Germany.

On the favorable side, Moscow will get needed credits and expanded trade with West Germany. It also gets Bonn's acceptance of all of Europe's postwar boundaries plus a pledge never to try to alter them by force. But this settlement of border isues only puts into treaty what already existed in reality. This is because Bonn, a nonnuclear power, could never challenge the nuclear might of the Soviets.

BUT WHAT BONN has really won is the freedom to develop fuller economic and political ties with every one of the Soviet satellites in Eastern Europe?

This is what West Germany wants. This is what the Eastern European Communist states want above all because it means greater political independence from Moscow and decreased economic dependonce on Moscow.

This has been a foremost objective of Willy Brandt from long before he became chancellor. He could not move in this direction until Moscow was willing to say yes.

It finally did so by accepting a treaty provision pledging both Bonn and Moscow to work for "peaceful relations among all the European states."

RUMANIA, HUNGARY, Czechoslovakia and Poland can't wait to begin. They eagerly welcome the new deal as a reliable, even if reluctant signal that they are now free to develop their own expanded "peaceful relations" with the West German economic power center.

They are proceeding to do so. They know that they are economically laggadr. They want Western capitalist know-how even if it means adapting their Communist system to it.

THE NEW PULL will be in the direction of the West and many believe, a drift toward "national communism" which the Soviets have never relished. Only East Germany is holdnig back for fear the magnet of Western freedom may undermine its unpopular Communist regime. But its dictator, Walter Ulbricht, could not dissuade the Soviets from giving Brandt what he asked.

Brandt proved to be a powerful and effective negotiator. He was able to exact two extra concessions from Moscow — a guarantee that the new treaty would not exclude reunification of Germany by peaceful means and a promise that the Soviets would apply the nonaggression agreement to West Berlin. He won the latter by boldly telling the Soviets that he would not ask the Bundestag to ratify the treaty until a mechanism is established to insure secure access to West Berlin.

IT WORKED and now the Soviets will have to lean on Ulbricht to help bring it about. As the Sino-Soviet dispute continues to fester, we now have the Bonn-Moscow agreement, progress of the nuclear arms talks and Moscow's support for the U.S. peace initiative in the Middle East. This is evidence that the Soviets must have decided they must have detente with the West as their conflict with Red China becomes more perilous.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Congress Leaders, Soviet Aide Discuss Arms Talk

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — As off-the-record background for assessing the arms limitation talks and voting on military procurement questions, some congressional leaders have taken the opportunity to talk informally with one of Moscow's policy planners.

Amid the controversy over missile defenses and their relation to the SALT talks, a number of lawmakers have had interviews with Russian Col. V.M. Kulish (ret.). Kulish is visiting the United States under one of the State Department's cultural exchange programs.

Wounded in the battle of Moscow, Kulish turned to the study of history after World War II. He is presently assigned as director of the International Relations Division of the Institute of World Economics and International Relations which is operated by the USSR Academy of Sciences.

Participants in the Kulish interviews report that he has talked freely and openly about such issues as the anti-ballistic missile and the arms limitation talks. He is said to have urged that the U.S. lawmakers give him their candid views in return.

In at least one of his Washington interviews, Kulish is said to have intimated that his report of U.S. attitudes, based on his talks and travels here, will go directly to Andrei Gromyko, the Soviet Foreign Minister, on his return to Moscow.

He is reported to have told one congressional leader, for example, that the Safeguard ABM system poses no particular problem for Soviet policy planners. That would appear to go along with the view expressed by some U.S. scientists that Safeguard will not work and is a meaningless addition to U.S. defenses.

On the other hand, Kulish is said to have told one lawmaker that Safeguard complicates the Kremlin's problems because, in a Russian first strike against U.S. missile silos, it might successfully protect enough ICBMs to leave the United States with a clear strategic superiority.

IN THAT DISCUSSION, Kulish is reported to have taken issue with the idea, which he attributed to U.S. military planners, that an initial missile exchange would be decisive in any nuclear war between the major world powers.

If it is true that he will report directly to top-level Kremlin leaders, Kulish will have had an opportunity, in his talks with congressional leaders, to get an accurate reading of the opposing forces at work in Congress and at the American grassroots.

THERE IS, however, always the question of how much credence will be given to his comments if they do reach top officials in Moscow. There is no guarantee that a similar visitor to Moscow would get much attention in official Washington.

Would Secretary of State William Rogers pay close attention to a McGeorge Bundy returning to the United States after a similar stay in Moscow? Would Dean Rusk have done so?

Marin Court Calendars Crowded; Burden Falling On Fewer Judges

"Happy New Year, counselor."

"Merry Christmas, your honor."

Judges and lawyers in Marin courts haven't quite been trading such greetings with each other, but they do act a bit startled when they realize they are agreeing to hold misdemeanor trials in 1971, already.

It isn't yet Labor Day, much less Thanksgiving, but the courts calendars are getting fantastically crowded on all levels.

MANY CIRCUMSTANCES, some grim and some less so, are causing the problem.

The slyaing of Superior Judge Harold F. Haley means the four remaining superior court judges must divide the burden of his schedule among themselves. They're trying to juggle the calendar to salvage some vacation time.

The problem prodded Superior Court Judge Thomas F. Keating to worry out loud last week, when a murder trial session was delayed more than an hour to take care of other business piled-up in court.

"I'M SORRY," apologized the Judge, "I don't know how we can get this trial started on time. I don't know what they expect us to do" to keep up with the increasing load.

Municipal Court Judge Peter Allen Smith said the lower courts also face major worries. With Judge Hadden W. Roth retiring from the bench a week from tomorrow, there still is no appointee in sight to fill the vacancy.

Even if appointed today, it would still take time for a new judge to clear up his affairs and break in on the court routine, Judge Smith warned. When Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. leaves the bench the end of the year, the judge elected to take his place also will have to learn the court ropes.

EITHER WAY, Smith will face a pretty heavy burden as the only experienced judge in the three-department muni court.

Another query intriguing Civic Center people-watchers is: who might succeed Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales if Bales should be appointed to the seat left open by Judge Haley's death?

BALES WON election to another four-year term last June, and would begin his new term next January, if not named to the courtroom post.

If the district attorney job comes up vacant between now and next January, it's up to the county board of supervisors to appoint Bales' successor. But, according to Dep. County Counsel Thomas G. Hendricks, it would be a two-year post, rather than four years. An election would have to be held in November 1972.

THE JUDGESHIP question hinges on Gov. Ronald Reagan's actions.

If he appoints heroic Assist. Dist. Atty. Gary W. Thomas to Roth's vacant muni courtroom, he probably won't want to do so until Thomas is well on the road to recovery and nearly ready to come to work. It means that Judge David R. Baty of the West Marin Judicial District is likely to continue coming into the Hall of Justice several days a week.

He has been on the muni bench during recent weeks, while Judge Goldstein has been on vacation.

Back to Bales' possible replacement: Over a cup of coffee the other morning, the district attorney was musing that for the first time in years, practically every one of his deputies is well seasoned in the office duties.

EVEN DISCOUNTING the possibility that Dep. Dist. Atty. Ernest C. Zunino wins the November runoff for Goldstein's bench, and appointment of Gary Thomas to Roth's courtroom, there remains at least four deputies with more than six years' experience each, Bales noted.

Special Cancer Drive Sept. 4

Proceeds of a "fuel up to fight cancer" project Sept. 4 will be donated to the Marin branch of the American Cancer Society in memory of Ted Harris, a member of the Marin Independent Service Station Association, who died of cancer.

More than 50 service stations in Marin will participate in the project, donating two cents for every gallon of gasoline sold that day. The project is sponsored by the service station association.

Communicating Is A Good Thing But It Might Not Always Work

During the last few moments of geological time, a curious creature came to earth and swarmed all over it. Homo Sapiens it calls itself. And says it with a straight face too.

It has variously described itself as "the political animal," "the only animal that smiles," "the animal that cooks his victuals," "the only animal that can make an ass of himself," "God's most noticeable mistake," etc.

YOU MIGHT ALSO say this creature is the only one who has elevated into a passion the desire to escape from his world and to turn away with a shudder from its harshness.

Now these one-line sketches of nature's paradox may or may not be accurate, but it's apparent he's the only creature who believes what he wants to believe and then supplies himself with reasons why.

And a nifty little process it is, called rationalizing.

LAST WEEK I wrote a little piece about the readiness of most of us to dodge unpleasant conditions, undesireable situations and problemsome issues. One of the techniques is rationalizing.

When we utilize reason to construct a rational framework around our desires when the foundation rests on quicksand, or to "prove" what we want to believe, then we're practicing self-deceit — a dishonesty with our own selves, if you will, and not much else. And once the habit is formed, it becomes increasingly more difficult to know when you're rationalizing and when you're not.

LET'S TAKE THIS as an example. It has been said in so many different ways and so often that it has become a commonly accepted assumption, the secret to solving many of our problems — personal to global — is in improving communications. "We must learn to communicate," or, "Improve our communication." This seems to be the keystone to all felicitous relationships.

This happy thought finds ready and wide acceptance largely because we wish it were true and wishing it were true, we believe it. Finding it a comforting and a pleasant idea, we grasp it without troubling to examine it beyond the surface level.

THERE'S NO DENYING that communication between individuals and groups is vital, but communication by itself, will not necessarily result in trust, respect, love and all the other qualities essential to a harmonious relationship. Communication won't cause suspicion, distrust and hate to fade away if the opposing views are anathematic to each other. Communicating with someone whose views are wicked and dangerous is not likely to produce feelings of benevolence and well-being for him, unless, of course, you happen to share his views — or you happen to be an idiot.

Understanding Hitler wouldn't have caused me to love him or to have brimming good will toward him nor would my suspicion of him have lessened.

IF THROUGH communicating you gain an insight into the hell of another's twisted mentality, love isn't likely to result.

To believe that communication is the solution — the happy road to everlasting harmony, is just another case of dodging grim reality. It is important to communicate. Let's not depracate that for it is the prelude to understanding. But communication, by itself, is not the panacea of all ills. It's a tool, nothing more. Sometimes it works, sometimes it doesn't.

Tax Rate Vote, Bond Issue On Board Agenda

The Novato Sanitary District board will meet to consider adoption of a 1970-71 preliminary operations budget of $297,000 at 6 p.m. today at the North Marin County Water District office.

Dist. Mgr. Charles A. Joseph said he expects the budget to produce a tax rate increase of approximately 2 cents per $100 assessed valuation over the current rate of 31.5 cents if no changes are made.

The board will also discuss setting a date for a special election of a $5.5 million bond issue to make sewage treatment improvements necessary to meet requirements of the Bay Area Regional Water Quality Control Board.

Hospital Panel To Hear Report

Directors of the Marin Hospital District will receive a report tomorrow on the need for a halfway house for discharged patients from the Community Mental Health Center.

Dr. John S. Guerrant, interim director of the center, will outline the need for a facility for patients between the time they are discharged from the center and when they return to their homes.

The board will also consider approving an application to the American Cancer Society for a demonstration grant for a "continuity of care" program for cancer patients between hospital and home.

The hospital board will meet for dinner at 6 p.m. in the Marin General Hospital cafeteria prior to the 7 p.m. meeting in the hospital's Coral Room.

Lagunitas Panel To Discuss Equipment

A policy on use of district facilities and equipment will be discussed at 7:30 p.m. today at a meeting of the Lagunitas School District board in San Geronimo Valley School.

Discussion of district educational goals and evaluation is also on the board's agenda.

Measure it for economy. Measure it for roominess. Measure it for quietness and spirited performance.

Today is Monday, Aug. 24, the 236.h day of 1970 with 129 to follow.

The moonis between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Mars and Saturn. The evening stars are Mercury, Venus and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 79 A.D. thousands of people were killed and the cities of Pompei and Herculaneum buried by the eruption of volcanic Mt. Vesusvius in Italy.

In 1814 the British captured Washington, D.C., burning the Capitol and the executive mansion.

In 1932 Amelia Earhart became the first woman to stop flight.

In 1968 France detonated a hydrogen bomb in the South Pacific.

A thought for the day: Robert Southwell said, "When fortune smiles, I smile to think how quickly she will frown."

Shortened Jet Runways Sought

SUNNYVALE (UPI) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration is spending $7.2 million trying to shorten the length of runways needed by jetliners.

Boeing Company of Seattle is getting a $4.2 million contract to develop a wing-flap system and Dehavilland of Canada $3 million to produce a demonstration aircraft, NASA's Ames Research center said Sunday.

Boeing will atempt to use carefully aimed jets of air at high-velocity to break up the turbulence that usually destroys the effectiveness of highest-lift flap settings.

HOW TO PLAY
WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Little Harder Effort Needed In Playing Tournament Bridge

A suit that's good enough to bid is usually good enough to lead, and when a player fails to lead his bid suit, you may reasonably suspect that he has led a singleton. In today's hand South couldn't be sure of the nature of the opening lead, but he had no other chance for his contract.

TOURNEY PLAY

West led the jack of diamonds, and declarer expected to lose two diamonds and a heart. This would be bad enough at rubber bridge, but in that game, South could hope to recover by getting an even better hand on the next deal. In tournament bridge you can't recover so easily. Therefore Mario Acquavella, playing the South hand during Bridge Week (a regional tournament held last month in Los Angele), tried a little harder.

Put yourself in declarer's place. You correctly suspect that the jack of diamonds was a singleton. How would you play to make five clubs? Decide for yourself before readingon.

DRAWS TRUMPS

Acquavella began by drawing two rounds of trumps. There, that wasn't hard, was it? Next he took the top spades and ruffed his last spade in dummy. And then he led a heart from dummy, giving up the king to West's ace.

West naturally continued with the queen of hearts, and declare rdiscarded one of his two loss ing diamonds. This play couldn't cost anythnig even if West did have another diamond.

OUT OF DIAMONDS

As it happened, West had no more diamonds. Whether West led a spade or a heart (and West had only spades and hearts), dummy would ruff while South discarded his last losing diamonds.

AILY QUESTION

What do you say?

ANSWER: ass.

The singleton king of hearts shoudl not be counted at its full value. You would have a borderline opening bid in this aceless hand if one of the low diamonds were a low heart.

Building Values Off Last Month

The Marin County Chamber of Commerce and Visitors reported a total of $4,791,975 in permits — about 69 per cent for residential construction. Slightly over two-thirds of the latter was for duplexes and apartments.

June construction totaled $4,814,147. Figures for July of last year totaled over $8 million.

Greatest activity was in the San Rafael incorporated and unincorporated areas with a total of $1,428,705. Over $1 million of this applied to residential permits, of which 84 per cent were in Marinwood and Lucas Valley.

The Belvedere-Tiburon peninsula accounted for $729,560 — 81 per cent of this residential. Mill Valley permits totaled $657,803 — 82 per cent residential. Novato permits toaled $636,855 — almost 85 per cent residential.

Sausalito's $481,135 was 83 per cent commercial. Kentfield and Greenbrae totaled $243,550 almost equally divided between residential and miscellaneous permits. Larkspur had $65,010 — about half of it residential. Corte Madera's total of $55,487 was over 50 per cent residential.

In Fairfax the $55,100 total was 60-per cent residenial. All of the $21,700 recorded for Ross was commercial, as was most of San Anselmo's $12,526.

In West Marin and other unincorporated areas, permits totaled 404,544, 79 per cent of it residential.

Total permits so far during 1970 are slightly over $30 million — almost $7 million behind he corresponding period of 1969.

Prices Rise Sharply In Market

Near the start of the fiscal hour the Dow Jones industrial average of 30 selected blue chips had soared 12.05 to 757.46. Advances held a lopsided lead on declines, 1,134 to 238, among the 1,564 issues traded.

The four-hour volume of 13,390,000 shares was up sharply from the 9,600,000 shares in the comparable period Friday. The first-hour volume of 5,610,000 shares was the heaviest in an opening hour since the 5,650,000 that changed hands on May 28.

New Company's Byword: Accuracy

LOS GATOS, (UPI) — A wealth of laser, electronic, holographic and precision instrument technology has been drawn together to form a new company whose products will be accurate to within a millionth of an inch.

The initial instruments produced by the Holograf Corp. will be used in precision manufacturing industries and extended later to other high precision angular and linear mechanisms.

NEW LINCOLN CONTINENTAL

The 1971 Lincoln Continental is a different looking car from the first Lincoln that went on sale 50 years ago, boasting such refinements as a bud vase, mohair upholstery and revolutionary lubrication fittings to replace grease cups. New standard features for 1971 are air conditioning with automatic temperature control, tinted glass and several engineering improvements. The Continental will appear next month in showrooms of Marin Bay Lincoln-Mercury, San Rafael, and Larry Brink Motors, Mill Valley.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Champion Excellent Mobile Homes Stock

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I am interested in investing in a mobile home stock. Champion Home Builders has been recommended. Would you advise this? — V. S.

A. One of the most effectively managed companies in the mobile home industry, Champion has experienced steady sales growth since its beginning. In 1959 sales amounted to only $9.6 million. However, this figure increased nearly ten-fold to $90.2 million for the fiscal year ended February, 1970. Moreover, Champion's growth strides continued to be maintained this year despite trying economic conditions and slower mobile home sales, industrywide. For the initial fiscal quarter ended May 31, net income surged ahead to $1.27 million, or 36 cents a share, from $1 million, or 29 cents, in the comparable year earlier period.

Q. I am now getting 5½ per cent on my capital. Can I safely increase my income by investing in government bonds? My friend has invested half in tax-free U.S. government bonds and half in common stock. Would you advise me to do the same? — L. N.

A. First let me correct one impression; income from U.S. Treasurey bonds, notes and bills, while exempt from state, local and city taxes, is not free from federal income tax. Regardless of the quality of the particular issue there is always an element of risk and possibility of capial loss involved in common stock investment. In our circumstances, I think this is a risk you should not assume. You can, however, with complete peace of mind, increase your annual return by about 2 per cent by investing three-fifths of your capital in U.S. Treasury notes.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Everybody's Natural Foods To Add Bakery To Hub Operation

Health food stores have been especially successful in Marin County and one that has been doing a volume business has been Everybody's Natural Foods in San Anselmo.

Newest expansion move of owner Gary P. Cefalu is a natural foods bakery which he will open about the first week of September at 137 Tunstead Avenue, San Anselmo, across from the library. This will be the first bakery of its kind in Marin, says Cefalu, and as far as he knows, the third in Northern California — others being in Carmel and Santa Cruz.

Products will contain only natural sugars such as honey and maple sugar. Flour wil be ground from grain and nut butters will be produced on the premises. Free coking classes will probably be given one day a week. In charge of the operation will be Edward Skorupski of Mill Valley, who was a baker in Carmel, and Ernest Sanchez of Fairfax.

Cefalu hopes to open another establishment in Sausalito by the first of the year and plans to work with school systems in giving instruction on health foods.

WILLIAM W. HOEY AND CO., now doing most of the leasing for developers of Northgate Industrial Park and recently appointed to handle Hamilton Industrial Park in Novato, will take on another large parcel — Marvin Siland's 260 acres east of Hamilton Industrial Park and the Los Robles mobile home park when it becomes ready to accept leases and sell lots.

Soiland, who announced his proposal for development of the new Novato Industrial Park at this location about 10 days ago, will probably net 150 to 180 acres of usable industrial land aftre streets, improvements and other deductions are made.

MARIN PLASTICS, now at 49 Industrial Way, Greenbrae, will have a new home the first of the month at 12 Mark Drive, Northgate Industrial Park where owner Ernest Baeck has leased 3,600 square feet from builder Al Villa. Baeck has had his business in Greenbrae for about five years. New location will give him just about double his present space.

BEN L. FARNHAM of Sausalito, who was at the Emporium Northgate store from 1965 to 1967 first as assistant manager then store manager, has been promoted to assistant to the president of the Emporium-Capwell Co. He has been with the company 20 years and since leaving the Northgate store has been manager at the Emporium in Hillsdale.

GEORGE H. KLEIN of Tiburon has joined Stone and Youngberg, San Francisco as director of sales and corporate finance. He was formerly president of Hedge International Corp., a venture capital company, and previously was first vice president of Shearson, Hammill and Co., Inc.

TRIONE of Santa Rosa, who founded Sonoma Mortgage Corp. in 1948 and became a vice president of Wells Farge Bank when Sonoma was merged into the bank as the mortgage banking division in 1968, has been promoted to senior vice president. He is also a trustee and secreatry of Wells Fargo Mortgage Investors.

Edison Created A Giant Empire On Huger Walk

NEW YORK (UPI) — Thomas Alva Edison created a $100-million a year paper empire when he invented his electric light bulb.

Gummed Industries Association, celebrating the 50th year of its founding, is paying tribute to Edison as the "father of the sealing tape industry." To protect his bulbs in shipment, Edison created the first slotted carton and cut gummed sheets of paper into strips for closing the carton.

Last year, GIA members produced the equivalent of 7.5 million miles of three-inch wide sealing tapes, enough for 16 round trips to the moon.

VACATIONING VULTURE

A tame turkey vulture which showed up at a Terra Linda home last week sits calmly on the hand of Craig Stine, 18, of 132 Esmeyer Drive, Terra Linda. The bird, with a five-foot wingspread, gave Doris Overmyer of 750 Appleberry Drive "quite a shock" when she looked up from her ironing and saw the vulture sitting in her yard. Stine, a friend of a neighbor of Mrs. Overmyer, volunteered to care for the bird until its owner is found. (Independent-Journal photo)

Three Injured By Traffic Accidents

A Corte Madera woman was hospitalized and two other persons treated for minor injuries after three traffic accidents on Marin County highways yesterday, the California Highway Patrol has reported.

Ursel Pries, 22, of 1441 Casa Buena Drive, was reported in satisfactory condition today at Marin General Hospital with a cut chin, bruises and a broken right arm.

The Patrol said she was a passenger in a car driven by Gustaf Woelfle, 41, also of the Corte Madera address. His car collided with one driven by Charles H.E. Harbold, 24, of San Francisco. The accident occurred in heavy traffic on Highway 101 in San Rafael at 1:50 p.m.

Robert B. Melcher, 40, of 299 Cascade Drive, Mill Valley, was treated at the hospital for facial scrapes and cuts after his car left Panoramic Highway west of the Pan Toll ranger station and hit a tree, the patrol said.

Melcher, who did not stop after the 11 p.m. accident, was halted moments later by a state park ranger. He was booked into Marin County Jail on suspicion of driving while under the influence of alcohol, officers said.

Evelyn Scalfini, 31, of 508 The Alameda, San Anselmo, was treated for multiple scrapes and cuts after her car spun out of control and hit a guardrail on Highway 17 east of Highway 101 at 9:40 p.m., the patrol reported.

Firemen Seeking Rummage Items

The Mill Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association is seeking donations for a rummage sale to be held later this year, according to Chief Joseph E. Regalia.

Proceeds will be used in the restoration of the department's 1924 American La France fire truck. The association also seeks old photographs of the truck to help the restoration. The engine will be used in various civic events, Regalia said.

Persons who have items to be picked up should call the fire department, the chief said.

Sausalito School Aide Dismissal Hearing Set

Dismissal of Gabe Jackson, educational aide in the Sausalito School District, will be considered by district trustees today at 7:30 p.m. in Bayside School.

Although Supt. Robert E. Spain declined to identify the person in the agenda item, "dismissal of employee," the Independent-Journal learned it was Jackson's job which was in jeopardy.

Jackson has been with the district five years and served as community worker for most of that period. Earlier this year, the job was cut for budget reasons and he was retained as an educational aide. On Aug. 1, the post was reinstated by the board but there was no indication Jackson would fill the job.

Jackson was in the East visiting his critically ill mother and could not be reached for comment.

The school board will also consider adoption of a course of study for 1970-71 and hear an evaluation of last year's programs prepared by Dr. Staten Webster, professor of education at the University of California at Berkeley.

July Bond Sales Off From July, 1969 Total

Sales of U.S. Savings Bonds in Marin County during July totaled $132,465, a drop of $2,977 from July 1969, county chairman William P. Murray Jr. has announced.

Murray said statewide sales during July totaled $32,453,753, compared with $28,695,447 for July 1969.

Romanians Ignore Russ' 1944 Role

VIENNA (UPI) — Romania this weekend marked its 26th anniversary of liberation from Nazi Germany but official accounts of the celebration left out all mention of the decisive role played in 1944 by the Soviet Union.

Agerpres, the official news service, said Communist party leader and chief of state Nicolae Ceausescu and Premier Ion Gheorghe Maurer were in the main reviewing stand during Sunday's three-hour military parade in Bucharest.

A sign with the years "1944-1970" and the Romanian coat of arms was displayed on the main reviewing stand in Aviators' Square. Other stands carried mostly patriotic slogans, according to the Agerpres report.

Manson 'Harassment' Ruled Out By Judge

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Superior Court Judge Charles H. Older ruled today that there had been no "harrassment" of Charles Manson in his jail quarters at the Tate murder trial and said procedures used by the county were justified to meet the security requirements of the case.

The 35-year-old defendant, who has spent 22 years in jails, had protested that he was mistreated and particularly that he had to talk with prospective witnesses through a thin mesh screen in the cellblock through which he could not see them and could barely hear them.

At a brief session before the jury was brought in for resumption of the regular trial, Older said he had gone to the jail and found that it was easy to see 20 feet through the screen and that a conversation could be carried on with no difficulty whatsoever.

He rejected Manson's motion to order the Los Angeles County Sheriff to cease "harrassment" and refused to order any change in the procedures.

As the trial entered its 11th week, defense attorneys for Manson and his three female co-defendants were expected to question the county coroner on whether any trace of drugs was found in the bodies of four of the victims.

ALICE PAUL, now 85, who led the National Woman's Party when it was founded in 1919, has a new idea for women power. She believes one of the two senators from each state should be a woman, reflecting the 50 per cent of voters. Here she admires a bust of Lucretia Mott, who was a leader among the small group of women who started the fight for women's rights 120 years ago.

SUFFRAGETTE

At 85 Alice Paul Continues Fight

By MARGUERITE DAVIS

WASHINGTAN (UPI — A suffragette who has been fighting for women's rights since the early part of this century has a new idea for woman power. She believes one of the two senators from each state should be a woman.

Alice Paul, 85, who led the National Woman's Party when it was founded in 1919, feels that once the proposed constitutional amendment to give equal rights to women has been ratified her party should start working for equal power in Congress.

IN HER OPINION, women will not enjoy real equality until they match men, one-for-one, in the Senate, House and the state legislatures. But first things first. She gives top priority to Senate approval of the equality amendment, and when Miss Paul believes in the importance of an issue she will go far to make her point.

Atlhough Miss Paul is careful to speak tentatively about senate approval of the proposed amendment, persons who have followed her half-century of campaigning for women's rights recognize her as a determined, single-minded crusader.

She was sentenced to six months in jail in Washington in 1917 during the campaign for women's right to vote, and she was something less than neek in accepting the punishment. She went on a 22-day hunger strike, and jail officials had to resort to force-feeding before then-President Woodrow Wilson commuted the sentence.

NOTHING SO drastic appears now. The senate has agreed the proposal may be put to a vote.

Miss Paul, who lives in Ridgefield, Conn., said she drives to New York or Washington when a "crisis" arises such as helping to get the equal rights amendment ratified. She's a dainty woman with curly white hair and bright blue eyes, and on first impression she might seem more at home baking cookies than in a political fight.

SHE HAS ONLY praise for the new crop of women's rights champions. The cut of their hair, the decision of some to forego bras —these and other foibles are unimportant to her when measured against their willingness to work for ratification of the equal rights amendment.

'The Women's Lib has been very cooperative and tried to help when we asked," she said.

The National Women's Party at first had only one purpose—to secure the vote for women. Although victory was theirs on Aug. 26, 1920, the suffragettes didn't stop there. Still operating, the party headquarters are in a big old house on Capitol Hill.

AS A MEMENTO of the day U.S. women got the right to vote, a yellow banner hangs over the stairway of the historic house. The banner, slightly faded now, proclaims in bold red letters: "We demand an amendment to the United States Constitution enfranchising women."

Fifty years later, the party is dedicated to winning yet another victory. Now an equal rights amendment seems the most permanent method of achieving legal equality, Miss Paul said, and the great silent majority of women are demanding this.

Miss Paul, who can smoothly cite the names of the 81 senators who have signed as cosponsors of the legislation, is equally adept rattling off a shorter list of senators who had, not yet, at least, publicly joined the sponsors.

SHE CITED THE 19 senators not now listed as sponsors of the equal rights amendment as Gordon Allott, R-Colo.; Spessard L. Holland, D-Fla.; Richard B. Russell, D-Ga.; James B. Pearson, R-Kas.; Allen J. Ellender and Russell B. Long, D-La.; Democrat Edward M. Kennedy and Republican Edward W. Brooke, of Massachusetts; Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich.; Stuart Symington, D-Mo.; Mike Mansfield and Lee Metcalf, D-Mont.; Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M.; Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y.; Sam J. Ervin, Jr., D-N.C.; Clairborne Pell, D-Ri.I.; Albert Gore, D-Tenn.; George D. Aiken, R-Vt., and Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash.

SUFFRAGE DAY CELEBRATIONS SET IN MARIN

The 50th anniversary of Suffrage Day will be celebrated by the Marin County Chapter of National Organization for Women (NOW) Wednesday with a noon rally at the Civic Center in San Rafael.

Information on discrimination against women in Marin County hiring practices will be distributed, according to a NOW representative.

The Southern and Central Marin Leagues of Women Voters will register voters throughout the county.

Bay Area women's groups will hold a rally at Union Square in San Francisco Wednesday at noon to distribute information "pointing out that the vote did not give women the independence and equality they thought it would."

It's Never Too Late For Marriage Believe Convalescent Home Couple

Romance is not just for the young, according to Mr. and Mrs. William Wade, who were married Saturday morning at the Bayside Convalescent Hospital in Greenbrae, where they reside. Both are in their mid-70s.

The staff got into the act by helping with the wedding preparations, and a maintenance man, John Allen, performed the ceremony. Reverend Allen is also a minister and a graduate student at the Golden Gate Baptist Seminary in Mill Valley. One of the patients sang "Oh Promise Me," and the reception was arranged by Edward Ryken, executive director of the Marin Senior Coordinating Council.

The couple met in March when the bride, the former Mrs. Eugene Gilmore came to the hospital.

"I fell head over heels in love then," says Mr. Wade.

"He sure did," said his bride.

The new Mrs. Wade was a widow for 15 years. Her late husband owned an iron works in Walla, Walla, Wash., and the couple traveled extensively for many years. They had two daughters, Mrs. George B. Chollar, who lives in Larkspur, and Mrs. Richard Couch, who came from Ann Arbor, Mich., to attend the wedding.

Also attending the wedding was the bridegroom's daughter, Mrs. Bernard Chiaravalle of San Rafael, with whom he lived until coming to the hospital in January. Mr. Wade retired after a 30-year-career in the Army and then operated a variety store in St. Louis. He had been a widower for 10 years.

The newlyweds have many grandchildren.

Plans for the couple's wedding trip have been delayed. They had planned to take a ferry boat ride to San Francisco but will have to wait until the boat is back in operation.

School Records A Private Matter?

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI) — The right of privacy belongs in the education system too, says a university professor.

Dr. Thomas E. Long, assistant professor of vocational education at Pennsylvania State University, says that while records schools keep on their pupils have swelled, "their care and maintenance is all too often a haphazard affair."

Action is needed to see that records are safeguarded, Long said, because they are often available to a potential employer, a college admissions officer or a policeman.

"In recent years schools have begun to amass a great deal of information about students and their families. In addition to routine data on attendance, grades and test scores, school files may now record which families are on public assistance, the divorce and remarriage of parents or a youngster's mental and physical health problems," Long said.

Long recently served as a consultant to a Russell Sage Foundation conference which developed guidelines to protect the right to privacy of both pupils and parents.

He said that in many cases parents have little idea what school records contain and no way to correct erroneous information in them.

"The Russell Sage guidelines attempt to deal with these problems," he said, "by insisting that schools adopt the fundamental principle that no information be collected from students without the prior, informed consent of the child and his parents.

"In cases involving routine aptitude or achievement testing, legally elected representatives such as a board of education should give their consent."

"Questionnaires for such non-school purposes as medical or social science research, even when the respondents remain anonymous, should always be approved by responsible school officials and the parents notified.

"Not enough attention has been paid to the problem of the invasion of privacy which school files may constitute," Long said. "Parents might do well to ask their local school administrators about what, if any, precautions they have taken in this sensitive area."

Did They Adopt Son To Serve As Insurance For Old Age?

DEAR HELEN:

We adopted a boy from a very deprived family when he was five years old. He would have been nothing without us, but because of the good edcuation we gave him, and the ambition we instilled in him (we put him through high school and he worked his way through college), he has turned out very successful.

He now has good job in California. We would like to retire early and live in the west. His apartment will hold us, and he is a bachelor. Later on we might get a house together.

Lately his letters have been urging my husband not to retire, and he's been talking down California. I get the feeling he doesn't want us. Is this any way for a son to act? After all, we gave him everything for many years. — LEFT OUT

DEAR L.O.:

Counter question: Did you adopt and raise this boy out of love, or for old age insurance? I don't think you've ever learned that to keep children always close you must start early on letting them go. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

If I took my 12-year-old sister away from our parents would I be charged with kidnapping?

She is being treated as I was when I grew up under their rule. Helen, my mother and father are sick. They're subjecting my sister to the kind of cruel emotional and mental torment that put me in intensive therapy when I was 18. She is treated as an object rather than a person, used as a built-in, free-of-charge cleaning woman and biby-hitter for three young brothers who can do no wrong. She is the general scapegoat in a household which considers women as slaves.

Moreover, she gets some rather lavish attention (at times) from a father she fears. I'm sure you can imagine the confusion and guilt this produces.

I can't bring charges, for there is nothing definite — yet. All I know is what happened to me, and history is repeating itself. I'm now happily married and living in another state. How can I legally bring my sister up here to live with us? — WORRIED SISTER

DEAR SISTER:

You can't legally take a child away from her parents without court approval, but perhaps you can work a short vacation visit into an extended stay, if you use the right persuasion — backed up with a doctor's diagnosis and hints that you might ask for further investigation.

Seek advice from the Public Social Service Agency in your county. While it can't initiate action, someone there may have a suggestion which will help. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

You may not agree, but here is my definition of a free society:

People talk of sex education in schools while prayer is banned; legalizing abortion while they put people in jail for murder; legalizing gambling when our crime rate is skyrocketing.

People are granted divorces for adultery, men put in jail for rape, while sex is everywhere you look — in books, movies, schools, tv. Parents want their girls to remain pure and righteous while letting them parade around half nude; their boys to be good citizens, husbands, and fathers, while letting them smoke, drink, grow long hair, etc.

Women continue to have children they don't want or won't care for when there are so many means of birth control (including abstinence). People talk of trial marriages like they were trying a new deodorant.

If a free society means you're not safe on the streets or even in your own home any more, I'm — NOT FOR IT

DEAR NOT:

As a basic optimist, I try to give more than equal time to pessimists, but really, I think there's hope for this free society. The good still outweighs the bad. — H.

Cause Of Headaches Traced To Eyes, Teeth, Injuries

Headaches, according to the California Medical Association, are caused by diseases of the sinuses, teeth, eyes, infection, head injury and others. The pain itself is usually in the blood vessels or the muscles of the head. The brain itself is insensitive to pain, though the membranes surrounding it may produce pain if injured. Here are some questions and answers about headaches from the CMA.

Q. — What causes headache?

A. — There are many causes — diseases of the sinuses, teeth, eyes, infection, head injury and others. The pain itself is usually in the blood vessels or the muscles of the head. The brain itself is insensitive to pain, though the membranes surrounding it may produce pain if injured.

Q. — What is a tension headache?

A. — This is a phrase coined by advertising writers, based on fact. Tension in the muscles of the neck, face and jaw may produce pain — and many persons tend to tense these muscles when under stress.

Q. — What is the treatment of tension headache?

A. — This is easier to say than to do. Probably the best thing to do is to lie down and relax, but often this is not possible. Ordinary aspirin is as effective as any other drug available without prescription.

Q. — What is migraine headache?

A. — A form of headache believed to be related to a functional disturbance of the circulation within the cranium, problably involving dilation and/or constriction of the cranial arteries. It often affects only one side of the head at a time, and may be accompanied by, or preceded by, nausea, vomiting, blind spots in the field of vision, or flashes of light. There is a strong tendency for migraine headache to run in families, and we commonly find that if a patient has migraine, one of his parents does also.

Q. — What is the treatment for migraine?

A. — Aspirin, with or without caffeine citrate, or codeine may relieve mild attacks. Severe attacks usually require ergot derivatives, which should be taken as soon after the onset of symptoms as possible. The drugs require careful evaluation by the doctor, including regular visits to his office for checkups and perhaps X-rays. Close cooperation between patient and doctor can usually bring about good control, if not complete relief, of the attacks.

Q. — What is sinus headache?

A. —A result of the inflammation and swelling in the membranes of the nose. Shrinking the swelling with nose drops or spray or decongestant pills usually brings relief. Persistent nasal infection, with or without headache, requires medical attention.

Q. — Aren't headaches sometimes a sign of serious illness?

A. — Yes. Brain tumor, brain hemorrhage, high blood pressure, meningitis and other diseases may produce headache. However, all of these conditions are rare, and headaches are so common as to be almost universal. Most headaches are due to the causes already listed — plus, of course, the morning-after headache.

Q. — How can I tell whether my headache indicates something serious? When should I see a doctor about it?

A. — That is hard to answer; a headache rising from a serious cause can actually be mild. One guide may be this: check with the doctor if the headache is different from the usual pattern — if it is more severe, felt in a different place or occurs at unusual times. Headache associated with any other sign of trouble — difficulty with vision, weakness, paralysis, numbness, fever, nose bleeds, dizziness, nausea, vomiting, excessive sleepiness or fainting — should be reported to the doctor at once. Headache following a head injury, though very common, should always be evaluated by a physician.

Education Level For Women Rises

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The education level attained by women has risen steadily since the beginning of this century, reports the Womens's Bureau of the U.S. Department of Labor.

The bureau's study, "Trends in Educational Attainment by Women," showed that in 1900 only seven of every 100 girls of 17 graduated from high school, but in 1968 the figure rose to 78 of every 100.

The number of women earning a bachelor's and first professional degrees rose from 5,000 in 1900 to 279,000 in 1968 with those earning masters' rising from 300 to over 63,000, and doctorates from 23 to 2,906.

The publication, available free from the bureau, includes graphs, charts and other information about education and labor force participation.

INFANT MORTALITY

Limited Weight Gain Seen As Baby Hazard

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The practice of limiting pregnant women to a weight gain of only 10 to 14 pounds may be one reason for the high infant mortality rate in the United States, according to a National Research Council report.

The council's Committee on Maternal Nutrition recommended instead an average weight gain of 24 pounds within the range of 20 to 25 pounds. The report, also said the current routine supplementation of pregnant women's diets with vitamin and mineral preparations is of doubtful value, except for iron and folic acid.

The committee found "high incidences of low birth weights and of deaths connected with low weight" in the United States, which in 1966 ranked 13th among 40 countries in infant mortality.

It said the birth weight of an infant "is strongly associated with and conditioned by the weight gain of its mother" and that "restriction of diet during pregnancy may unfavorably affect the growth and development of the fetus."

Therefore, the committee said, the current practice U.S. doctors that tends to restrict normal weight gain "is not justified."

The committee also reported that girls who become pregnant before they are 17 run great risks for both themselves and their babies.

"Because they are growing," the Research Council said, "most girls under 17 have greater nutritional requirements in relation to body size than do adult women. The additional nutrient demands of pregnancy may compromise their growth potential and increase their risk in pregnancy."

The report said the number of babies born to adolescents is on the rise, partly because of a trend in the United States income families, the report said.

'AIRPORT' DUE AT SEQUOIA

Circus Still Thrills Fans Of All Ages

By JAMES. E. WILLIAMS

OAKLAND — Who says circuses are just for children? Heck, I'm in that over-30 age bracket and enjoy them as much as any 5-year-old.

However there is always a touch of nostalgia in paying a visit to the biggest of them — Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey.

Gone is the smell of sawdust and those hard bleachers of the big tent. Instead there are comfortable chairs, modern hot dog stands and an almost antiseptic smell.

BROADWAY TINGE

But don't be fooled. All the thrills of yesteryear still remain.

Last night at the Coliseum, spectacle was the keyword of the big show's 100th anniversary edition. It resembled more a Broadway production than an ordinary circus. There were beautiful costumes, good looking loung ladies — all part of the changing scene brought by the advent of the mid-20th Century.

But underneath all these trappings were the real element of any circus — elephants, tigers, the parade of clowns, tumblers, high wire dare devil acts and the thrilling trapeze artists.

There is so much to see and so fast, too, that I was drained physically after the tightly packaged three-hour show.

First of the big spectacles features Elvin Bale, a young man who performs a daring act on a swinging trapeze without a net.

MOTORCYCLE SCARE

The one act that still has my feet a little shaky was high-wire motorcycle act high above the arena. It has to be seen to believe. It was even more daring than the finale — a birthday salute — which featured firing of a man from a cannon — this one resembling a missile being launched from Cape Kennedy.

Add these acts all together, it is truly "the greatest show on earth" even to one of the over 30-age group.

The circus will play tonight at 8 o'clock and tomorrow at 2:30 and 8 p.m. at the Coliseum before moving to the San Francisco Cow Palace for performances at the same time through Sunday.

Peace, Freedom Party Chooses Laborer-Student As Chairman

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A 26-year-old Penngrove laborer and part-time student at Sonoma State College has been elected as state chairman of the Peace and Freedom Party.

Irvin H. Sutley Jr., who served 90 days in the Sonoma County Jail in 1969 for possession of marijuana, was elected during the party's weekend convention in the Capitol.

The party also adopted a platform calling for the "right" to use drugs and urging the state to give inmates permission to run prisons.

Sutley, chairman of the party in Sonoma County, was an unsuccessful candidate for sheriff in the June primary election while still on probation for the marijuana conviction. He got 1,677 votes.

He ran on a ticket that called for disarmament of deputies, except in cases of extreme emergency. This proposal also was made a plank in the party's state platform.

An ex-marine, Sutley originally was charged with sale of marijuana.

Elected co-chairmen were Thora Husmann of San Francisco, representing Northern California, Louise James of Carmel for Central California, and C. T. Weber of Long Beach for Southern California. Gayle Justice of San Francisco was elected secretary-treasurer.

The party had 36,487 registered members in the June primary election, or one-half of 1 per cent of the registered voters in California. Sonoma had 805 members, and Marin had 939.

The party platform also called for improved primary and secondary education, free higher education and support for the "struggle of all women against the massive economic and social exploitation of their positon."

It called for giving individuals all "rights which do not violate the rights of other human beings," including guarantees of sexual freedom between consenting adults and elimination of abortion and obscenity laws.

The platform also called for immediate withdrawal of all troops from Vietnam.

Youth Is Suspect Of Drug Abuse After 'Bad Trip'

Deputies said Wolfgang Greene struck several persons at the residence, destroyed furniture and broke windows and barricaded himself in a bedroom at 11:30 p.m.

Others opened the bedroom door with an axe, which Greene had thrown out a window, and subdued him, deputies said. Greene was arrested on suspicion of drug intoxication and placed at the Marin Community Mental Health Center for 72 hours observation.

Small Car Stolen

His 1969 model car was taken from its parking place at 177 Canal Street, San Rafael, between midnight Friday and 10:45 a.m. Saturday, Robert Kamen of Flushing, N. Y., reported to police today. The car is a dark green Volvo with New York license QG-3549.

Supervisors' Problem: A Pay Schedule

The Marin County Board of Supervisors will face the dilemma of having to set new salaries for the county's safety workers (sheriff's deputies, firemen and communications workers) tomorrow, even though contract negotiations are deadlocked.

County Administrator Alan Bruce will recommend that a 5 per cent salary raise be given to all safety employees effective Sept. 1, if a new contract is not agreed upon by that date. Last year's contract, extended for 60 days, will expire on Sept. 1.

All other county employees got 5 or 6 per cent raises this year, but the 210 safety employees are still holding out.

Sheriff's deputies, who lead the holdouts, originally asked for a 17 per cent raise, then lowered it to 12.5 per cent. The county's last offer was 7.5 per cent for deputies and 5 per cent for the others. Another county offer has been mailed to the safety members in the form of secret ballots, and the results will be tabulated by the Marin County Employees Association Wednesday. Bruce declined to disclose the proposal mailed to safety employees.

Only three supervisors are expected to attend tomorrow's regular session. Both Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. and Michael Wornum are on vacation.

Other items on the supervisors' agenda include:

I-J DISPUTE — The humane rights commission will present a letter asking the county "to actively support the Marin County clergy in their efforts to bring the Independent-Journal and the Typograuhical Union to the bargaining table to submit their differences to mediation or binding arbitration."

PROBATION SUBSIDY — The county administrator will report that a state subsidy of $98,009 is available to the county for "special supervision programs" in the probation department. The county can use the money to lower the tax rate or reinstate the probation department's Intensive Supervision Unit, which was discontinued this year.

COUNTY FAIR — Since the new Veterans Memorial Auditorium will not be ready until September of next year, the supervisors will decide whether next year's county fair should be held after September, not held at all, or moved to another site.

In the afternoon, the supervisors will consider weed abatement on several properties, hear a request for rezoning of the R.J. Tikker property on North San Pedro Road fer administrative-professional use, and hold a hearing on flood control improvements planned in the Alto area by the Richardson Bay Flood Control Zone.

Ferryboat Ship-Shape To Sail Again Today

Ferryboat service between Sausalito and San Francisco, aborted last Monday by an exgine failure, was to resume this afternoon, a half day earlier than expected.

Workmen labored around the clock over the weekend to install an entirely rebuilt starboard engine, and the work was complete enough yesterday for a two-hour trial run.

Dale W. Luehring, general manager of the Golden Gate Bridge District, said the big diesel "purred like a kitten."

A final check and cleanup were scheduled this morning to be 100 per cent certain everything was operating correctly, he said.

Service was to resume today from San Francisco. The full schedule will be resumed tomorrow.

The cause of the engine failure was being investigated by the builder, the Caterpillar Co., Luehring said. All parts have been sent to the company's factory in Peoria, Ill., for analysis.

Both sides of the engine block were torn up by the unidentified part that tore loose last week during the first weekday run of the vessel, the M.V. Golden Gate.

Luehring discounted rumors that the failure may be blamed on maintenance on the year-old vessel before it was bought in April by the district.

The rebuilt engine has a new block and new crankshaft.

Each of the twin V-12's is capable of developing 1,000 horsepower at 2,200 revolutions per minute, but they are run "very conservatively" at 1,800 to develop 700 to 725 horsepower, Luehring said. The engines are Caterpillar's newest model, he noted.

The week out of service gave bridge crews time to make minor imporvements on the vessel, including installation of higher railings aft of the benches to prevent children from falling overboard, corrections to the public address system, and addition of an opening in the second deck's railing for access while at the Pier 7 maintenance facility.

Luehring also reported that estimates were being prepared on the cost of using the south side of the landing at the Ferry Building in San Francisco. The district shares the landing with Harbor Tours, which operates the Tiburon ferry, thus district time schedules have to be worked into Harbor Tours' schedule.

Some dredging, perhaps taking two days, apparently will be needed to clear access to the south side of the landing, Leuhring said.

Two Arrested In Burglarizing San Rafael Store

A 19-year-old Novato man was jailed and his 17-year-old companion booked into Marin Juvenile Hall early eaday on suspicion of burglarizing Jade French Cleaners at 175 Belvedere Street, San Rafael, police reported.

Gerald Arthur Beaudoin of 581 Fernando Drive, Novato, was held in lieu of $2,000 bail to appear this afternoon in Marin Municipal Court. John Joseph Bradley of 865 Los Gallinas Road, Apt. 8, San Rafael was booked into Marin County Juvenile Hall.

The front door of the cleaners was broken at 12:50 a.m. and neighbors reported it to police. The two were arrested and three men's suits recovered at the adjacent parking lot at Sil's Market, according to police.

Building New Disney World Affects Many

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI) —The economic impact of the multimillion dollar Disney World complex under construction near here is being felt not only in this area but throughout thenation and in other countries. The huge resort-vacation-entertainment complex is scheduled to open in October, 1971.

Gates for the attraction are in production in Denver, transformers in Milwaukee, monorail beams in Tacoma, Wash., gas turbines in Canada and wigs in Guatemala.

Bay Team Can Predict Heart Attack

WALNUT CREEK, Calif. (UPI)—A physician and two electronics engineers have constructed a machine they say can predict about half of all heart attacks hours or even days in advance.

They say their "ventricular impulse detector and alarm" can predict ventricular fibrillation, an electrical failure in the heart, by picking up an unusual beat called an "ectopic" beat.

Physicians have noted that when such beats increase in frequency one of them sets the heart into deadly filbrillation which must be rapidly corrected.

One problem now is that, because these beats are not detected in time, patients die before reaching hospitals.

Their machine is about the size of a cigarette pack, has two sensors which are placed on the chest and is powered by a transistor battery.

Their machine still needs clinical tests but Chapman declares: "we're talking about the potential of saving hundreds of thousands of lives a year."

Modoc County Youth Arrested In Thefts

Police said that Michael James Pine was found at 4:15 a.m. carrying a stereo tape player, cassettes and a radio that had been stolen a few hours earlier from the school. He was booked into Sonoma County Juvenile Hall.

Plot Witness Faces Charge

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—The star witness in District Attorney Jim Garrison's investigation into the assassination of President John F. Kennedy has been arrested and charged with three counts of burglary and theft.

Police said Perry Raymond Russo and a companion were arrested Saturday at Russo's New Orleans home.

At a pretrial hearing in 1967, Russo testified he was at a party with Clay L. Shaw, Lee Harvey Oswald and David Ferry at which time the assassination of the former President was planned. Based upon Russo's testimony, Garrison charged Shaw with conspiracy to assassinate Kennedy. Shaw was acquitted March 1, 1969.

Eager Miami Dolphins Prove Dormant 49ers Need A Cleaning

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (UPI) — Coach Dick Nolan of the San Francisco 49ers has some cleaning up to do.

Returning to training camp in Santa Barbara following a passive 17-7 defeat at the hands of the Dolphins in Miami, Nolan must develop signs of life in San Francisco's so-called offensive attack.

LONE FLASH

Fleet Jimmy Thomas provided the lone flash of brilliance with a 51-yard scoring jaunt on a draw play. Much of the credit for the second quarter play must go to quarterback John Brodie, who helped create San Francisco's only touchdown by accurately reading an impending Miami blitz.

Take away Thomas' run, and the Niners garnered only 26 yards on the ground.

Miami, despite a relatively low point production, dominated the game. The Dolphins had the ball for 16 more plays from scrimmage than the Niners, who were able to run only three plays in the opening period.

Steve Spurrier took over for Brodie in the second half. One week earlier he had taken San Francisco inside the enemy's 20-yard line, failing each time to put the ball in the end zone. That performance, against the Cleveland Browns, was matched Saturday night in Miami.

Spurrier twice took his mates within the Dolphin 20-yard stripe. The second drive was foiled by a pass interception. The first ended in a more discouraging manner.

LOST ON DOWNS

With first and goal to go on the two-yard line, Spurrier sent his running backs into the Miami trenches four successive times. No one could get past the goal line and San Francisco lost the ball on downs.

Thus, the 49ers have scored only one touchdown in each of their first two pre-season contests. Poor line blocking is only partially at fault. Spurrier failed to loosen up the Miami defense with a pass play during the goal line series, and his staid play selection in that situation underlines San Francisco's inability so far to outwit and shake up enemy defenses.

ALL FOR NAUGHT — Giant's Don Mason's unorthodox slide into home in the ninth inning yesterday didn't work as Cub catcher Randy Hundley tagged him out. The Giants won anyway, 4-3. (UPI Telephoto)

Ram Veterans Impressed Raiders

Rams Seem Ready For Super Bowl

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—John Madden, the brilliant young coach of the Oakland Raiders, has paid the Los Angeles Rams the supreme compliment.

"They're ready to go to the Super Bowl right now," he said ruefully after the Rams bombed Oakland 34-23 in the teams' first meeting in history.

A Saturday night throng of 67,497 turned out at the Coliseum to see Los Angeles overcome a 16-12 third-quarter exhibition victory.

GABRIEL RETURNS

Out the previous weekend with a sore knee, Roman Gabriel returned to the Rams' lineup and fired three touchdown passes, two of them in the third period.

With the Raiders in front by four points, Gabriel passed 13 yards to Wendell Tucker for a touchdown. The Ram quarterback then hit Lester Josephson with an eight-yarder for another score in the third period.

Daryle Lamonica, the Oakland quarterback who was the most valuable player in the American Football League last year, also heaped praise on the Rams.

"The Rams are very solid," Lamonica said. "And when you have Merlin Olson and Deacon Jones side by side, you have the best pass ruth in football. And, as you know, that's the way to stop a passing team."

LED AT HALF

Los Angeles staged its comeback after George Blanda, the Raiders' answer to baseball's Hoyt Wilhelm, kicked a 20-yard field goal in the first 3 1-2 minutes of the second half.

"That was a typical Ram second-half comeback," commented George Allen, the Los Angeles coach whose team previously whipped Cleveland and Dallas in preseason games.

Allen, who has now won six of eight matches against old AFL clubs, called Oakland an outstanding team.

"They're probably the best team we've met so far," the Ram mentor said.

10 FOR 19

Allen went with Gabriel most of the game and the National Football League's MVP in 1969 wound up hitting 10 of 19 passes for 184 yards. Gabriel passed one yard to Billy Truax for the Rams' first score.

Rookie John Walton played all of the second quarter as Gabriel's backup man. He connected on three of nine aerials for 94 yards but had one intercepted.

Blanda, a 21-year pro who will be 43 next month, was the Raiders' quarterback in the second half. Ken Stabler, Oakland's No. 2 man behind Lamonica, was scheduled to play half the game but flew back to his Foley, Ala., home in the afternoon after his father died of a heart attack.

300 YARDS

The Oakland quarterbacks made 20 of 41 passes in the air for 330 yards. Lamonica was eight of 20 for 125 yards and a touchdown while Blanda made 12 of 20 for 175 and a score.

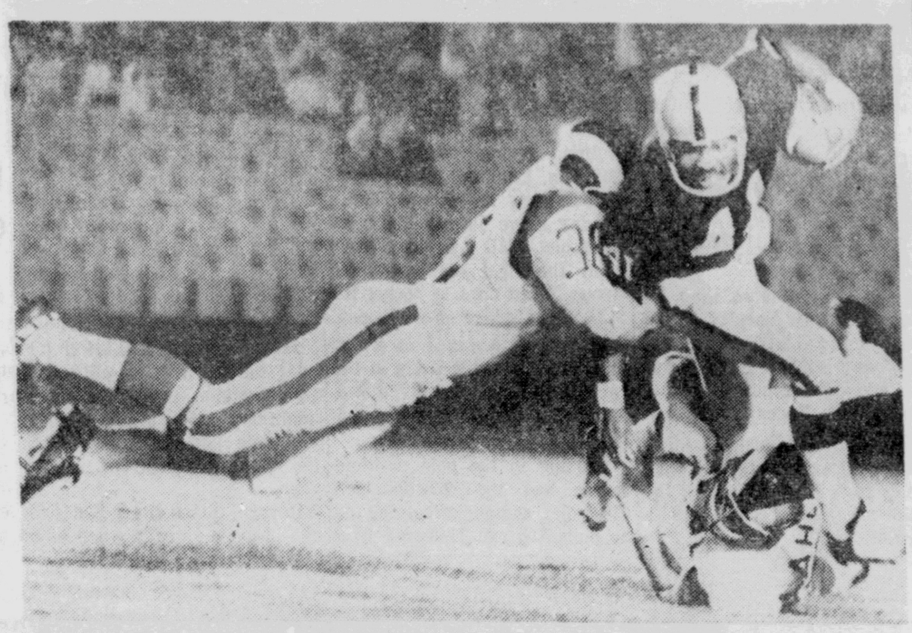
The Rams are at San Diego next Saturday night in their fourth exhibition game of the season. The Raiders, now 1-2 in preseason play, are at home against the Green Bay Packers next Sunday afternoon.



WHERE'S THE BLOCKING? — Raider rookie Alvin Wyatt's kick return was stopped when Larry Smith tackled him high and Art Strahan got him low in Saturday night's game against the Los Angeles Rams. Raiders had trouble all night and lost, 34-23. (UPI Telephoto)

Suyderhoud U.S. Water Ski Champ

Mike Suyderhoud of San Anselmo yesterday won the men's title at the National Water Ski Championships in Canton, Ohio. Holder of the overall World crown, Suyderhoud cinched the meet when he outgunned Ricky McCormick of Independence, Mo., in the jumping event, 159 feet to 151. Earlier Suyderhoud had taken the slalom event.

Johnson Makes It Happen: Giants Over .500 Again

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—They don't call Frank Johnson the San Francisco Giants' "Super Sub" for nothing.

Sunday, with Phil Regan pitching in about as tense a moment in Johnson's short big league life, "Super Sub" made it happen, lining a single to right to give the Giants a 4-3 victory over the fumbling Chicago Cubs.

Today is an off day for the Giants, now a game over the .500 mark, and Johnson can sit and think about his big hit, the fifth game-winning blow he's had this year.

The Cubs, behind Milt Pappas, took a 3-2 lead into the bottom of the ninth Sunday but Dick Dietz doubled to open the inning and Jim Hart reached first on a boot of his smash to third by the usually reliable Ron Santo.

That finished Pappas and brought on Regan, the man known as the "Vulture." He also is famous for a greaseball the players claim he throws in key situations.

Regan started off by striking out pinchhitter Ron Hunt, on what Hunt said was a greaseball. John Stephenson, another pinchhitter, hit a tap to third which Santo fired home to nail Don Mason, running for Dietz.

Bobby Bonds then hit a roller to short but Kessinger kicked it and all hands were safe. Regan muttered a few things skyward and then got ready to pitch to Johnson, hitting for Tito Fuentes.

"I was as nervous as a cat," Johnson said, "coming out to hit. I knew all I had to do was meet the ball but Regan is no cinch to hit."

Regan slipped over two quick strikes, which apparently looked strange to Giants skipper Charlie Fox because he came out to protest to plate umpire Andy Olsen that Regan was souping up the baseball.

"I don't think he is throwing it," said Olsen.

"You and I both know," Fox told Olsen, "that he can't throw a breaking ball straight down. Keep your eye on him."

Fox went back to the dugout and Olsen went back behind the plate. Olsen gave Regan a new ball to use. Regan missed outside with a fastball on the first pitch and then threw what Johnson said was a greaseball, low and away.

"I just stuck out my bat and hoped I could get a piece of it," said Johnson.

He got more than just a piece as the ball sailed on a line into the rightfield corner, scoring Frank Reberger, running for Hart, with the tieing run and Stephenson with the winner.

Lost in the confusion was another fine pitching performance by Juan Marichal, who went the distance on a five-hitter to gain his fifth straight victory and eighth of the year compared to nine losses.

Santo hit his 20th homer with a man on in the fifth against Marichal to tie the score at 2-2 after Juan had retired the first 12 men in order.

In the sixth, Pappas led off with a single and made it around on a double by Glenn Beckert, an intentional pass to Billy Williams and Jim Hickman's sacrifice fly.

The Cubs literally gave the Giants their first run as well as those two in the ninth. Bonds opened the game for San Francisco with a high popup to short center. Kessinger lost it

AVCO Waits Out Rain

SUTTON, Mass. (UPI)—Professional golf rarely bows to the weather, particularly when network television is involved. So you have to know it rained very, very hard at Pleasant Valley Country Club on Sunday.

Final round play in the $160,000 AVCO Classic had to be put off until today after a rain storm that matured into a full-fledged downpour.

At least four holes were thoroughly inundated when PGA officials finally blew the whistle. Play had been suspended 42 minutes after the start had originally been held up for 40 minutes.

PGA officials said the tournament would be completed today or, in the event of further rain, on Tuesday. However, the forecast for today called for clearing skies.

Billy Casper, the AVCO leader by a stroke after 54 holes, never went into the course Sunday since the rainout came more than 20 minutes before his scheduled tee-off time.

Casper, gunning for his fourth tournament victory of the tour and the 47th of his career, goes into the final round with an eight-under-par 208 total.

Other leaders include Dave Hill, Dan Sikes, Jim Colbert and Tom Weiskopf, all tied at 209, seven under par for 54 holes.

Other sub-par shooters through the first three rounds included Lou Graham and Larry Ziegler, tied at 210 or six under, and six others four strokes back at 212, including Bobby Mitchell, Chuck Courtney, R.H. Sikes, Tom Aycock, Herb Hooper and Dave Eichelberger.

Namath A Spectator As Jets Lose; Alworth Rejoins Chargers Tonight

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

With Minnesota quarterback Joe Kapp the last of the "retired" holdouts, the San Diego Chargers and the recently "unretired" Lance Alworth tackle the Chicago Bears tonight as the National Football League exhibition season continues on its crash program toward the opening whistle of the regular campaign.

Alworth, however, like Joe Namath of the New York Jets, is not ready for action after losing all his pre-season training.

JOE NOT READY

Namath wasn't quite ready, and certainly not about to risk his questionable legs on the muddy field of the Yale Bowl Sunday. The Jet star didn't even suit up as his teafmates bowed, 28-24, to the New York Giants as the "other quarterback in New York," Fran Tarkenton of the Giants threw three touchdown passes in the first period.

In games played Saturday, Baltimore routed Denver 24-7, Los Angeles outdistanced Oakland 34-23, Detroit whipped New Orleans 31-17, Minnesota edged Houston 14-7, Miami defeated San Francisco 17-7, Green Bay nipped Dallas, 35-34, Kansas City topped Cleveland 16-13, and St. Louis romped over Cincinnati, 41-20.

The Chargers, who will continue to go with rookie Walker Gillette in Alworth's wide receiver spot, will send veteran quarterback John Hadl to face his former protege at the University of Kansas Bobby Douglass, starting his second season with the Bears.

UNITAS, MORRALL

Baltimore got impressive performances against Denver from veteran quarterbacks Johnny Unitas and Earl Morrall who both tossed touchdown passes, in registering the 11th straight Colt pre-season victory.

Roman Gabriel showed mid-season form for the Los Angeles Rams by throwing three touchdown passes in a come-from-behind victory over Oakland. A sore knee had relegated Gabriel to a spectator role in last week's contest with Dallas.

Bobby Williams' 102-yard kickoff return highlighted the Detroit Lions' win over the New Orleans Saints. Williams' run put the Lions ahead to stay in the third quarter. Prize rookie Steve Owens, the 1969 Heisman Trophy winner, also scored for Detroit.

The Minnesota Vikings, who have failed to satisfy quarterback Kapp's salary demands, turned to Gary Cuozzo, Kapp's understudy last season. Cuozzo responded by throwing a pair of touchdown passes to subdue the Houston Oilers. The Oilers, however, picked off four Cuozzo aerials.

PACKER THRILLER

Donny Anderson, somewhat of a disappointment since signing a $200,000 bonus contract a few years back, showed his $200,000 form by scoring three times and gaining 63 yards in 11 carries as the Packers topped the Cowboys in a high-scoring thriller.

The world Champion Kansas City Chiefs Called in Jan Stenerud to put away the Browns. tSenerud kicked a pair of 40-yard field goals in the final minutes.

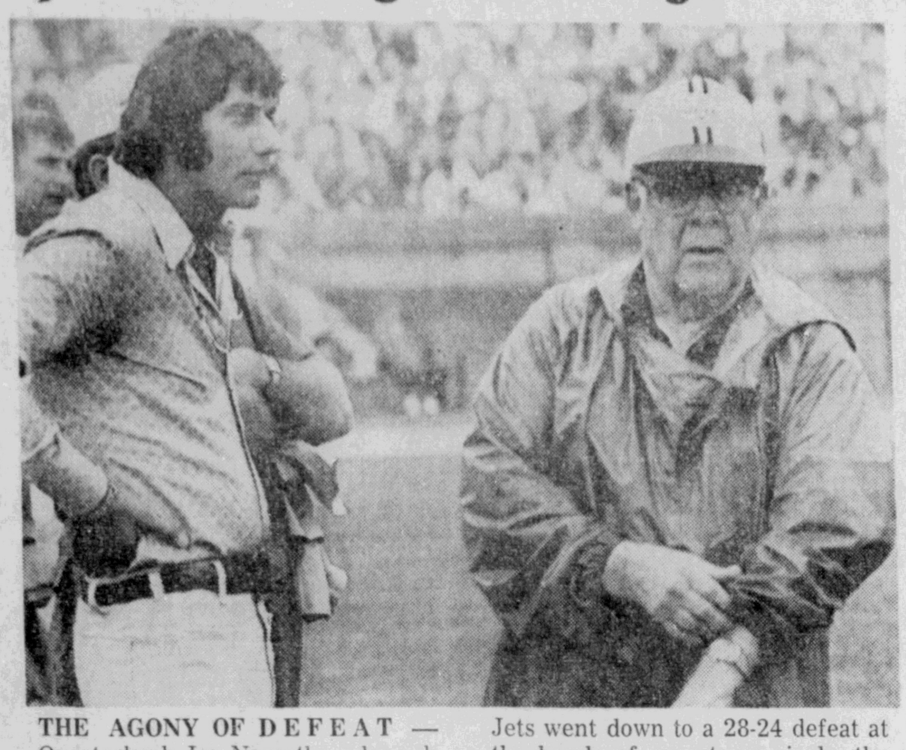
In a game played Friday night the Buffalo Bills gave coach John Rauch his first victory of the season by beating the Philadelphia Eagles 35-20. O.J. Simpson and receiver Bubba Thornton received ankle injuries but are not expected to miss this week's game against Washington.



THE AGONY OF DEFEAT — Quarterback Joe Namath and coach Weeb Ewbank were pictures of dismay yesterday as their New York Jets went down to a 28-24 defeat at the hands of cross-town rivals, the New York Giants. Namath did not suit up for the game.

in the sun and Williams and Joe Pepitone charged for it and then let it fall between them for a gift double.

A sacrifice by Fuentes and a long fly to right by Willie Mays brought Bonds home with the tally and the Giants scored their second run in the second on doubles by Dietz and Hal Lanier.

Marichal said he felt better Sunday than he has all year.

"I threw my fastball a lot more in this game and now I'm starting to regain my confidence in the pitch," said Marichal. "I had a lot of luck with my screwball, too."

Fox, naturally, was delighted with Marichal's performance.

Ram Star Brown Calls It Quits

FULLERTON, Calif. (UPI)— Roger Brown, the Los Angeles Ram defensive tackle who checked into camp late and overweight, announced his retirement Thursday.

The 30-year-old pro did not report to camp until Aug. 7 and weighed in at 334 pounds. He worked out on his own but was unable to cut down to his playing weight of less than 300 pounds.

A's Fail Again To Gain On Twins

CLEVELAND (UPI) — The Oakland A's apparently are not waiting until the change of the months before they begin their September Swoon.

Suffering from an absence of steady pitching and an inability to smack the clutch basehit, the A's were dumped 8-6 Sunday by Cleveland. The Indians swept the three-game series between the two clubs.

By losing their last two games, the Athletics have committed back-to-back sins of omission. First place Minnesota also has lost twice in a row, but the A's have not picked up any ground. They remain 6 1-2 games away from the top of the American League West.

Following Diego Segui's complete game victory against Detroit last Wednesday night, Oakland starters have not survived past the seventh inning.

Jim Hunter went seven frames in a 6-3 loss to Cleveland Friday night. Chuck Dobson was bombed from the hill after six innings in a 6-5 setback Saturday. John Odom, on Sunday, retreated after only 4 2-3 innings.

Graig Nettles slugged a three-run homer in the fourth and Ray Fosse doubled for two more tallies in the fifth to bring Cleveland from a 2-1 deficit to a 6-1 advantage. The A's had established the early lead on homers by Gene Tenace and Odom.

Rick Monday and Don Mincher made it 6-4 with homers in the seventh. Tenace and Bert Campaneris singled for two more runs and a tie score in the eighth.

Cleveland came right back to win it in the bottom of the frame. Fosse and Duke Sims singled against reliever Bob Locker. Jim Grant came to the mound and got the next batter to pop out. But Eddie Leon belted a double over the head of Rick Monday in center for the winning runs.

The A's failed Sunday, as they did in the two previous defeats, to drive in decisive runs with men on base. They stranded 10 runners Sunday.

The A's had similar problems in 1969 when they collapsed in September and fell out of the A.L. West pennant fight.

Oakland has the day off before traveling to Baltimore for a three-game series beginning Tuesday night. After playing the Orioles, the A's go to Detroit for three games against the Tigers.

Unser Leads All The Way In Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Al Unser grabbed the lead off the pole position, never relinquished it and won the 200-mile Tony Bettenhausen Classic in Milwaukee yesterday with a record speed of 114.307 miles per hour.

Unser clipped more than 5½ miles off the old mark of 108.735 mph set by Lloyd Ruby two years ago and finished three laps and 11 seconds ahead of second place Roger McCluskey.

Hulme Makes Can Am Look Easy

MANSFIELD, Ohio (UPI)— New Zealander-turned-Englander Denis Hulme won his third Canadian-American Challenge Cup race of the season, the $90,000 Buckeye Cup, at the nearby Mid-Ohio Race Course Sunday. And as a spectator remarked: "Hulme makes it all look so easy."

The balding 35-year-old Hulme, now a resident of Surbiton, England, indeed made it look easy as he went for a Sunday drive in his McLaren-Chevrolet M8D and flew away from the field of 25 other Group Seven cars to pocket the $12,000 first-place prize money.

"I was determined to go as quickly as possible early in the race in case it rained," Julme explained later about his blazing start.

Starting in the pole position, Julme had the 465-cubic-inch Chevrolet engine screaming as he pulled out an 11-second lead after only 12 laps and 41.5 seconds at the end of 35 laps.

He admitted that the lead would have helped him if his scarred hands, still healing from severe burns he received at Indianapolis last May, began to bother him.

"But the hands actually felt quite good," he remarked, adding, "I'm sure winning had something to do with my comfort."

Hulme finished 77 seconds ahead of runnerup Peter Revson of New York City, who turned in a creditable performance for his first Can-Am finish of the year.

Hulme averaged 95.184 m.p.h. over the twisting 2.4-mile Mid-Ohio course, well below his qualifying speed of 98.63 but a full mile per htur faster than the speed he won with here last year.

Revson, plagued by bad luck all season, said he was extremely pleased with the second-place finish and he was simply "driving as hard as I could."

Another tough-luck Can-Am veteran, Lothar Motschenbacher of Beverly Hills, Calif., drove a steady race in his McLaren-Chevy to take a third despite brake trouble through most of the event.

NATIONAL AAU

Marin Swimmers Place In Consolation Finals

Denise Ham of the Marin Aquatic Club and Robin Bachrach of the Dolphins of Marin both won points in the National AAU Swimming Championships which ended yesterday at the Los Angeles Swim Stadium.

Miss Ham, one of four MAC entries in the meet, clocked her best time ever in the 200 meter butterfly to place 13th in the consolation finals of that event Saturday. Her mark of two minutes, 28.679 seconds was three sends off her trial time.

Miss Bachrach, the only other Marin contestant, also took a 13th consolation place as she swam the 200 individual medley yesterday in 2:34.12.

If the National AAU outdoor meet is any indication, the United States will field another super swimming team at the Munich Olympics.

The national championships ended with a flourish Sunday night with Hall, a versatile Indiana University sophomore, breaking his third world record in three nights and broad-shouldered John Kinsella, 17, becoming the first man to go under 16 minutes in the men's 1,500-meter freestyle.

Two other world marks tumbled on the final day of the four-day competition at the Los Angeles Swim Stadium. That made it 13 in 30 men's and women's events.

With a crowd of 5,000 in the stands, Hall bettered his own world standard in the men's 200-meter individual medley in 2:09.48. His old mark was 2:09.6.

Kinsella, an Oak Brook, Ill., product who will enroll at Indiana University next month, edged Olympic champion Mike Burton in 15:57.10. The 23-year-old Burton, who held the old world standard of 16:04.5, also dipped under 16 minutes, doing 15:57.34.

"I've never thought of myself as the world's No. 1 swimmer," the Phillips 66-Long Beach Calif., athlete said in answer to a question.

While Hall didn't have much to say, the 6-foot-3, 200-pound Kinsella was ebullient.

"I was really scared before the race," the blonde-haired teen-ager said. "I was worried until the last 200 meters. Then I thought I had it."

Kinsella, who said he hoped to be at his "peak" ofr the 1972 Olympics, had never beaten Burton until this meet. At 15, he was second to Burton in the 1968 Olympic 1,500 race.

"Mike used to kill me on the turns," Kinsella offered. "But tonight it was different. I was beating him at it.

"I thought it would take beter than 16598,753 59 28, and I felt I was capable of the world record."

Kinsella also set a world mark in the 400 freestyle Thursday night, beating Burton for the initial time in the process.

After a loss to Mike Stamm of San Diego in the men's 200-meter backstroke on the opening night, Hall came on. He broke his own world record in the 400 indicidual medley Friday night and Saturday night set a world mark in the 200 butterfly.

Hall was the top men's scorer in the meet with 77 points on his three triumphs and one second place.

Susie Atwood, a 17-year-old senior at Millikan High School in Long Beach, Calif., was a triple winner and also had a third to earn high point honors among women with 75 points.

Mark Spitz, 20-year-old Indiana University junior, set a world record of 51.94 seconds in the preliminaries of the men's 100-meter freestyle but was upset by Frank Heckl of the Los Angeles Athletic Club in the finals.

BASEBALL ROUNDUP

Reds Find Another Pitching Hero

By STEVE SMILANICH
U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Don Gullett may be just a small cog in Cincinnati's "Big Red Machine," but the fireballing rookie is contributing as much as the big wheels in his team's drive to the National League pennant.

The Reds sputtered momentarily Sunday by dropping the opener of a doubleheader to the New York Mets before Gullett went to work with an eye-popping strikeout performance in the second game.

The 19-year-old lefthander from Lynn, Ky., came on in relief and methodically mowed down six straight Mets on strikeouts in a 7-5 Cincinnati win after New York had taken the opener, 5-4.

LEAGUE RECORD

The six straight strikeouts for a relief pitcher tied the league record for consecutive strikeouts and ironically came against Tom Seaver, the losing pitcher, who holds the overall-league record high 10 straight.

Gullett wound up with eight strikeouts in the four innings he worked while gaining his third win in five starts while reaffirming the "can't miss" label the Reds tagged on him when they drafted him from Sioux Falls of the Northern League.

The split by the Reds and Mets combined with Pittsbudgh's 11-0 thrashing of Los Angeles enabled Cincinnati and the Pirates to gain a half game in their respective divisions. The Reds now lead the Dodgers by 11½ in the West, while Pittsburgh is two and one-half games ahead of the Mets.

OTHER SCORES

In other National League games Philadelphia blanked Houston 4-0, St. Louis edged San Diego, 8-7 and San Francisco nipped Chicago, 4-3. The Atlanta at Montreal contest was rained out.

In the American League, Baltimore nipped California, 6-5; Cleveland downed Oakland, 8-6; Detroit beat Milwaukee 1-0; Washington walloped Minnesota, 11-1; Kansas City defeated Boston, 4-3; and New York and Chicago split a doubleheader, the White Sox taking the opener, 2-0; and the Yanks the nightcap, 7-5.

Auerbach Team Wins In Benefit

MONTICELLO N.Y. (UPI) — Rookie Dave Cowens of the Boston Celtics scored 32 points, pulled down 23 rebounds and was named the outstanding player in the Maurice Stokes Memorial basketball game at Kutsher's Country Club Tuesday night.

Cowens led the Red Auerbach coached team to an 86-82 victory over an NBA star club coached by Dolph Shayes.

Practical Solution To Long Hair

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

PITTSBURGH — Coach Carl DePasqua brought a barber along Sunday for the opening of football practice at the university of Pittsburgh.

Displeased with the long hair sported by some of his athletes, he ordered a group of them into the barber's chair at Pitt Stadium for a trim.

He said the haircuts would not be a regular item of training camp.

"Some of them were a little shaggy," DePasqua said. "I just want it neat and trim, that's all."

Auto Racing

ONTARIO, Calif. — Mark Donohue of Media, Pa., continued to blaze the trail in practice runs over the new Ontario Motor Speedway yesterday as he turned the course in 169.81 miles an hour.

Donohue's time was achieved in a turbo-Ford and bettered his Saturday speed of 165.14 miles an hour.

Golf

She trailed going into the final 18 holes this weekend but defeated Cynthia Hill of South Haven, Mich. in the final round yesterday.

CASPER, Wyo. — Bobby Hold of Denver, deadlocked with New Mexico's Wright Garrett going into the final hole, sank a 17-foot putt on the 18th green yesterday to win the Buick Pro-Am Golf tournament.

The defending titlist from Colorado shot a one-over-par 71 to finish the 72-hole tournament with a 267 total. Garrett, a pro from Albuquerque, shot a 72 for his final round on the Casper Country Club course and had a 268 total.

Bowling

WAUKEGAN, Ill. — Dave Soutar of Gilroy, Calif., has won the $40,000 Waukegan Open Bowling Tournament. Soutar made up a 293-point deficit and came from 12th place yesterday to win by 41 points.

Hockey

Boxing

Louis Tribute Raised $75,000

DETROIT (UPI)—Detroit's tribute to Joe Louis, former heavyweight champion of the world, has netted more than $75,000, it was announced Thursday.

Donations to a special trust fund for the 56-year-old "Brown Bomber" could easily reach six figures, a spokesman for the "Salute to the Champ" organization said.

More than 12,000 persons gathered at Cobo Arena Aug. 12 to pay tribute to Louis, the man who wore the most coveted crown in boxing longer than any other champion. The ailing champion, however, was unable to attend the tribute. He remained in a Denver hospital where he is undergoing psychiatric treatment.

Notre Dame has beaten Pitt football teams six straight times and the Irish hold a 24-11-1 edge 20 shutouts last season, the most for the club since 1944 when they also had 20 shutouts.

BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG

bowling tips saturday aug 8

The back of the right hand and forearm should form a straight line as you hold the ball at address and throughout delivery. This is important for consistency, for if this line is maintained the ball will roll with approximately the same motion every time.

Aurelio Rodriguez of the California Angels led the American League third basemen in double plays last season with 42, five more than Brooks Robinson of the Baltimore Orioles.

One of the new golf tournaments on the PGA tour this year is the $200,000 Kiwanis Open Invitational set for Sept. 24-27 at the Concord Golf Course, Kiamesha Lake, N.Y.

We're really proud to present this architect designed charmer for the first time this weekend. It's perfectly located close to everything and it's just a short walk to town. But it has perfect privacy, and there's nothing to be seen from any of the rooms but an unspoiled view of trees and hills. There's a big living room with a beamed ceiling a big rock fireplace and sliding doors to wide tree-top decks. An all-electric kitchen. Two bedrooms and a den, a bath and a half. All redwood with a shake roof. Priced right at $35,000.

HERE'S A COMPROMISE!

Looking for a home in a top area, with 3 or 4 bedrooms, 2 baths, a fun family room, utility room, level front and rear patios AND a Bay view? Finding that for this type and quality of home the prices are astronomical? Here's the reason this home can be bought so reasonable — highway noise. Most of the problem has been solved, however, by a wrap-around, glass-enclosed deck. Consider it a minor annoyance in return for so much quality living. $41,900.

Addressing 1,500 persons at a Klan rally Saturday night, Shelton said "the White Race has been pushed into a corner."

Earlier in the day Shelton appeared on a local radio show to answer questions called in by listeners. However, the station said Sunday 80 per cent of the telephone calls were not questions but were praise for Shelton and the Klan.

Driver, 25, Booked In Drug Case

Kingry reportedly drove eastbound along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from Highway 101 to Highway 17 and across the bridge, weaving from one side of the highway to another, officers reported.

When he was halted, there were five red capsules and four yellow-blue tablets in his pickup truck, and when he was searched at the Marin County jail there was what appeared to be a marijuana cigarette in his pocket, officers reported.

Kingry was booked on suspicion of driving under the influence of dangerous drugs and suspicion of possession of marijuana and dangerous drugs.

Agnew Given Warm Welcome In Korea

Says Jets To Replace U.S. Troops

SEOUL, South Korea (UPI) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew began a tour of the Far East today with handshakes and waves to cheering crowds and a promise of supersonic Phantom jet fighter-bombers to allay South Korea's fears about the withdrawal of some U.S. troops.

The warplanes and other aid will be forthcoming to soften the effect of withdrawing 20,000 American troops from Korean soil, Agnew said as he arrived on the first leg of a tour that will take him to four Asian nations.

CHEERED IN RAIN

Standing bareheaded in City Hall Square in a drizzling rain, Agnew told Prime Minister Chung Il Kwon and a big welcoming crowd in a city bedecked with American flags that President Nixon had ordered him to "reaffirm the importance we attach to the pledges contained in our mutual defense treaty."

He promised to send 54 Phantom jets to South Korea and additional "military assistance to substantially modernize the defense capability" of South Korea.

JETS WITH RADAR

"To help you resist North Korean attempts to infiltrate your country by sea, we are also providing you with some aircraft specifically designed to detect by radar North Korean boats attempting landings in South Korea," Agnew said.

Sunburned from playing golf this morning on the Pacific island of Guam, Agnew drove through the streets of Seoul in a motorcade that stopped so that he could greet Koreans waiting to see him.

"Hi, how are you?" the smiling Agnew shouted to the crowd as he stepped from the car to shake hands with people along a curbside near Ewa

ANOTHER VIETNAM?

Mansfield Blasts Aid For Cambodia

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield expressed concern today that additional U.S. arms aid to Cambodia might bring a revival of policies that "led us into our troubles" in Vietnam.

With Washington-Phnom Penh agreement for $40 million more of U.S. weapons and equipment, and following Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's comment that the United States would "do everything" to help the Cambodian regime, Mansfield told reporters:

"It appears to me the increase in aid, the increase from 11 to 50 of the U.S. mission, the close air support in all parts of Cambodia — all these could be a prelude to advisers to administer the aid and then others to protect the advisers.

"I can only hope it doesn't get out of hand like it did in Vietnam."

He said he could partly understand the Nixon administration's desire to see the regime of Premier Lon Nol survive, but added that "I also can see a revival of the policies that led us to our troubles in the beginning in Vietnam and that we're in today."

The Democratic leader also said that the "vice president does not speak for the administration, except in passing. I believe what the President said prior to and on June 30."

Mansfield said he was referring to President Nixon's assertions that American forces would not be used to support the Lon Nol government.

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., assistant Senate GOP leader, told reporters at a news conference separately that Agnew was "acting as a spokesman for the President" and was restating the administration's Cambodian stance.

"It would be very dangerous to our situation in Vietnam if there were a Communist takeover in Cambodia," Griffin said. "We support the idea of a neutralist government in Cambodia.

"We all agree that American troops shouldn't go in to support the Lon Nol government, but to help it defend itself — by supplying small arms, for example — is certainly consistent with protecting our troops in Vietnam."

The State Department Thursday had disclosed the terms of the agreement with Cambodia, outlining the ground rules for

Hanna Backs His Site For Regional Shopping

A major Novato landowned has written the Novato Chamber of Commerce that his property is probably the only location in the region suitable for a large regional shopping center.

The property was rejected as a site for such a center by consultants Sedway and Cooke in their downtown Novato plan and program, presently under study by the city, because of its distance from the downtown area.

In a letter dated Aug. 19, Richard W. Hanna of Burlingame, owner of a 450-acre parcel of land northeast of the intersection of Highways 101 and 37, cited freeway exposure and access as advantages over other properties in the area.

Hanna has asked the city council for time to prepare his own downtown plan based on utilization of his property rather than the recommended Pinheiro Ranch property for the regional shopping center recommended in the Sedway and Cooke plan.

Hanna wrote: "For several years now our property has been under close observation by both major department stores and major developers for a regional shopping center.

"We have about 450 acres in the City of Novato . . . within several years a new interchange is scheduled . . . which will give the property complete access.

"The developers and so-called anchor tenants have recognized many competitive advantages over other properties in the general area, including:

" . . . Visibility from both Highway 101 and Highway 37 and its extensive freeway exposure.

" . . . Highway 37 will become a major east-west connector with the advent of the future north-south freeway east of Ignacio Wye.

"The property is probably the only location in the Novato region in light of a weak market for a number of years that an experienced shopping center developer can generate major tenants, promote a regional center and attract an adequate market beyond normal market projections for such a center."

The letter also said that the land was strategically located for a municipal golf course, parks and civic center.

Bel Marin Tax Limits Vote Slated

Voters will go to the polls tomorrow to vote on a proposed Bel Marin Keyes Community Services District tax rate limit increase from $1.25 to $3 per $100 assessed valuation.

Polls at the Bel Marin Keys Community Center will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m., with 412 persons eligible to vote.

The proposed increase is to accumulate funds for prevention of silting and dredging from the Bel Marin Keys lagoon and portions of Novato Creek within the services district area.

Arguments for the measure, signed by John D. Kniveton, a past president of the Bel Marin Keys Homeowners Association, will accompany the sample ballot, citing a need for more money to study the siltation problem in detail and to find solutions to preserve land values and retain use of the lagoons for boating.

No argument against the measure appeared on the ballot.

Bomb Rips Wisconsin Campus, Kills Student

MADISON, Wis. (UPI)—A thnuerous explosion which police said was caused by a bomb rocked the University of Wisconsin's mathematics research center today, killing at least one person and injuring four others.

The facility long has been the target of antiwar protesters.

A few minutes before the explosion the dispatcher at the Madison police station received an anonymous call. "Hey, pig," the caller said, "there's a bomb in the math research center."

Damage to the six-story concrete building was extensive. Other buildings in the area also were damaged by the explosion. These included the university's hospital complex, the chemistry building and the medical research center.

Authorities identified the dead man as Robert Fasshachi, 33, father of three and a candidate for a doctorate degree who had been employed as a graduate assistant in the physics department.

Among the injured were Norbert A. Sutter, 56, a security officer; Davis Schuster, 28, Johannesburg, South Africa, a graduate student and Paul Quin, Madison, a research associate in physics.

Also injured was a patient at the university hospital, who received cuts about the eyes when a window blew in. He was not immediately identified.

Federal authorities were called into the investigation immediately.

The research building has been a target of vandals in almost every war protest at the university. Its windows have been smashed several times. There have been several attempts to set it on fire.

Assistant Fire Chief Harold Muenkel said the building contained a nuclear accelerator. He said there were "some sources of radiation" that had been "secured."

The explosion occurred at about 3:45 a.m., a time when only a relatively few persons were inside the building.

Classes are scheduled to begin late next month at the university but there have been warnings from radical groups that school would not be permitted to open.

The research center was created after a contract was agreed to by the University, the U.S. Army and the Wisconsin alumni Research Foundation.

Congressmen Express Land-Purchase Hope

A congressional subcommittee joined Marin County supervisors today for a tour of Point Reyes National Seashore, and expressed hope that the entire 53,000 acres can be purchased by the end of next year.

"I hope we'll have most of the land by the end of next year, if we can agree on the price," declared Rep. Roy Taylor, D-North Carolina, chairman of the House Subcommittee on National Parks, a subcommittee of the House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee.

'But if we have to go to court, if may take longer," added Taylor.

Thomas Flynn, deputy director of the National Park Service, was less optimistic. "It may take several years," he predicted.

Flynn said that if the price of seashore land cannot be negotiated with the owners, the National Park Service will continue to follow the congressional policy of condemning the land which means the government can back out if the court finding on land price proves too high. landowners, who contend that even after years of land condemnation proceeding, they could be left holding the bag if the government decides not to buy.

Of the 53,000 acres originally designated for the seashore, almost 23,000 acres have been purchased by the government. A total of $58 million has been appropriated by Congress for the entire purchase. Chairman Taylor said he hopes this is enough money to buy all 53,000 acres, despite the rising land costs.

Marin suprevisors, headed by Chairman John F. McInnis, welcomed the congressional delegation at a breakfast at the Alta Mira Hotel in Sausalito before the seashore tour. Supervisors William A. Gnoss, Louis H. Baar, and Michael Wornum attended the breakfast. Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. met the congressmen at Point Reyes later in the day.

Bagley Measure To Reagan Desk

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill barring oil and gas drilling on state-owned tidelands on the coast and in San Francisco Bay was approved at the close of the Legislature and sent to the governor for his signature.

The prohibition against drilling would be for only five years, but the author of the measure, AB 684, Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, said the ban should be permanent if drilling technology does not advance enough in five years to guarantee against accidental spills.

Marin Bus Line Given New Chance To Fix Up Vehicles

The California Highway Patrol has dropped its bid to prosecute Marin County Transit Systems for violations of state safety regulations in order to give the Marin City-based company one more chance to comply with the regulations.

The highway patrol and the Marin County district attorney's office agreed, however, that any further violations will subject the company to immediate prosecution.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Joshua W. Thomas told the Independent-Journal that the company had made "a sincere effort" to correct its violations found on the three buses it owns. Violations also were found on several buses it rented from other companies, he said, but it was common practice for a bus company to assume that rented equipment met safety regulations.

The company, however, has been advised that it is responsible for the condition of rented equipment as well, Thomas said.

The prospect of prosecution arose last week when the highway patrol said it would take its case to the district attorney. The highway patrol has been seeking since February to have the company meet safety regulations.

The head of the highway patrol's motor carrier inspectors in the Bay Area, E. H. Mattoon, said the company's buses would be reinspected in 60 to 90 days "to see if they are maintaining them or letting them deteriorate again."

Mattoon said that until the reinspection is made the highway patrol also will suspend its warning to seek revocation of the company's California Public Utilities Commission permit.

Packwood Rips Seniority System

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Robert Packwood, R-Ore., the Senate's youngest member, proposed today that the system by which committee chairmen are selected on the basis of seniority be abolished.

Packwood, 37, said he would introduce legislation under which the chairman and ranking minority member would be elected by members of the committee.

He said the seniority system was "rigid, inflexible, and unyielding."

Temblor Wiggles Monterey Bay Area

MONTEREY (UPI)—A mild earthquake jolted the Monterey area Sunday but did not cause injury or damage.

Soledad Brothers Try To Disqualify Judge

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Attorneys for the "Soledad Three" Monday asked the District Court of Appeal to hold a hearing on the qualifications of Superior Judge Clayton Horn to preside over their trial on charges of killing a prison guard.

Senate Confirms Kirkpatrick

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate today confirmed the nomination of Miles W. Kirkpatrick of Philadelphia, Pa., as a federal trade commissioner.

President Nixon named Kirkpatrick, who headed an American Bar Association committee which wrote a report critical of the FTC, to succeed Caspar W. Weinberger as the agency's head.

The Senate also confirmed the nomination of Robert McClellan of California to be an assistant secretary of commerce, succeeding Kenneth N. Davis, Jr., who resigned.

Nixon's Economic Advisers Pay Visits

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI)—President Nixon conferred today with his top economic advisers amid optimistic signs, including a skyrocketing stock market.

Chairman Paul W. McCracken of the Council of Economic Advisers arrived at the Western White House and put his fingers up in an "okay" sign when asked about the economy.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Diphtheria Feared

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—School opens today with more than three quarters of the city's population unprotected against diphtheria. Health officials report the number of confirmed cases of the disease has doubled in the last month.

Both educators and doctors fear the crowded conditions in the city's schools could spread the diphtheria epidemic. City Health Director Dr. William R. Ross said if one child in a classroom contracts the disease all the classmates will be checked.

Ross estimated only 15,000 persons in the city of 648,189 have been immunized since Aug. 10. He also said the city must inoculate 90 to 95 per cent of the population before the disease can be stopped.

Farm Strikes Voted

SALINAS, Calif. (UPI)—Cesar Chavez' farm union voted to strike today against 97 vegetable growers and shippers in an effort to become labor bargaining agent for some 10,000 agricultural employees.

Of the growers the AFL-CIO United Farm Workers Organizing Committee voted Sunday to strike, 35 are in the fertile Salinas valley and the other 62 are smaller farms in the Santa Maria area.

At issue is whether growers will release their employees from a contract with the independent Teamsters Union and sign contracts with the UFWOC.

Nun Scandal Denied

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — The Vatican has suspended the practice of recruiting poor Indian girls to become nuns in European convents. One newspaper said the girls were "sold" to the convents for up to $750 each.

The London Sunday Times, in a story headlined "The scandal of the nun runners," quoted a priest as saying "it's a form of slavery."

What happened, according to the Sunday Times, was that recruit-starved European convents paid up to $750 to the Roman Catholic hierarchy of the southern Indian Kerala state for the girls, many of whom were totally unqualified to become novices.

Some 2,000 girls were involved since the practice began in 1968, the story said.

The Vatican took the unusual step of issuing a denial late Sunday night — a time when all Vatican offices generally are closed. It said the allegations were exaggerated and sensational.

Japan Role Argued

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., says he cannot see why it is necessary for the United States to have 100,000 troops in Japan —or why the Japanese are allowing it.

Symington made the comment during hearings by his Senate Foreign Relation subcommittee in January. The testimony was released Sunday.

Symington said the Japanese "are a people of great pride . . . I do not see why the Japanese are not getting fed up with our being there. Nor do I see why it is necessary for us to stay there."

Undersecretary of State U. Alexis Johnson told the hearing the troops no longer are there as occupiers but are there to help the Japanese defend themselves and to protect South Korea.

Storm Still Risky

MIAMI (UPI)—Tropical Depression Dorothy, whose 70 mile per hour winds and floodwaters have killed at least 43 persons, died down Sunday to just a big wave—but in a dangerous location.

The National Hurricane Center downgraded Dorothy to a "tropical wave." But kept an eye on the storm as it wandered into the western Caribbean Sea. Forecasters feared Dorothy would rebuild its strength in the area, a spawning ground for many summer storms.

Seaman To Face Sabotage Trial

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—An 18-year-old Navy fireman apprentice has been ordered to face a general court-martial on charges of sabotaging the destroyer Richard B. Anderson.

William F. Passmore, Long Beach, Calif., was accused of putting nuts, bolts and other objects into the gears of the destroyer shortly after it left here May 26 for duty off Vietnam. The objects jammed the reduction gear and stopped the port propeller from turning and the ship underwent $231,000 in repairs.

Passmore faces a maximum punishment of 30 years confinement and a dishonorable discharge.

Two other firemen apprentices were arrested after the incident but no decision has been made in their cases. They are Ken Roberts, 19, Los Angeles, and Thomas G. Black, 19, Boise, Idaho.

Desegregation Rules Are Clarified

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Nixon administration has decided to make it clear it will not allow schools which are now desegregating to assign their students to all-black or all-white individual classrooms.

There have been reports that such segregation by the classroom was a possibility among some schools preparing for desegregation this fall. But the government says its policy is:

"The term desegregation means the assignment of students to public schools and within such schools without regard to their race, color, religion or national origin."

That definition —with the key term "within such schools" —is contained in regulations being prepared for the disbursement of $75 million in federal emergency funds to help districts which are desegregating. The money, for which an estimated 1,400 school districts in the South and North may be eligible, is the first installment of $1.5 billion in emergency assistance requested by President Nixon in March.

Applications for the money may be coming in as early as the first week of September.

To be eligible, a school district must be implementing the final phase of either a court-ordered desegregation plan or a voluntary plan approved by the Health, Education and Welfare department.

Cardinal Reaches 75

BOSTON (UPI) — Cardinal Richard J. Cushing, who once said he hoped to retire when he was 75, passed that landmark today — and retirement isn't on the horizon.

He planned to mark the birthday quietly at his archdiocesan residence in Brighton before attending a $100 -a -plate dinner in his honor tonight.

U.S. Writer Released By Red 'Friends'

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — Robert S. Anson, a Time magazine correspondent released by the Communists after 20 days captivity, said Sunday he is finished with reporting the Cambodian war because "I have a very personal stake in this now."

Ansen, 25, was released Saturday and drove to Phnom Penh Sunday in the same white car he was driving Aug. 3 when he was captured near Skoun, 32 miles northeast of the capital.

The Communists released French TV newsman Alain Clement and Anson about the same time the Cambodian exile government of Prince Norodom Sihanouk announced in Peking the release of four Western newsmen.

They included a Dutchman and a French woman. Clement flew immediately to Paris.

Anson said he was well treated while in captivity. He declined to identify his captors by nationality or ethnic or political base.

"They were members of a front . . . a group of people banded together to fight for a common cause," Anson said. "The treatment—it was marvelous. They treated me first as a friend and after awhile, we really got to be brothers.

"I feel I have left friends back there. They were not jailers nor my captors nor my enemy. They were my friends," Anson said.

"I have a very personal stake in this now," he said, explaining his decision to quit reporting the war. "I know people of both armies. I just don't want to see my friends dead."

Land Grab Thwarted

NEW DELHI (UPI)—Police arrested 36 Socialist demonstrators Sunday when they attempted to seize a four-acre farm belonging to Prime Minister Indira Gandhi as part of a land reform movement.

Cambodians Belatedly Report On Air Strikes

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—The Cambodian military command said today Allied air strikes killed 500 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong in a Communist sanctuary region along the Vietnamese border.

The spokesman said the raids were flown Aug. 9-11 but the Cambodian high command had not learned of the results until Sunday. The strikes were in an area around Kompong Trach, a Communist base 67 miles southeast of Phnom Penh.

The spokesmen declined to say whose planes were involved in the air strikes. He said they were "just air strikes. that's all." He said the raids also destoyed a Communist command post and a weapons factory.

Information on the bodies was provided by villagers and Cambodian troops operating around Kompong Trach, he said.

Official sources in Saigon said ground fighting in Vietnam fell to a "real low level" today but allied commanders expect a surge of Communist attacks to mark the first anniversary of the death of Ho Chi Minh Sept. 3.

The sources said the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong had avoided contact recently with Allied units. They attributed the lull to Allied success in seizing supplies in Cambodia and regrouping of Communist forces.

The U.S. Command said American troop strength in Vietnam declined by 2,350 men in the past week to a total of 403,700. It left 19,070 men to be pulled out of the war zone by Oct. 16 under the Nixon administration's Phase 4 with drawal. It was the fewest troops in Vietnam since the week ended Jan 22, 1967.

The Cambodian command's belated report on the air strikes came after it reported 500 other Communist troops had been killed in 24 hours of fighting in which a North Vietnamese assault against Phnom Penh's outer defenses had been thrown back. In that engagement, military spokesmen said Cambodian defenders stopped the Communists seven miles north of the city.

The spokesman said Cambodian troops were taking the initiative across Cambodia.

"The Viet Cong are often refusing to fight our troops," he said. "They disperse when our troops arrive."

Maj. Am Rong, Cambodian information officer, denied a report allegedly carried on the U.S. Armed Forces Vietnam network last week quoting Am Rong as saying Phnom Penh had come under direct attack.

"I did not say this at all," Am Rong said. "Not only did I say the Communists would not attack Phnom Penh, but I also said our troops successfully were pushing the Communists away from our outermost defenses several miles from the city."

Communiques from Saigon said U.S. B52 bombers flew four strikes overnight, all of them in Vietnam. Two raids were just below the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) separating the two Vietnams, one at the northern edge of the A Shau Valley near the Laotian border and the fourth 46 miles north of Saigon.

Leak Is Denied By White House

SAN CLEMENTE (UPI) — The White House emphatically denied any involvement with a Life magazine article accusing Sen. Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md., of obtaining a government loan to enhance stock value of a Florida-based company.

Tydings had accused presidential assistant Peter Flanigan and Daniel Hofgren, former White House aide, of leaking the information to Life.

White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said he discussed the matter with Flanigan, who denied any involvement in the published article. Ziegler said he is also "quite sure and almost positive" Hofgren was not the source.

Copenhagen To Scrap Last Running Trolley

COPENHAGEN (UPI) —The last trolley in Copenhagen is expected to be scrapped by 1972.

The city traffic department said Line No. 5, running through downtown Copenhagen, would be the last to go. Ten years ago 14 trolley lines crisscrossed the city.

Red-Hot Ship Slowly Sinks Into Pacific

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—An abandoned freighter, her sides "cherry red" because of a disastrous fire, was slowly sinking today in the Pacific Ocean 1,000 miles west of San Francisco.

A Coast Guard C130 airplane pilot, taking a last look before returning to his base, reported the Don Jose Figueras' "Superstructure was engulfed in flames" and that she was listing 45 degrees.

In San Francisco, however, guard headquarters declared "there is no guarantee that the ship will sink soon" although "most ships in this condition usually go down within a few hours."

The word that the 466-foot, 7,673-ton vessel's sides were glowing "cherry red from the heat inside" came from a passing Air Force Pilot.

The Don Jose Figueras, owned by the Republic of the Philippines, caught fire Friday and was abandoned Saturday by her two passengers, crew of 40 and a mongrel mascot dog after a futile fight against the blazes.

Captain Demosthenes Gabac and five officers stayed aboard trying to put out the fire for hours after the others had been taken aboard the Cuba Maru, one of two Japanese ships that answered the S.O.S.

Freak Winds Help A Winning Balloon

A 5-year-old San Rafael boy, aided by some freak weather condition, has been named the winner of the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Department Blast-Off competition.

A postcard attached to a helium-filled balloon released June 26 by Peter Sutterland of 866 Patricia Way was found in a field in Canada —approximately 1,500 miles from San Rafael.

Peter's was one of 1,000 balloons thrown to the sky in June to open the parks and recreation department's summer program.

The balloon's 1,500-mile journey smashed previous records for the annual competition. In the last three years, winners' balloons traveled 97, 129 and 160 miles.

When Peter's postcard came back by mail to the park and recreation department, officials were a bit skeptical.

Recreation supervisor Dennis Jauch said that in past years a fewyoungsters mailed their postcards in envelopes to relatives in distant places and then had the relative return the card to the recreation department, saying they had found it somewhere.

The balloon's journey from San Rafael to Westlock, Alberta, Canada, however, proved to be authentic.

Jauch checked with a San Francisco meteorologist who checked with the U.S. Weather Bureau and learned that because of hurricane conditions off Baja California, wind currents along the coast were traveling at speeds of 120 to 130 miles per hour.

The conditions that got Peter's balloon to Canada in three days could occur only about once in every 20 years, Jauch was told.

The whole thing didn't make much difference to the second prize winner, 7-year-old Mary Jane Schwab of 21 Dolores Street, who postcard was returned from Eugene, Ore.

In any other year, her postcard would have traveled more than twice as far as the winner's.

Jauch blamed the weird winds for the fact that the number of postcards returned this year was much less than in the past. Only about 5 per cent came back, compared with an average of 30 per cent in past years. He theorized that most of the balloons were taken over the ocean by the winds.

Check On Baby, Then Cars Collide

A San Anselmo mother, checking her 3-month-old baby while driving, collided with another car yesterday afternoon in Kentfield, and the baby suffered a head bump, according to the California Highway Patrol officers.

Officers said a car driven by Mary Ann Marsili, 19, of 9 San Rafael Avenue, Apt. 1A collided with the rear of a car driven by Clara Hart Gordon, 70, of 33 Angela Avenue, San Anselmo, on eastbound Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, west of Toussin Avenue, at 1:10 p.m.

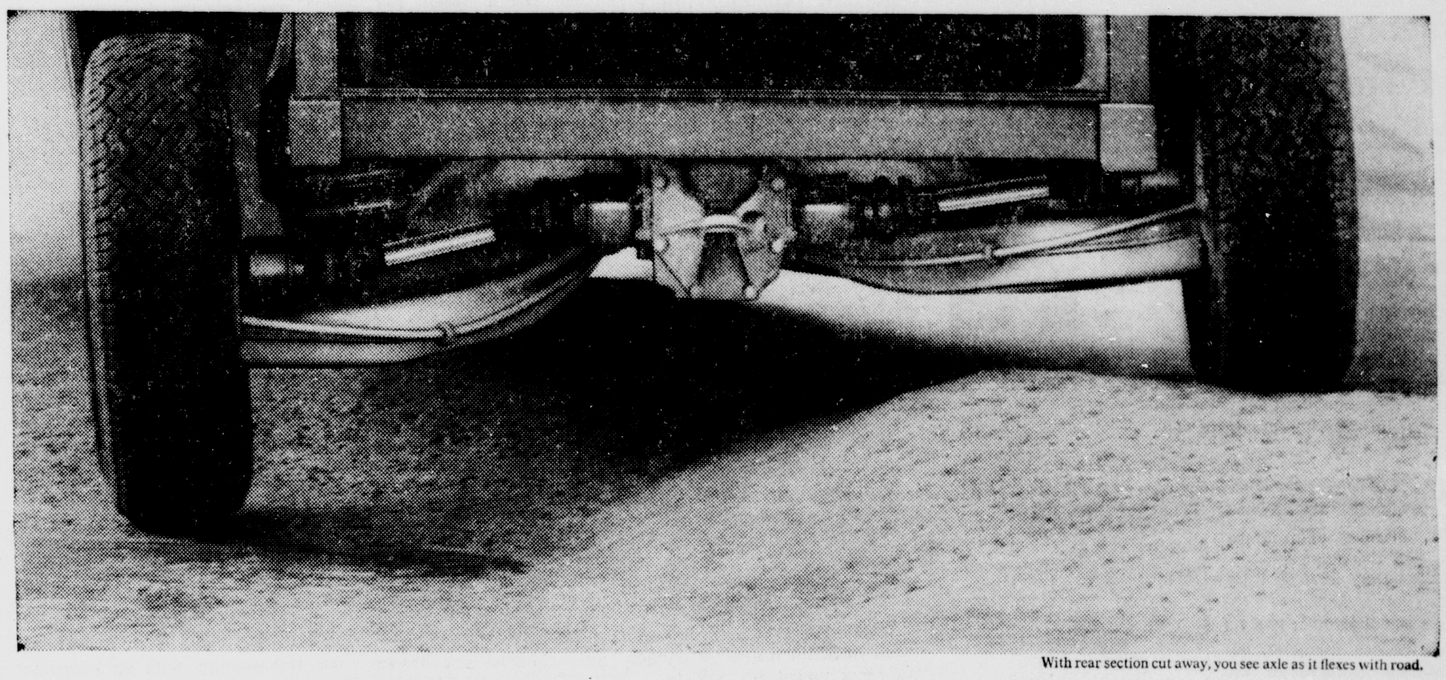
OFF WE GO INTO THE WILD
BLUE YONDER SANDWICH BAR
IN THE SPECTRUM AIR BUILDING
MARIN COUNTY AIRPORT
NOVATO • OPEN DAILY



With rear section cut away, you see axle as it flexes with road.

"Mercedes-Benz cars have to cope with the roughest roads in Europe. That's why we build our axles this way—not as a rigid, one-piece beam."

EVER make the mistake of taking what you thought was a shortcut?

You chose a road that looked quicker on the map. But you were soon jolted into admitting your error. You had to fight to keep control as your car bottomed and bounced at every rut and bump.

That's because most cars are designed to provide a "boulevard ride." Provided you stay on boulevards and turnpikes.

Articulated rear axle tames rough roads.

Try that same shortcut with a Mercedes-Benz. You'll appreciate the feeling of control when you slam into that first unexpected chuckhole. And you'll notice less pitching and bouncing over bumps and railroad crossings. Even washboard surfaces and cobblestones won't produce that skitterish, you're-about-to-lose-it feeling.

Our secret: An articulated rear axle. A sophisticated and tough combination of shafts and joints that allows each rear wheel to move up and down independently of the other. Just as the front wheels do. To give you a smooth ride without compromising road-holding.

But the advantages of independent rear suspension aren't limited to rough going. On a turnpike the benefits are more subtle, but perhaps even more important.

Tracks like an arrow

When you aim a Mercedes-Benz down an expressway, you'll find it tracks like an arrow, without those tiny steering corrections you used to make for "road wander."

Slap it over tar strips. The suspension soaks them up with firm control. Not four or five reverberations.

And if you've ever been lulled by high-speed expressway driving into taking an exit just a bit too fast, you'll appreciate the adhesive cornering power of Mercedes-Benz' independent suspension. It gives you an extra margin of control that somehow keeps your palms a little drier and your brake foot a little less itchy.

Disc brakes on all four wheels

Automotive editors and engineers agree that disc brakes are superior to common drum brakes. So when it comes to brakes, our philosophy is simple. Use disc brakes. Not just on the front wheels. Not as optional extras. Use them on all four wheels. Offer no options.

The four disc brakes on a Mercedes-Benz will help you stop surer, smoother and reduce the chances of fade and lockup.

How to judge a car

Before you judge the character of a car, you should view it as a totality. Somewhat the way you judge the character of a person. So here are a few more points to help you judge a Mercedes-Benz.

1. Our overhead camshaft engines are precisely machined, balanced and bench tested to withstand the rigors of Germany's Autobahns. At American speed limits, a Mercedes-Benz is literally loafing.

2. Subtle characteristics of tires have profound effects on the overall performance of a car. Tires used on our cars are tuned to the movements of our suspension, so they'll work as integral parts of the total system.

3. All the engineering and automotive theory in the world isn't going to build a great car. The actual building is up to the craftsmen in the factory.

That's why we use skilled cabinetmakers to craft and fit the wood trim. Former dressmakers to sew the upholstery. And an assembly line that pokes along, always willing to switch off an imperfect car when one of our 2,000 or so inspectors says, "No that's not good enough."

New brochures

If you would like to learn more about Mercedes-Benz performance and craftsmanship, mail us this coupon for our new, full-color brochure. And, if you're planning a European vacation, check the box to see how much you can save with our overseas delivery plan. And how much convenience can be added to your trip.

Better yet, visit our showroom. Our representative will be glad to tell you about any of our sixteen models. The prices range from $5,094* to $28,343*.

And be sure to take that test drive.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

Majority Of Skin Disorders Not Traceable To Pregnancy

Pregnancy is blamed for many skin disorders, but careful studies show that most expectant mothers are no more susceptible to dermatitis than they were when not pregnant. Some skin conditions are aggravated during this period, but the treatmnt is the same as in the nonpregnant.

There are exceptions. Pigment increases in some parts of the body because of glandular changes that occur during pregnancy. Irregularly-shaped brownish patches on the face have been dubbed the mask of pregnancy. Discolorations may occur also on the neck and trunk.

THESE LESIONS disappear shortly after delivery and reappear during subsequent pregnancies. A permanent zone of pigmentation may develop after the woman has several children. The cause is not known, and no treatment is available, but many women camouflage the brownish patches with cosmetics.

The gums may darken, swell and bleed easily. Sometimes hemorrhages into the gums lead to protrusions that can be likened to small oval or rounded tumors.

STRIAE, OR pinish stripes appear on overstretched skin because of rupture of the elastic fibers in the epidermis. These marks appear on the abdomen and breasts of women who have had children. Stretch marks are of mechanical origin; fatties who lose weight also develop striae.

Pinhead-to pea-sized skin tags often grow on the chest during the latter months of pregnancy. A fine growth of hair may arise on the face and abdomen. Spider veins affect the face, neck and trunk. These lesions are related to pregnancy and usually disappear or fade away after the baby is delivered.

MISQUOTED

D. E. writes: Someone said the only exercise you believed in was walking. Is this your opinion?

REPLY

No, it is not. I believe everyone ought to exercise, within his physical limits. A young, healthy person should remain active so long as possible via noncompetitive sports, such as golf, swimming, tennis and hiking. It is better for the oldster to avoid strenuous exercise. For him, walking is excellent. What I object to is a 45-year-old sedentary man who suddenly decides to become a weekend athlete. Perhaps this is what you had in mind.

VISION OF PREMATURES

T. E. writes: Do all incubator babies have eye defects?

REPLY

No. Fifteen years ago some incubator babies became blind after receiving too much oxygen. Giving oxygen to prematures is a life saving procedure. But the tiniest babies, who were born before the eyes had a chance to develop were the ones whose vision was affected. This no longer occurs.

RHEUMATIC ACTIVITY

S. D. writes: How is the severity of rheumatic fever determined?

REPLY

By examination and the use of blood studies and other laboratory tests. The most popular tests for rheumatic activity are the white blood count, sedimentation rate, the antistreptolysin titer, C-reactive protein, and the electrocardiogram.

HEADACHE AND EYESTRAIN

H. H. writes: In headache due to eyestrain, what part of the head hurts?

REPLY

Gunshot Wound Kills Non-Com

Staff Sgt. Freddie Leonard Jones, 37, a Hamilton Air Force Base air military policeman with 19 years service, was found dead yesterday apparently of a self-inflicted gunshot wound in the head, the Marin County coroner's office has reported.

Jones' body was discovered by his daughter in his bedroom at 949 Ulloa Drive, Novato. A .38 caliber revolver was near the body, according to the coroner's office.

A note was found indicating that Jones had been despondent over his job, according to the report.

Guitarist Booked In Park Fracas

A 23-year-old Fairfax youth was booked into Marin County Jail Friday on suspicion of assaulting a police officer and disturbing the peace after he was arrested by Sausalito police in Vina del Mar Park.

William Armand Muth, of 155 Forest Avenue, was arrested after persons complained he was playing a guitar in the park "in a loud and obscene manner," police said.

During the arrest, Muth allegedly struck Officer Walter Potter in the chest, knocking him to the ground. According to police, Potter chased Muth into the city's nearby municipal parking lot, where he was finally arrested.

Muth was freed on $1,875 bail to appear tomorrow in Marin Municipal Court.

SHAKES HANDS

En route from Guam, Agnew held a news conference aboard his jet and said the administration will circumvent, if necessary, the proposed congressional restrictions on paying foreign troops to fight in Indochina. He also said the administration was dedicated to helping the present Cambodian regime.

"We're going to do everything we can to help the Lon Nol government," Agnew said. Lon Nol is premier of Cambodia.

North Korea called Agnew's visit to South Korea "a dangerous war junket designed to . . . directly stir up the provocation of a new war."

"The villainous U.S. vice President arrived in South Korea . . . under the cloak of the so-called special envoy of Nixon, tte warlike boss," said a broadcast of the Korean News Agency.

CLEAVER CRITIZES

American Black Panther Eldridge Cleaver, visiting Hanoi, says Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's Asian trip is aimed at carrying out President Nixon's policy of making Asians fight Asians, the Vietnam News Agency (VNA) said today.

The VNA, in a dispatch monitored in Tokyo, said Cleaver, Black Panther minister of information, is in Hanoi as head of one of two visiting American delegations.

The two American organizations were identified as the New Mobilization Committee to End the War in Veitnam, headed by Phil Lawson, and the U.S. People's Anti-Imperialist Delegation, headed by Cleaver.

Guilty Plea In Marijuana Case

Martin Gerald Bida, 25, of no known address, pleaded guilty today in Marin Superior Court to a charge of possessing marijuana when arrested last September near Point Reyes Station.

Sentencing was set for Nov. 2.

Sheriff's deputies who arrested Bida said he had a pot plant, the machete and three books on how to raise marijuana in his car.

Injured Bike Rider Off Critical List

Anthon Moreno, 7, of 42 Granada Drive, Corte Madera was reported off the critical list and in fair condition at Marin General Hospital today.

He had been in critical condition from Aug. 16 to yesterday after suffering a fractured skull when his bicycle collided with a car in Corte Madera.

Six Demerits To Sheriff's Inspector

A Marin County sheriff's inspector was slapped with six demerits today by the county safety commission for a March 13 automobile accident.

The commission, however, defeated a move to recommend to Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos that Inspector Kenneth L. Irving be suspended without pay for 10 working days.

The motion to recommend suspension by commission secretary Richard L. Uchida was defeated 5-2 with only Uchida and Wayne Diggs, fleet dispatcher for the county garage in favor.

County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom then moved that a letter be wirtten to Mountanos expressing the commission's concern and directing Mountanos to take whatever disciplinary action he deems necessary.

Uchida alone voted against Bloom's motion.

Irving was given three demerits for lack of judgments and three for excessive speed in wet driving conditions which resulted in an accident at 12:15 a.m. on Nicasio Road.

Irving's patrol car went off the road near Howard Ranch and severed a telephone pole. He left the car there overnight and went home without reporting the accident.

A California Highway Patrolman saw the damaged car the next morning and turned in the accident report. Irving called the highway patrol at 9:45 a.m. to give his statement.

The six demerits opened the way for severe disciplinary action by the sheriff up to and including dismissal from county employment.

Irving's failure to appear before the commission Thursday was explained today by Sheriff's Sgt. Robert Bertrand who said that he had instructed commission secretary Uchida to cancel Thursday's meeting and that he had told Irving that it would not be necessary for him to appear.

Through a mixup the meeting was not canceled.

Irving was accompanied to the meeting today by San Rafael attorney Michael B. Duffiy.

Irving said that he was returning home from a confidential meeting with an informant when the accident occurred. He said it would have taken two hours for the highway patrol to reach the scene, he had a meeting to attend the next morning and decided to go home and contact the highway patrol in the morning.

The police radio in his car was made inoperable by the accident, he said. He added that two times earlier the day of the accident the steering on the car had failed, although Terrence Wolohan, foreman of the county garage, said the steering failures were not reported and that the garage could find nothing wrong with the steering following the accident.

handling the new aid program as well as the $8.9 million in military aid supplied on an emergency basis in May and June.

Officials said the military aid includes small arms and ammunition, trucks and other transport, as well as communications equipment.

The plan for Cambodia is not affected by last week's action in the Senate prohibiting the use of American funds by Thailand or any other country to send "mercenaries" to fight for the Lon Nol government. The $40 million goes directly to Lon Nol.

The State Department has said, and Vice President Spiro T. Agnew repeated at a news conference on Guam Sunday, that the United States "has no commitments" to Cambodia and none is incurred under this agreement. It will be an executive agreement which does not require congressional approval.

The funds will be taken from discretionary money available to the President or diverted from other programs.

U.S. officials today denied assertions that the new aid program for Cambodia would involve the establishment of a large-scale American military mission in Phnom Penh. They said the aid agreement provides for no military advisory group (MAG). Supervision of the modest program, they said, will be handled by military attaches at the American embassy.

Minimum Litter Fine Gains Nod

By I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill setting mandatory minimum fines for litter and allowing judges to sentence litterers to clean up highways won final approval in the closing hours of the 1970 legislative session.

The bill, SB 902 by Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, set a minimum fine of $10 for the first conviction, $25 for the second, and $50 for the third. It went to the governor for his signature into law.

Multiple offenders could be required to pick up litter for four to eight hours.

The Department of Motor Vehicles will keep records on convictions, so that repeat offenders can be detected.

The measure also requires local government to use half of its revenue from the fines for waste cleanup programs.

Israel Picks Eban To Start Mideast Talks In New York

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Israel has named Foreign Minister Abba Eban as its official representative to the Middle East peace talks, clearing the way for the negotiations to begin this week in New York.

At the same time, both Israel and Egypt did some verbal sparring as a prelude to the negotiations.

Premier Golda Meir said Sunday Israel must go into the talks strong. "The first moment of weakness on the part of Israel would be the moment when it will have no friends anywhere," she said. "Our friends have only one choice to make: They cannot choose to make us accept what they believe we cannot and should not accept because we are weak."

And the semiofficial Cairo newspaper Al Ahram said today Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser and Jordan's King Hussein have agreed the 90-day cease-fire and the peace negotiations are no reason to crack down on Palestinian guerrillas or call for the withdrawal of Iraqi troops from Jordanian territory. Neither the guerrillas nor the Iraqis have accepted the cease-fire.

Egypt and Jordan already have named their representatives to the talks, to be held in New York under the auspices of United Nations mediator Gunnar V. Jarring. They are their U.N. ambassadors — Mohamed Hassan El-Zayyat for Egypt and Mohamed El-Farra for Jordan.

ABBA EBAN
Israel spokesman

Israel had wanted to start the talks at the foreign ministers level, but finally solved the problem by naming Eban as its official negotiator and then saying U.N. Ambassador Josef Tekoah had been deputized to represent him at the opening negotiations.

Mrs. Meir, speaking to the closing banquet of the 20th anniversary conference of the International Israel Bond Drive, said Israel's friends "would be with us only so long as we and you are together and are strong together."

She said her nation entered the peace talks "with all sincerity and desire that they end with peace agreement" but added "we will not accept a makeshift peace, we will not accept something that has no connection with peace, and we should be expected to receive as peace."

She said the Egyptians and Syrians are "no problem," but that the Soviet Union was behind them "with all its great, brutal power."

"We have no reason for war with the Russians . . . but we are an obstinate, hard-necked people," she said.

Al Ahram, reporting on the talks between Nasser and Hussein which ended Sunday, said they agreed on the necessity of "complete coordination" between them at the forthcoming talks.

Agreement also was reached that "the Palestinian resistance movement should be safeguarded by every available means regardless of the failure of some Palestinian groups to understand the calculations of international politics."

INFORMATION — Col. P. Lee Mason has been named information officer for the Sixth Army at the Presidio of San Francisco. He will be responsible for information programs in eight western states.

Hub Council Sets Approval Of Budget

The council will hear a report on flood control from Donald Frost, county director of public works.

Racist Brawling Rocks U.S. Gls In West Berlin

BERLIN (UPI) — A brawl between dozens of Negro and white American soldiers took place in a U.S. Army barracks in West Berlin last week, an Army spokesman reported today.

The spokesman for the West Berlin garrison said the brawl erupted Thursday night at McNair barracks. The fight started between two white and two black soldiers and others quickly joined in.

The soldiers stoned military police when they intervened. One policeman and seven other soldiers were hospitalized with injuries.

The Berlin brawl was the latest of a series of incidents between Negro and white American soldiers in Germany. Army sources said tension has been fanned by the increasing influence of Black Power organizations in the Army.

Pot Testing Shows Shift In Thinking

CHICAGO (UPI)—Male medical college students became less precise in their thinking after smoking marijuana, an article in the American Medical Association Journal said today.

The article, by two doctors and a researchers from the Lafayette Clinic in Detroit, reports on a study of 10 healthy male freshmen medical students who had smoked marijuana before.

Dr. Ernest A. Rodin, Dr. Edward F. Dominio and James P. Porzak said the students had smoked marijuana for more than a year before the tests. They were given as many marijuana cigarettes as they wanted in the laboratory, until they reached their usual subjective "high," the article said.

"The findings of neurological examination, except for mental status, remained completely normal," the report said. "There was no evidence of ataxia (loss of muscular coordination) or impairment of cortical sensation."

The artcle said, however, "thinking appeared to be altered in a very subtle fashion" after the marijuana was smoked. "Associations had become somewhat looser, there was an excess of jocularity and the prosody of language tended to show a slight sing-song type pattern."

The medical students' thinking 'lost some of its preciseness," the article said.

The researchers found the "pleasure derived from the use of the drug is probably due not only to enhanced sensory impressions, but also to a decrease in critical judgment and loosening of inhibitions."

New Use Urged For Old Mint

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The abandoned U.S. mint at Fifth and Mission streets in San Francisco could be converted into a federal courthouse and museum, a congressional committee says.

Five members of the House Interior Subcommittee on National Parks and Recreation visited the 1869 structure Sunday and declared it appeared sturdy.

Teen-Agers Draw Movies

By WAYNE RATLIFF

SOUND EFFECTS — Peter Merrill (left) directs recording of the sound sequence for their animated cartoon, while Richard DeFord operates tape recorder. Michael Terry uses the water can as an echo chamber and John Merrill holds the duck that must quack on cue. The recording was done outdoors to capture such natural noises as birds and wind.

Most of us, when we were children, played with comic flip-books with pictures that seemed to move when pages were flipped by rapidly — and promptly forgot them along with other toy fads.

A group of Novato tee-agers didn't forget them, however. Interest in flip-books led them to interest, and growing knowledge and ability, in making animated movies.

John Merrill, now 14, started making small flip-books three years ago when he was in the fifth grade. Soon he and several classmates were making larger flip-books with more complicated actions.

In November of 1968, after seeing a television show on animation, he and his brother Peter, one year older than he, began making drawings on paper for their first animated movie. They and several of their friends have been working on increasingly sophisticated animated movies since then.

John and Peter's parents, Councilman and Mrs. Douglas M. Merrill of 2060 Vineyard Road, bought them a movie camera for Christmas in 1968, and the boys began photographing their drawings with a simple tripod and homemade frame as their only other equipment.

Making animated movies is complicated business, even for well-equipped professionals wil years of training and experience; and the boys were dissatisfied at first with the jerky appearance and uneven coloring of their movies.

They gathered information from television shows, encyclopedias, magazines and technical books in animation and soon had assembled and built equipment to allow them to make much more polished movies, with sound and even an experimental effect very similar to three-dimensional photography with a single-lens camera.

They now have their camera mounted on a frame from an old enlarger above a work table they designed and built themselves to allow them to use fixed or sliding backgrounds and middlegrounds on plastic so that only the moving protions of a scene need to be redrawn.

They bought an old movie editor at a rummage sale and a projector that has equipment for recording synchronized sound track on the film.

Movies they have made include two drawn on paper, with each part of each drawing reproduced for each frame. The first was "Easter Special," a simple cartoon about a railroad train. The other was a collection of five cartoon sequences involving characters they created themselves . . . a rat, two cats, a turtle and four ducks they modeled after family pets.

Their next movie, "Defeat," a story of a flying saucer invasion, was done partially with animation and partially with live photography; and they did some experimental work using pipe-cleaner puppets instead of drawings and animation.

Peter and two classmates made a movie for a science project, and all three boys earned "A" grades for their efforts. The movie, "Time and Space," demonstrates relationships between time and space. The classmates, Joseph Huffaker, 14, of 14 Fleetwood Court, and Joseph Lusk, 14, of 2040 Vineyard Road, and Peter spent about 100 hours and $23 on the project. They plan now to add narration to the film, which was made without sound.

Three of the boys' films have been entered in the 1970 Kodak Teen-age Movie Contest, and the current project is a 30-minute movie for the 1971 contest. The movie, named "Abacaveny" after the popular song "Abergavenny," is an adventure story about a frog and his turtle sidekick who are kidnapped and carried to a tropical island by pirates searching for gold.

The story has been plotted on the boys' story board — a wall of their studio — and parts of the sound track have been recorded and accompanying animations and backgrounds drawn.

Peter is the producer and John an animator for the film. Chief animator is Richard DeFord, 13, of 728 Sun Lane. Michael Terry, 13, of 18 Western Drive, has a voice part and helps in tracing and painting in the animation drawings.

Peter, who hopes to become a producer of animated movies for his career, said he works on them because "It's fun. I like working on the technical things."

John, Richard and Mike said they also hope to work as animators.

Being somewhat removed from normal movie circles, the boys have developed their own technical vocabulary. Films, for example, are uncut movies or movies that aren't worth looking at.

"Sometimes they mistakenly put a film in a movie theater," said Peter, "and people walk out on it. Don't say we make films."

The only project they plan beyond completion of "Abacaveny" and adding a sound track to "Time and Space" is an adaptation of a children's book entitled Anatole over Paris, about the adventures of a mouse family flying over Paris on a kite, the boys said.

Home Is Flooded During Vacation

A San Anselmo home was flooded while the occupants were on vacation, causing extensive water damage upstairs and downstairs, San Anselmo firemen reported yesterday.

Firemen said a water pipe broke in the upstairs at the home of John Mlodzianowski at 330 Fawn Drive, and was discovered yesterday by Mlodzianowski's father.

The family has been on vacation about a week, and the pipe apparently had been broken for several days, firemen said.

Five Petalumans Face Marijuana Prosecutions

Three Petalumans have been arrested on suspicion of selling marijuana to an undercover agent in Walnut Park, Petaluma.

Booked into Sonoma County Jail were Douglas Rayford Farley, 18, of 312 Coronado Drive, accused of possesion, sale and cultivation of marijuana; David Eli Ortiz, 27, of 1279 Ponderosa Drive, on possession and sale of marijuana; and Joseph Henry Norton, 19, of 470 Lohrman Lane, on cultivation and possession of marijuana.

They were scheduled for arraignment today in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court.

Police said two Petaluma youths were arrested last night on drug charges after a routine traffic stop on Western Avenue.

Steven Edward O'Shea, 15, of 855 Schuman Lane, was arrested on suspicion of possession and being under the influence of marijuana. Steven John Lafranchi, 16, of 717 B Street, was arrested on suspicion of possession of marijuana.

Ferry Breakdown No Joke; It Was A 'Heartbreaker'

Some may have thought it something of a joke on the Golden Gate Bridge District when the new Sausalito-San Francisco ferryboat broke down on its first day of regular commute operation.

For decades the bridge board has been a typical governmental body in the sense that it talks, studies, consults, talks, studies, consults, and does very little.

IT FINALLY went into the ferry business.

This was quite remarkable. The odds were against it. Many thought it could not happen on schedule.

The bridge board did not take final action to clear the way until Aug. 14. But the action was taken and the way cleared before the deadline.

Feeder bus service was operating to and from the ferry. New parking lots were ready.

THE LOSS OF an engine on the first day of regular commute service under the circumstances, was not a joke but, as Luehring said, truly "a real heartbreaker."

Luehring and all the others who worked so diligently to get the service started on schedule, have our sympathy and strongest hopes that there will be no further lapses in service.

Higher Tire Standards Needed

We keep reading notices of recall of automobiles for inspection of possible deficiencies which might render them unsafe under some conditions.

If you have a car that has a flaw, which would make it unsafe to operate in a way which you would expect to operate it, recall for inspection and rectification if necessary is a Godsend.

Now the U.S. Transportation Department is proposing that tire manufacturers set up a system of recording the name and address of each tire buyer so that tires with possible flaws can be recalled effectively.

Again, if you have a tire which may have a flaw that would make it unsafe, recall and possible replacement or repair is a Godsend.

But all of this record keeping and recalling and inspecting tens of thousands in order to hunt for perhaps a few score of defective units is terribly expensive.

Increasingly, it is becoming a regular cost of auto and tire manufacturing. This cost is passed along to the customer. Prices rise even higher.

Somehow it doesn't seem right that the customers should pay for the errors of the manufacturer.

The government keeps inspectors at slaughter houses to insure that the product meets required standards for human use. Why not government inspectors in auto and tire factories for the same purpose?

Planners' Reports Are Borders Between Ho-Hums And Ho-Hums

PETERZELL

Tons of reports by planners cross our desk, most struggling successfully for archival oblivion, but few match the beaut the Association of Bay Area Governments came up with this month.

Planners usually try to embellish their startling rediscoveries of bald truths, but occasionally slip and express themselves clearly enough to reveal that they have said nothing.

ABAG's study of the ocean coastline, for example, found the following: "The Pacific Ocean dominates the coastline in many ways. The shore and the adjacent uplands owe much of their materials and form to the action of the ocean."

OR HOW ABOUT this one: "For recreational purposes alone, the coastal zone is unique . . . These (population) pressures are generally growing on all coastal recreational resources and there is danger of overuse for some." Yep, the beaches sure are crowded.

Some others: "Accelerated urbanization of the Bay Area, notably since the 1940s, has produced a scarcity of developable land and increasing pressures for development."

But the absolute topper was the bold declaration that "an important factor in the history of the coastline is that it is a boundary between land and water.

Who could dispute this?

But who could dispute that taxpayers' money has not been spent well spinning out this silliness! Whatever value such a report has is effectively masked by burning up a lot of useless words.

INEPT HANDLING of a major environmental problem in the legislature belied the Reagan administration's claim of concern about such problems.

At issue was the need to consider the environmental effects of electric power plant sites. The administration had drafted fairly worthy legislation to create a statewide commission to investigate such effects. No matter that it would have been tailored to the power companies' requirements — this objectionable feature was cured by a key amendment.

BUT THE administration gave the bill to Assemblyman John V. Briggs, R-Fullerton. His credentials as one of the less effective legislators was proved again as he fumbled the bill from one committee to another until it finally drowned last week. Virtually everyone condemned it by then for the string of amendments Briggs hastily drew to try to appease everyone.

The administration's decision to give the task to Briggs apparently was designed to win some points with the conservatives, since Briggs usually sits pretty far out on the starboard wing.

But if the administration is serious about such a measure, it may want to find another author next year. It'll take a tough fight to get the bill, and it will need a legislator who knows how to argue both on his feet and with his colleagues.

AS CITED BY the Sierra Club, the present system for power planning "Has broken down because of two flaws — it assumes that the supply can keep doubling every seven to 10 years, and it assumes that environmental concerns should not be a major concern in power planning.

The culb's executive director. Michael McCloskey, in a letter to President Richard M. Nixon. warned that "environmental concerns are not merely a matter of sentiment — they are basic to keeping our environment habitable."

Cartoon Belongs On Comic Page

Too bad that you permit the monstrosities perpetrated by the "artistic" pen of C. Hugh Haynie to obtrude into the quiet absorption and consquent appreciation of your always timely, thoughtful and ever to-the-point editorials.

Political cartoons, to be effective, should be subtle, appealing to the mind of the thinker. The monsters portrayed by this cartoonist, who is a master of masochism, cater to the tastes of the sensation seeker. The one of Aug. 17 is a good example of his type of vulgarity.

Mini-Bike Riders Must Follow Rules

Re Brad Weber's letter which appeared Aug. 19 (Boys Hunt Spot to Ride Mini-Bikes), I suggest that he ask the salesmen, dealers and firms which sell mini-bikes to tell him where he can ride. I believe they should let the prospective buyer (either adult or child) know BEFORE purchase what the legal operation restrictions are, and also suggest where owners can legally operate these vehicles.

Too often mini-bikes have been purchased by affluent parents as a new "toy" for children too young to have a driver's license. Then, after they have this "toy", they become angry with the police and ordinary citizens who object when unlicensed drivers operate these vehicles in places where it is unlawful to do so. If a mini-bike is purchased, it is the owner's responsibility to find a place to legally use it, or else suffer the consequences.

Print Full Text Of Major Speeches

I have been accumulating BOUQUETS and BRICK BATS on I-J publishings during the past few months.

BOUQUETS — For including the full speeches by President Nixon on Cambodia and Governor Reagan on closing the colleges. It is not easy to gather the full meaning of any speech given over the radio or on T.V. in one sitting. Reading the text afterwards makes it possible for every interested citizen to check accuracies. The news media for years have so badly chopped and quoted out of context important public utterances, they are no longer worth reading. Radio and T.V. commentators are equally as bad. I hope you will make it your policy to give the text of all important public speeches.

BRICK BATS to the press on publishing Nixon's statement on the Munson trial. It is easy to understand how some foolish young reporter might badger the President into making a remark that could ruin months of a costly trial, but the editors are supposed to be reasonably intelligent and able to sift out such thoughtless reporting as a service to the public. Freedom of the press or any other kind carries the responsibility of judgment.

BRICKBATS to George Nevin on his interview with Threlkeld (Aug. 20). The Defense Department in its "Pocket Guide to Vietnam" gives the following breakdown on Vietnam religions. Of 14 million people there are approximately: 1,500,000 Catholics; 500,000 other Christian religions; 1,000,000 Animists — worshipers of gods of soil, river, etc.; 1,500,000 Cao Dai — mixture of Eastern and Western religions; 1,000,000 Hoa Hao — (founded 1939 contains elements of magic and Buddahism); 4,000,000 Confucianists -- peasant level simple ancestor-worshipers; 500,000 Taoists; 500,000 Hindus and Muslims.

Total 10.5 million leaving 3.5 million Buddhists and those with no religion at all. Nevin either misunderstood Threlkeld when he said some 85 per cent were Buddhists, or he forgot to do his home work before publishing his article.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

LAID LOW by an attack of flu just two months before he died, the famous author, Somerset Maugham, was disturbed in his Cape Ferrat home by a female admirer who phoned to ask, "May I send you a basket of fruit — or would you rather have flowers?" Replied the ailing old Maugham, "It's too late, I fear, for fruit, my dear — and too early for flowers."

FABLE: A very rich old man, realizing that his days were numbered, summoned his three sons to his bedside and told them, "I'm going to leave the greater part of my fortune to the son who can prove he's most qualified to preserve and even increase it. There are are three identical rooms on the first floor of this house. I want each of you to fill every nook and cranny of one room. Use any commodity that you wish, but the task must be completed by 1:00 p.m. today."

The first son chose to fill a room with sand. The second used straw. Neither, unfortunately, was able to meet the 1:00 p.m. deadline.

Meanwhile, Son Number Three appeared to be doing nothing. At five minutes to one, he wheeled his ailing father into his room, raised the shades, and let the glorious sun fill every corner with light and brightness. The father shaded his eyes and beamed, "My boy, you are the one who has shown yourself most worthy of inheriting the bulk of my fortune."

Soviet Union Took Greater Risks In Reconciliation With Bonn

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — The Soviets must have wanted their new treaty with Bonn very badly to accept the risks it brings to its Eastern European empire.

Some in the West feared that West Germany's reconciliation with Russia would weaken the NATO alliance by drawing the most powerful NATO ally in Western Europe toward the Svoiet orbit.

The evidence points the other way.

It is the Soviet Union which will have to worry about its Eastern European satellite being drawn into the economic and political orbit of West Germany and Western Europe.

MOSCOW HAD TO CHOOSE the lesser of two risks to get the treaty. It chose to risk something of its tight grip over Eastern Europe to improve its relations with the West at a time of ominously deteriorating relations with Red China.

This had to be the overriding reason. The Soviets at last made peace with West Germany.

On the favorable side, Moscow will get needed credits and expanded trade with West Germany. It also gets Bonn's acceptance of all of Europe's postwar boundaries plus a pledge never to try to alter them by force. But this settlement of border isues only puts into treaty what already existed in reality. This is because Bonn, a nonnuclear power, could never challenge the nuclear might of the Soviets.

BUT WHAT BONN has really won is the freedom to develop fuller economic and political ties with every one of the Soviet satellites in Eastern Europe?

This is what West Germany wants. This is what the Eastern European Communist states want above all because it means greater political independence from Moscow and decreased economic dependonce on Moscow.

This has been a foremost objective of Willy Brandt from long before he became chancellor. He could not move in this direction until Moscow was willing to say yes.

It finally did so by accepting a treaty provision pledging both Bonn and Moscow to work for "peaceful relations among all the European states."

RUMANIA, HUNGARY, Czechoslovakia and Poland can't wait to begin. They eagerly welcome the new deal as a reliable, even if reluctant signal that they are now free to develop their own expanded "peaceful relations" with the West German economic power center.

They are proceeding to do so. They know that they are economically laggadr. They want Western capitalist know-how even if it means adapting their Communist system to it.

THE NEW PULL will be in the direction of the West and many believe, a drift toward "national communism" which the Soviets have never relished. Only East Germany is holdnig back for fear the magnet of Western freedom may undermine its unpopular Communist regime. But its dictator, Walter Ulbricht, could not dissuade the Soviets from giving Brandt what he asked.

Brandt proved to be a powerful and effective negotiator. He was able to exact two extra concessions from Moscow — a guarantee that the new treaty would not exclude reunification of Germany by peaceful means and a promise that the Soviets would apply the nonaggression agreement to West Berlin. He won the latter by boldly telling the Soviets that he would not ask the Bundestag to ratify the treaty until a mechanism is established to insure secure access to West Berlin.

IT WORKED and now the Soviets will have to lean on Ulbricht to help bring it about. As the Sino-Soviet dispute continues to fester, we now have the Bonn-Moscow agreement, progress of the nuclear arms talks and Moscow's support for the U.S. peace initiative in the Middle East. This is evidence that the Soviets must have decided they must have detente with the West as their conflict with Red China becomes more perilous.

Congress Leaders, Soviet Aide Discuss Arms Talk

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — As off-the-record background for assessing the arms limitation talks and voting on military procurement questions, some congressional leaders have taken the opportunity to talk informally with one of Moscow's policy planners.

Amid the controversy over missile defenses and their relation to the SALT talks, a number of lawmakers have had interviews with Russian Col. V.M. Kulish (ret.). Kulish is visiting the United States under one of the State Department's cultural exchange programs.

Wounded in the battle of Moscow, Kulish turned to the study of history after World War II. He is presently assigned as director of the International Relations Division of the Institute of World Economics and International Relations which is operated by the USSR Academy of Sciences.

Participants in the Kulish interviews report that he has talked freely and openly about such issues as the anti-ballistic missile and the arms limitation talks. He is said to have urged that the U.S. lawmakers give him their candid views in return.

In at least one of his Washington interviews, Kulish is said to have intimated that his report of U.S. attitudes, based on his talks and travels here, will go directly to Andrei Gromyko, the Soviet Foreign Minister, on his return to Moscow.

He is reported to have told one congressional leader, for example, that the Safeguard ABM system poses no particular problem for Soviet policy planners. That would appear to go along with the view expressed by some U.S. scientists that Safeguard will not work and is a meaningless addition to U.S. defenses.

On the other hand, Kulish is said to have told one lawmaker that Safeguard complicates the Kremlin's problems because, in a Russian first strike against U.S. missile silos, it might successfully protect enough ICBMs to leave the United States with a clear strategic superiority.

IN THAT DISCUSSION, Kulish is reported to have taken issue with the idea, which he attributed to U.S. military planners, that an initial missile exchange would be decisive in any nuclear war between the major world powers.

If it is true that he will report directly to top-level Kremlin leaders, Kulish will have had an opportunity, in his talks with congressional leaders, to get an accurate reading of the opposing forces at work in Congress and at the American grassroots.

THERE IS, however, always the question of how much credence will be given to his comments if they do reach top officials in Moscow. There is no guarantee that a similar visitor to Moscow would get much attention in official Washington.

Would Secretary of State William Rogers pay close attention to a McGeorge Bundy returning to the United States after a similar stay in Moscow? Would Dean Rusk have done so?

Marin Court Calendars Crowded; Burden Falling On Fewer Judges

"Happy New Year, counselor."

"Merry Christmas, your honor."

Judges and lawyers in Marin courts haven't quite been trading such greetings with each other, but they do act a bit startled when they realize they are agreeing to hold misdemeanor trials in 1971, already.

It isn't yet Labor Day, much less Thanksgiving, but the courts calendars are getting fantastically crowded on all levels.

The slyaing of Superior Judge Harold F. Haley means the four remaining superior court judges must divide the burden of his schedule among themselves. They're trying to juggle the calendar to salvage some vacation time.

The problem prodded Superior Court Judge Thomas F. Keating to worry out loud last week, when a murder trial session was delayed more than an hour to take care of other business piled-up in court.

"I'M SORRY," apologized the Judge, "I don't know how we can get this trial started on time. I don't know what they expect us to do" to keep up with the increasing load.

Municipal Court Judge Peter Allen Smith said the lower courts also face major worries. With Judge Hadden W. Roth retiring from the bench a week from tomorrow, there still is no appointee in sight to fill the vacancy.

Even if appointed today, it would still take time for a new judge to clear up his affairs and break in on the court routine, Judge Smith warned. When Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. leaves the bench the end of the year, the judge elected to take his place also will have to learn the court ropes.

EITHER WAY, Smith will face a pretty heavy burden as the only experienced judge in the three-department muni court.

Another query intriguing Civic Center people-watchers is: who might succeed Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales if Bales should be appointed to the seat left open by Judge Haley's death?

BALES WON election to another four-year term last June, and would begin his new term next January, if not named to the courtroom post.

If the district attorney job comes up vacant between now and next January, it's up to the county board of supervisors to appoint Bales' successor. But, according to Dep. County Counsel Thomas G. Hendricks, it would be a two-year post, rather than four years. An election would have to be held in November 1972.

THE JUDGESHIP question hinges on Gov. Ronald Reagan's actions.

If he appoints heroic Assist. Dist. Atty. Gary W. Thomas to Roth's vacant muni courtroom, he probably won't want to do so until Thomas is well on the road to recovery and nearly ready to come to work. It means that Judge David R. Baty of the West Marin Judicial District is likely to continue coming into the Hall of Justice several days a week.

He has been on the muni bench during recent weeks, while Judge Goldstein has been on vacation.

Back to Bales' possible replacement: Over a cup of coffee the other morning, the district attorney was musing that for the first time in years, practically every one of his deputies is well seasoned in the office duties.

EVEN DISCOUNTING the possibility that Dep. Dist. Atty. Ernest C. Zunino wins the November runoff for Goldstein's bench, and appointment of Gary Thomas to Roth's courtroom, there remains at least four deputies with more than six years' experience each, Bales noted.

Communicating Is A Good Thing But It Might Not Always Work

During the last few moments of geological time, a curious creature came to earth and swarmed all over it. Homo Sapiens it calls itself. And says it with a straight face too.

It has variously described itself as "the political animal," "the only animal that smiles," "the animal that cooks his victuals," "the only animal that can make an ass of himself," "God's most noticeable mistake," etc.

YOU MIGHT ALSO say this creature is the only one who has elevated into a passion the desire to escape from his world and to turn away with a shudder from its harshness.

Now these one-line sketches of nature's paradox may or may not be accurate, but it's apparent he's the only creature who believes what he wants to believe and then supplies himself with reasons why.

And a nifty little process it is, called rationalizing.

LAST WEEK I wrote a little piece about the readiness of most of us to dodge unpleasant conditions, undesireable situations and problemsome issues. One of the techniques is rationalizing.

When we utilize reason to construct a rational framework around our desires when the foundation rests on quicksand, or to "prove" what we want to believe, then we're practicing self-deceit — a dishonesty with our own selves, if you will, and not much else. And once the habit is formed, it becomes increasingly more difficult to know when you're rationalizing and when you're not.

LET'S TAKE THIS as an example. It has been said in so many different ways and so often that it has become a commonly accepted assumption, the secret to solving many of our problems — personal to global — is in improving communications. "We must learn to communicate," or, "Improve our communication." This seems to be the keystone to all felicitous relationships.

This happy thought finds ready and wide acceptance largely because we wish it were true and wishing it were true, we believe it. Finding it a comforting and a pleasant idea, we grasp it without troubling to examine it beyond the surface level.

THERE'S NO DENYING that communication between individuals and groups is vital, but communication by itself, will not necessarily result in trust, respect, love and all the other qualities essential to a harmonious relationship. Communication won't cause suspicion, distrust and hate to fade away if the opposing views are anathematic to each other. Communicating with someone whose views are wicked and dangerous is not likely to produce feelings of benevolence and well-being for him, unless, of course, you happen to share his views — or you happen to be an idiot.

Understanding Hitler wouldn't have caused me to love him or to have brimming good will toward him nor would my suspicion of him have lessened.

IF THROUGH communicating you gain an insight into the hell of another's twisted mentality, love isn't likely to result.

To believe that communication is the solution — the happy road to everlasting harmony, is just another case of dodging grim reality. It is important to communicate. Let's not depracate that for it is the prelude to understanding. But communication, by itself, is not the panacea of all ills. It's a tool, nothing more. Sometimes it works, sometimes it doesn't.

Tax Rate Vote, Bond Issue On Board Agenda

The Novato Sanitary District board will meet to consider adoption of a 1970-71 preliminary operations budget of $297,000 at 6 p.m. today at the North Marin County Water District office.

Dist. Mgr. Charles A. Joseph said he expects the budget to produce a tax rate increase of approximately 2 cents per $100 assessed valuation over the current rate of 31.5 cents if no changes are made.

The board will also discuss setting a date for a special election of a $5.5 million bond issue to make sewage treatment improvements necessary to meet requirements of the Bay Area Regional Water Quality Control Board.

Hospital Panel To Hear Report

Directors of the Marin Hospital District will receive a report tomorrow on the need for a halfway house for discharged patients from the Community Mental Health Center.

Dr. John S. Guerrant, interim director of the center, will outline the need for a facility for patients between the time they are discharged from the center and when they return to their homes.

The board will also consider approving an application to the American Cancer Society for a demonstration grant for a "continuity of care" program for cancer patients between hospital and home.

The hospital board will meet for dinner at 6 p.m. in the Marin General Hospital cafeteria prior to the 7 p.m. meeting in the hospital's Coral Room.

Lagunitas Panel To Discuss Equipment

A policy on use of district facilities and equipment will be discussed at 7:30 p.m. today at a meeting of the Lagunitas School District board in San Geronimo Valley School.

Discussion of district educational goals and evaluation is also on the board's agenda.

Measure it for economy. Measure it for roominess. Measure it for quietness and spirited performance.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

Little Harder Effort Needed In Playing Tournament Bridge

A suit that's good enough to bid is usually good enough to lead, and when a player fails to lead his bid suit, you may reasonably suspect that he has led a singleton. In today's hand South couldn't be sure of the nature of the opening lead, but he had no other chance for his contract.

TOURNEY PLAY

West led the jack of diamonds, and declarer expected to lose two diamonds and a heart. This would be bad enough at rubber bridge, but in that game, South could hope to recover by getting an even better hand on the next deal. In tournament bridge you can't recover so easily. Therefore Mario Acquavella, playing the South hand during Bridge Week (a regional tournament held last month in Los Angele), tried a little harder.

Put yourself in declarer's place. You correctly suspect that the jack of diamonds was a singleton. How would you play to make five clubs? Decide for yourself before readingon.

DRAWS TRUMPS

Acquavella began by drawing two rounds of trumps. There, that wasn't hard, was it? Next he took the top spades and ruffed his last spade in dummy. And then he led a heart from dummy, giving up the king to West's ace.

West naturally continued with the queen of hearts, and declare rdiscarded one of his two loss ing diamonds. This play couldn't cost anythnig even if West did have another diamond.

OUT OF DIAMONDS

As it happened, West had no more diamonds. Whether West led a spade or a heart (and West had only spades and hearts), dummy would ruff while South discarded his last losing diamonds.

AILY QUESTION

ANSWER: ass.

The singleton king of hearts shoudl not be counted at its full value. You would have a borderline opening bid in this aceless hand if one of the low diamonds were a low heart.

The moonis between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Mars and Saturn. The evening stars are Mercury, Venus and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 79 A.D. thousands of people were killed and the cities of Pompei and Herculaneum buried by the eruption of volcanic Mt. Vesusvius in Italy.

In 1814 the British captured Washington, D.C., burning the Capitol and the executive mansion.

In 1932 Amelia Earhart became the first woman to stop flight.

In 1968 France detonated a hydrogen bomb in the South Pacific.

A thought for the day: Robert Southwell said, "When fortune smiles, I smile to think how quickly she will frown."

Shortened Jet Runways Sought

SUNNYVALE (UPI) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration is spending $7.2 million trying to shorten the length of runways needed by jetliners.

Boeing Company of Seattle is getting a $4.2 million contract to develop a wing-flap system and Dehavilland of Canada $3 million to produce a demonstration aircraft, NASA's Ames Research center said Sunday.

Boeing will atempt to use carefully aimed jets of air at high-velocity to break up the turbulence that usually destroys the effectiveness of highest-lift flap settings.

Building Values Off Last Month

The Marin County Chamber of Commerce and Visitors reported a total of $4,791,975 in permits — about 69 per cent for residential construction. Slightly over two-thirds of the latter was for duplexes and apartments.

June construction totaled $4,814,147. Figures for July of last year totaled over $8 million.

Greatest activity was in the San Rafael incorporated and unincorporated areas with a total of $1,428,705. Over $1 million of this applied to residential permits, of which 84 per cent were in Marinwood and Lucas Valley.

The Belvedere-Tiburon peninsula accounted for $729,560 — 81 per cent of this residential. Mill Valley permits totaled $657,803 — 82 per cent residential. Novato permits toaled $636,855 — almost 85 per cent residential.

Sausalito's $481,135 was 83 per cent commercial. Kentfield and Greenbrae totaled $243,550 almost equally divided between residential and miscellaneous permits. Larkspur had $65,010 — about half of it residential. Corte Madera's total of $55,487 was over 50 per cent residential.

In Fairfax the $55,100 total was 60-per cent residenial. All of the $21,700 recorded for Ross was commercial, as was most of San Anselmo's $12,526.

In West Marin and other unincorporated areas, permits totaled 404,544, 79 per cent of it residential.

Total permits so far during 1970 are slightly over $30 million — almost $7 million behind he corresponding period of 1969.

Prices Rise Sharply In Market

Near the start of the fiscal hour the Dow Jones industrial average of 30 selected blue chips had soared 12.05 to 757.46. Advances held a lopsided lead on declines, 1,134 to 238, among the 1,564 issues traded.

The four-hour volume of 13,390,000 shares was up sharply from the 9,600,000 shares in the comparable period Friday. The first-hour volume of 5,610,000 shares was the heaviest in an opening hour since the 5,650,000 that changed hands on May 28.

New Company's Byword: Accuracy

LOS GATOS, (UPI) — A wealth of laser, electronic, holographic and precision instrument technology has been drawn together to form a new company whose products will be accurate to within a millionth of an inch.

The initial instruments produced by the Holograf Corp. will be used in precision manufacturing industries and extended later to other high precision angular and linear mechanisms.

NEW LINCOLN CONTINENTAL

The 1971 Lincoln Continental is a different looking car from the first Lincoln that went on sale 50 years ago, boasting such refinements as a bud vase, mohair upholstery and revolutionary lubrication fittings to replace grease cups. New standard features for 1971 are air conditioning with automatic temperature control, tinted glass and several engineering improvements. The Continental will appear next month in showrooms of Marin Bay Lincoln-Mercury, San Rafael, and Larry Brink Motors, Mill Valley.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Champion Excellent Mobile Homes Stock

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I am interested in investing in a mobile home stock. Champion Home Builders has been recommended. Would you advise this? — V. S.

A. One of the most effectively managed companies in the mobile home industry, Champion has experienced steady sales growth since its beginning. In 1959 sales amounted to only $9.6 million. However, this figure increased nearly ten-fold to $90.2 million for the fiscal year ended February, 1970. Moreover, Champion's growth strides continued to be maintained this year despite trying economic conditions and slower mobile home sales, industrywide. For the initial fiscal quarter ended May 31, net income surged ahead to $1.27 million, or 36 cents a share, from $1 million, or 29 cents, in the comparable year earlier period.

Q. I am now getting 5½ per cent on my capital. Can I safely increase my income by investing in government bonds? My friend has invested half in tax-free U.S. government bonds and half in common stock. Would you advise me to do the same? — L. N.

A. First let me correct one impression; income from U.S. Treasurey bonds, notes and bills, while exempt from state, local and city taxes, is not free from federal income tax. Regardless of the quality of the particular issue there is always an element of risk and possibility of capial loss involved in common stock investment. In our circumstances, I think this is a risk you should not assume. You can, however, with complete peace of mind, increase your annual return by about 2 per cent by investing three-fifths of your capital in U.S. Treasury notes.

VACATIONING VULTURE

A tame turkey vulture which showed up at a Terra Linda home last week sits calmly on the hand of Craig Stine, 18, of 132 Esmeyer Drive, Terra Linda. The bird, with a five-foot wingspread, gave Doris Overmyer of 750 Appleberry Drive "quite a shock" when she looked up from her ironing and saw the vulture sitting in her yard. Stine, a friend of a neighbor of Mrs. Overmyer, volunteered to care for the bird until its owner is found. (Independent-Journal photo)

Sausalito School Aide Dismissal Hearing Set

Dismissal of Gabe Jackson, educational aide in the Sausalito School District, will be considered by district trustees today at 7:30 p.m. in Bayside School.

Although Supt. Robert E. Spain declined to identify the person in the agenda item, "dismissal of employee," the Independent-Journal learned it was Jackson's job which was in jeopardy.

Jackson has been with the district five years and served as community worker for most of that period. Earlier this year, the job was cut for budget reasons and he was retained as an educational aide. On Aug. 1, the post was reinstated by the board but there was no indication Jackson would fill the job.

Jackson was in the East visiting his critically ill mother and could not be reached for comment.

The school board will also consider adoption of a course of study for 1970-71 and hear an evaluation of last year's programs prepared by Dr. Staten Webster, professor of education at the University of California at Berkeley.

July Bond Sales Off From July, 1969 Total

Sales of U.S. Savings Bonds in Marin County during July totaled $132,465, a drop of $2,977 from July 1969, county chairman William P. Murray Jr. has announced.

Murray said statewide sales during July totaled $32,453,753, compared with $28,695,447 for July 1969.

Romanians Ignore Russ' 1944 Role

VIENNA (UPI) — Romania this weekend marked its 26th anniversary of liberation from Nazi Germany but official accounts of the celebration left out all mention of the decisive role played in 1944 by the Soviet Union.

Agerpres, the official news service, said Communist party leader and chief of state Nicolae Ceausescu and Premier Ion Gheorghe Maurer were in the main reviewing stand during Sunday's three-hour military parade in Bucharest.

A sign with the years "1944-1970" and the Romanian coat of arms was displayed on the main reviewing stand in Aviators' Square. Other stands carried mostly patriotic slogans, according to the Agerpres report.

Manson 'Harassment' Ruled Out By Judge

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Superior Court Judge Charles H. Older ruled today that there had been no "harrassment" of Charles Manson in his jail quarters at the Tate murder trial and said procedures used by the county were justified to meet the security requirements of the case.

The 35-year-old defendant, who has spent 22 years in jails, had protested that he was mistreated and particularly that he had to talk with prospective witnesses through a thin mesh screen in the cellblock through which he could not see them and could barely hear them.

At a brief session before the jury was brought in for resumption of the regular trial, Older said he had gone to the jail and found that it was easy to see 20 feet through the screen and that a conversation could be carried on with no difficulty whatsoever.

He rejected Manson's motion to order the Los Angeles County Sheriff to cease "harrassment" and refused to order any change in the procedures.

As the trial entered its 11th week, defense attorneys for Manson and his three female co-defendants were expected to question the county coroner on whether any trace of drugs was found in the bodies of four of the victims.

Trailer Offices On San Rafael Planning Agenda

The San Rafael Planning Commission will decide whether to allow trailers to be used as offices at its meeting tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. at city hall.

Also on the agenda will be consideration of the operation permit for the office of Family Therapy Institute, 1353 Lincoln Avenue, which expires in September.

A proposed amendment of the existing use permit of Family Care Facility, 593 oMntecillo Road, to allow a maximum of six children to be cared for at the facility instead of five, will be considered.

Also before the commission will be proposed construction of a three-story, 34-unit apartment building at 216 Marin street.

Visiting Boat Looted Of Radio, Phonograph

A marin band radio, direction finder and phonograph worth a total of $200 were stolen last week from a cabin cruiser owned by Grance Biestman of Orinda while the boat was berthed in the San Francisco Yacht Harbor in Belvedere.

Tiburon sheriff's deputies said the items were taken between Aug. 15 and Aug. 21.

Three Injured By Traffic Accidents

A Corte Madera woman was hospitalized and two other persons treated for minor injuries after three traffic accidents on Marin County highways yesterday, the California Highway Patrol has reported.

Ursel Pries, 22, of 1441 Casa Buena Drive, was reported in satisfactory condition today at Marin General Hospital with a cut chin, bruises and a broken right arm.

The Patrol said she was a passenger in a car driven by Gustaf Woelfle, 41, also of the Corte Madera address. His car collided with one driven by Charles H.E. Harbold, 24, of San Francisco. The accident occurred in heavy traffic on Highway 101 in San Rafael at 1:50 p.m.

Robert B. Melcher, 40, of 299 Cascade Drive, Mill Valley, was treated at the hospital for facial scrapes and cuts after his car left Panoramic Highway west of the Pan Toll ranger station and hit a tree, the patrol said.

Melcher, who did not stop after the 11 p.m. accident, was halted moments later by a state park ranger. He was booked into Marin County Jail on suspicion of driving while under the influence of alcohol, officers said.

Evelyn Scalfini, 31, of 508 The Alameda, San Anselmo, was treated for multiple scrapes and cuts after her car spun out of control and hit a guardrail on Highway 17 east of Highway 101 at 9:40 p.m., the patrol reported.

Firemen Seeking Rummage Items

The Mill Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association is seeking donations for a rummage sale to be held later this year, according to Chief Joseph E. Regalia.

Proceeds will be used in the restoration of the department's 1924 American La France fire truck. The association also seeks old photographs of the truck to help the restoration. The engine will be used in various civic events, Regalia said.

Persons who have items to be picked up should call the fire department, the chief said.

At 85 Alice Paul Continues Fight

By MARGUERITE DAVIS

WASHINGTAN (UPI — A suffragette who has been fighting for women's rights since the early part of this century has a new idea for woman power. She believes one of the two senators from each state should be a woman.

Alice Paul, 85, who led the National Woman's Party when it was founded in 1919, feels that once the proposed constitutional amendment to give equal rights to women has been ratified her party should start working for equal power in Congress.

IN HER OPINION, women will not enjoy real equality until they match men, one-for-one, in the Senate, House and the state legislatures. But first things first. She gives top priority to Senate approval of the equality amendment, and when Miss Paul believes in the importance of an issue she will go far to make her point.

Atlhough Miss Paul is careful to speak tentatively about senate approval of the proposed amendment, persons who have followed her half-century of campaigning for women's rights recognize her as a determined, single-minded crusader.

She was sentenced to six months in jail in Washington in 1917 during the campaign for women's right to vote, and she was something less than neek in accepting the punishment. She went on a 22-day hunger strike, and jail officials had to resort to force-feeding before then-President Woodrow Wilson commuted the sentence.

NOTHING SO drastic appears now. The senate has agreed the proposal may be put to a vote.

Miss Paul, who lives in Ridgefield, Conn., said she drives to New York or Washington when a "crisis" arises such as helping to get the equal rights amendment ratified. She's a dainty woman with curly white hair and bright blue eyes, and on first impression she might seem more at home baking cookies than in a political fight.

SHE HAS ONLY praise for the new crop of women's rights champions. The cut of their hair, the decision of some to forego bras —these and other foibles are unimportant to her when measured against their willingness to work for ratification of the equal rights amendment.

'The Women's Lib has been very cooperative and tried to help when we asked," she said.

The National Women's Party at first had only one purpose—to secure the vote for women. Although victory was theirs on Aug. 26, 1920, the suffragettes didn't stop there. Still operating, the party headquarters are in a big old house on Capitol Hill.

AS A MEMENTO of the day U.S. women got the right to vote, a yellow banner hangs over the stairway of the historic house. The banner, slightly faded now, proclaims in bold red letters: "We demand an amendment to the United States Constitution enfranchising women."

Fifty years later, the party is dedicated to winning yet another victory. Now an equal rights amendment seems the most permanent method of achieving legal equality, Miss Paul said, and the great silent majority of women are demanding this.

Miss Paul, who can smoothly cite the names of the 81 senators who have signed as cosponsors of the legislation, is equally adept rattling off a shorter list of senators who had, not yet, at least, publicly joined the sponsors.

SHE CITED THE 19 senators not now listed as sponsors of the equal rights amendment as Gordon Allott, R-Colo.; Spessard L. Holland, D-Fla.; Richard B. Russell, D-Ga.; James B. Pearson, R-Kas.; Allen J. Ellender and Russell B. Long, D-La.; Democrat Edward M. Kennedy and Republican Edward W. Brooke, of Massachusetts; Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich.; Stuart Symington, D-Mo.; Mike Mansfield and Lee Metcalf, D-Mont.; Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M.; Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y.; Sam J. # It's Never Too Late For Marriage Believe Convalescent Home Couple

Romance is not just for the young, according to Mr. and Mrs. William Wade, who were married Saturday morning at the Bayside Convalescent Hospital in Greenbrae, where they reside. Both are in their mid-70s.

The staff got into the act by helping with the wedding preparations, and a maintenance man, John Allen, performed the ceremony. Reverend Allen is also a minister and a graduate student at the Golden Gate Baptist Seminary in Mill Valley. One of the patients sang "Oh Promise Me," and the reception was arranged by Edward Ryken, executive director of the Marin Senior Coordinating Council.

The couple met in March when the bride, the former Mrs. Eugene Gilmore came to the hospital.

"I fell head over heels in love then," says Mr. Wade.

"He sure did," said his bride.

The new Mrs. Wade was a widow for 15 years. Her late husband owned an iron works in Walla, Walla, Wash., and the couple traveled extensively for many years. They had two daughters, Mrs. George B. Chollar, who lives in Larkspur, and Mrs. Richard Couch, who came from Ann Arbor, Mich., to attend the wedding.

Also attending the wedding was the bridegroom's daughter, Mrs. Bernard Chiaravalle of San Rafael, with whom he lived until coming to the hospital in January. Mr. Wade retired after a 30-year-career in the Army and then operated a variety store in St. Louis. He had been a widower for 10 years.

The newlyweds have many grandchildren.

Plans for the couple's wedding trip have been delayed. They had planned to take a ferry boat ride to San Francisco but will have to wait until the boat is back in operation.

School Records A Private Matter?

Dr. Thomas E. Long, assistant professor of vocational education at Pennsylvania State University, says that while records schools keep on their pupils have swelled, "their care and maintenance is all too often a haphazard affair."

Action is needed to see that records are safeguarded, Long said, because they are often available to a potential employer, a college admissions officer or a policeman.

"In recent years schools have begun to amass a great deal of information about students and their families. In addition to routine data on attendance, grades and test scores, school files may now record which families are on public assistance, the divorce and remarriage of parents or a youngster's mental and physical health problems," Long said.

Long recently served as a consultant to a Russell Sage Foundation conference which developed guidelines to protect the right to privacy of both pupils and parents.

He said that in many cases parents have little idea what school records contain and no way to correct erroneous information in them.

"The Russell Sage guidelines attempt to deal with these problems," he said, "by insisting that schools adopt the fundamental principle that no information be collected from students without the prior, informed consent of the child and his parents.

"In cases involving routine aptitude or achievement testing, legally elected representatives such as a board of education should give their consent."

"Questionnaires for such non-school purposes as medical or social science research, even when the respondents remain anonymous, should always be approved by responsible school officials and the parents notified.

"Not enough attention has been paid to the problem of the invasion of privacy which school files may constitute," Long said. "Parents might do well to ask their local school administrators about what, if any, precautions they have taken in this sensitive area."

Funky Hairstyles

"Think fun-ky for fall," says hairstylist Kenneth, who calls his new contemporary hairstyle short-long hair. It looks long but is actually short layers all over, even down to the shoulder. He cuts it to the shape of the head which determines the line of the style.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Did They Adopt Son To Serve As Insurance For Old Age?

DEAR HELEN:

We adopted a boy from a very deprived family when he was five years old. He would have been nothing without us, but because of the good edcuation we gave him, and the ambition we instilled in him (we put him through high school and he worked his way through college), he has turned out very successful.

He now has good job in California. We would like to retire early and live in the west. His apartment will hold us, and he is a bachelor. Later on we might get a house together.

Lately his letters have been urging my husband not to retire, and he's been talking down California. I get the feeling he doesn't want us. Is this any way for a son to act? After all, we gave him everything for many years. — LEFT OUT

DEAR L.O.:

Counter question: Did you adopt and raise this boy out of love, or for old age insurance? I don't think you've ever learned that to keep children always close you must start early on letting them go. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

If I took my 12-year-old sister away from our parents would I be charged with kidnapping?

She is being treated as I was when I grew up under their rule. Helen, my mother and father are sick. They're subjecting my sister to the kind of cruel emotional and mental torment that put me in intensive therapy when I was 18. She is treated as an object rather than a person, used as a built-in, free-of-charge cleaning woman and biby-hitter for three young brothers who can do no wrong. She is the general scapegoat in a household which considers women as slaves.

Moreover, she gets some rather lavish attention (at times) from a father she fears. I'm sure you can imagine the confusion and guilt this produces.

I can't bring charges, for there is nothing definite — yet. All I know is what happened to me, and history is repeating itself. I'm now happily married and living in another state. How can I legally bring my sister up here to live with us? — WORRIED SISTER

DEAR SISTER:

You can't legally take a child away from her parents without court approval, but perhaps you can work a short vacation visit into an extended stay, if you use the right persuasion — backed up with a doctor's diagnosis and hints that you might ask for further investigation.

Seek advice from the Public Social Service Agency in your county. While it can't initiate action, someone there may have a suggestion which will help. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

You may not agree, but here is my definition of a free society:

People talk of sex education in schools while prayer is banned; legalizing abortion while they put people in jail for murder; legalizing gambling when our crime rate is skyrocketing.

People are granted divorces for adultery, men put in jail for rape, while sex is everywhere you look — in books, movies, schools, tv. Parents want their girls to remain pure and righteous while letting them parade around half nude; their boys to be good citizens, husbands, and fathers, while letting them smoke, drink, grow long hair, etc.

Women continue to have children they don't want or won't care for when there are so many means of birth control (including abstinence). People talk of trial marriages like they were trying a new deodorant.

If a free society means you're not safe on the streets or even in your own home any more, I'm — NOT FOR IT

DEAR NOT:

As a basic optimist, I try to give more than equal time to pessimists, but really, I think there's hope for this free society. The good still outweighs the bad. — H.

Cause Of Headaches Traced To Eyes, Teeth, Injuries

Headaches, according to the California Medical Association, are caused by diseases of the sinuses, teeth, eyes, infection, head injury and others. The pain itself is usually in the blood vessels or the muscles of the head. The brain itself is insensitive to pain, though the membranes surrounding it may produce pain if injured. Here are some questions and answers about headaches from the CMA.

Q. — What causes headache?

A. — There are many causes — diseases of the sinuses, teeth, eyes, infection, head injury and others. The pain itself is usually in the blood vessels or the muscles of the head. The brain itself is insensitive to pain, though the membranes surrounding it may produce pain if injured.

Q. — What is a tension headache?

A. — This is a phrase coined by advertising writers, based on fact. Tension in the muscles of the neck, face and jaw may produce pain — and many persons tend to tense these muscles when under stress.

Q. — What is the treatment of tension headache?

A. — This is easier to say than to do. Probably the best thing to do is to lie down and relax, but often this is not possible. Ordinary aspirin is as effective as any other drug available without prescription.

Q. — What is migraine headache?

A. — A form of headache believed to be related to a functional disturbance of the circulation within the cranium, problably involving dilation and/or constriction of the cranial arteries. It often affects only one side of the head at a time, and may be accompanied by, or preceded by, nausea, vomiting, blind spots in the field of vision, or flashes of light. There is a strong tendency for migraine headache to run in families, and we commonly find that if a patient has migraine, one of his parents does also.

Q. — What is the treatment for migraine?

A. — Aspirin, with or without caffeine citrate, or codeine may relieve mild attacks. Severe attacks usually require ergot derivatives, which should be taken as soon after the onset of symptoms as possible. The drugs require careful evaluation by the doctor, including regular visits to his office for checkups and perhaps X-rays. Close cooperation between patient and doctor can usually bring about good control, if not complete relief, of the attacks.

Q. — What is sinus headache?

A. —A result of the inflammation and swelling in the membranes of the nose. Shrinking the swelling with nose drops or spray or decongestant pills usually brings relief. Persistent nasal infection, with or without headache, requires medical attention.

Q. — Aren't headaches sometimes a sign of serious illness?

A. — Yes. Brain tumor, brain hemorrhage, high blood pressure, meningitis and other diseases may produce headache. However, all of these conditions are rare, and headaches are so common as to be almost universal. Most headaches are due to the causes already listed — plus, of course, the morning-after headache.

Q. — How can I tell whether my headache indicates something serious? When should I see a doctor about it?

A. — That is hard to answer; a headache rising from a serious cause can actually be mild. One guide may be this: check with the doctor if the headache is different from the usual pattern — if it is more severe, felt in a different place or occurs at unusual times. Headache associated with any other sign of trouble — difficulty with vision, weakness, paralysis, numbness, fever, nose bleeds, dizziness, nausea, vomiting, excessive sleepiness or fainting — should be reported to the doctor at once. Headache following a head injury, though very common, should always be evaluated by a physician.

Education Level For Women Rises

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The education level attained by women has risen steadily since the beginning of this century, reports the Womens's Bureau of the U.S. Department of Labor.

The bureau's study, "Trends in Educational Attainment by Women," showed that in 1900 only seven of every 100 girls of 17 graduated from high school, but in 1968 the figure rose to 78 of every 100.

The number of women earning a bachelor's and first professional degrees rose from 5,000 in 1900 to 279,000 in 1968 with those earning masters' rising from 300 to over 63,000, and doctorates from 23 to 2,906.

The publication, available free from the bureau, includes graphs, charts and other information about education and labor force participation.

INFANT MORTALITY

Limited Weight Gain Seen As Baby Hazard

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The practice of limiting pregnant women to a weight gain of only 10 to 14 pounds may be one reason for the high infant mortality rate in the United States, according to a National Research Council report.

The council's Committee on Maternal Nutrition recommended instead an average weight gain of 24 pounds within the range of 20 to 25 pounds. The report, also said the current routine supplementation of pregnant women's diets with vitamin and mineral preparations is of doubtful value, except for iron and folic acid.

The committee found "high incidences of low birth weights and of deaths connected with low weight" in the United States, which in 1966 ranked 13th among 40 countries in infant mortality.

It said the birth weight of an infant "is strongly associated with and conditioned by the weight gain of its mother" and that "restriction of diet during pregnancy may unfavorably affect the growth and development of the fetus."

Therefore, the committee said, the current practice U.S. doctors that tends to restrict normal weight gain "is not justified."

The committee also reported that girls who become pregnant before they are 17 run great risks for both themselves and their babies.

"Because they are growing," the Research Council said, "most girls under 17 have greater nutritional requirements in relation to body size than do adult women. The additional nutrient demands of pregnancy may compromise their growth potential and increase their risk in pregnancy."

The report said the number of babies born to adolescents is on the rise, partly because of a trend in the United States income families, the report said.

'AIRPORT' DUE AT SEQUOIA

Circus Still Thrills Fans Of All Ages

By JAMES. E. WILLIAMS

OAKLAND — Who says circuses are just for children? Heck, I'm in that over-30 age bracket and enjoy them as much as any 5-year-old.

However there is always a touch of nostalgia in paying a visit to the biggest of them — Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey.

Gone is the smell of sawdust and those hard bleachers of the big tent. Instead there are comfortable chairs, modern hot dog stands and an almost antiseptic smell.

BROADWAY TINGE

But don't be fooled. All the thrills of yesteryear still remain.

Last night at the Coliseum, spectacle was the keyword of the big show's 100th anniversary edition. It resembled more a Broadway production than an ordinary circus. There were beautiful costumes, good looking loung ladies — all part of the changing scene brought by the advent of the mid-20th Century.

But underneath all these trappings were the real element of any circus — elephants, tigers, the parade of clowns, tumblers, high wire dare devil acts and the thrilling trapeze artists.

There is so much to see and so fast, too, that I was drained physically after the tightly packaged three-hour show.

First of the big spectacles features Elvin Bale, a young man who performs a daring act on a swinging trapeze without a net.

MOTORCYCLE SCARE

The one act that still has my feet a little shaky was high-wire motorcycle act high above the arena. It has to be seen to believe. It was even more daring than the finale — a birthday salute — which featured firing of a man from a cannon — this one resembling a missile being launched from Cape Kennedy.

Add these acts all together, it is truly "the greatest show on earth" even to one of the over 30-age group.

The circus will play tonight at 8 o'clock and tomorrow at 2:30 and 8 p.m. at the Coliseum before moving to the San Francisco Cow Palace for performances at the same time through Sunday.

Peace, Freedom Party Chooses Laborer-Student As Chairman

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A 26-year-old Penngrove laborer and part-time student at Sonoma State College has been elected as state chairman of the Peace and Freedom Party.

Irvin H. Sutley Jr., who served 90 days in the Sonoma County Jail in 1969 for possession of marijuana, was elected during the party's weekend convention in the Capitol.

The party also adopted a platform calling for the "right" to use drugs and urging the state to give inmates permission to run prisons.

Sutley, chairman of the party in Sonoma County, was an unsuccessful candidate for sheriff in the June primary election while still on probation for the marijuana conviction. He got 1,677 votes.

He ran on a ticket that called for disarmament of deputies, except in cases of extreme emergency. This proposal also was made a plank in the party's state platform.

Elected co-chairmen were Thora Husmann of San Francisco, representing Northern California, Louise James of Carmel for Central California, and C. T. Weber of Long Beach for Southern California. Gayle Justice of San Francisco was elected secretary-treasurer.

The party had 36,487 registered members in the June primary election, or one-half of 1 per cent of the registered voters in California. Sonoma had 805 members, and Marin had 939.

The party platform also called for improved primary and secondary education, free higher education and support for the "struggle of all women against the massive economic and social exploitation of their posiiton."

It called for giving individuals all "rights which do not violate the rights of other human beings," including guarantees of sexual freedom between consenting adults and elimination of abortion and obscenity laws.

Youth Is Suspect Of Drug Abuse After 'Bad Trip'

Deputies said Wolfgang Greene struck several persons at the residence, destroyed furniture and broke windows and barricaded himself in a bedroom at 11:30 p.m.

Others opened the bedroom door with an axe, which Greene had thrown out a window, and subdued him, deputies said. Greene was arrested on suspicion of drug intoxication and placed at the Marin Community Mental Health Center for 72 hours observation.

Small Car Stolen

His 1969 model car was taken from its parking place at 177 Canal Street, San Rafael, between midnight Friday and 10:45 a.m. Saturday, Robert Kamen of Flushing, N. Y., reported to police today. The car is a dark green Volvo with New York license QG-3549.

Supervisors' Problem: A Pay Schedule

The Marin County Board of Supervisors will face the dilemma of having to set new salaries for the county's safety workers (sheriff's deputies, firemen and communications workers) tomorrow, even though contract negotiations are deadlocked.

County Administrator Alan Bruce will recommend that a 5 per cent salary raise be given to all safety employees effective Sept. 1, if a new contract is not agreed upon by that date. Last year's contract, extended for 60 days, will expire on Sept. 1.

All other county employees got 5 or 6 per cent raises this year, but the 210 safety employees are still holding out.

Sheriff's deputies, who lead the holdouts, originally asked for a 17 per cent raise, then lowered it to 12.5 per cent. The county's last offer was 7.5 per cent for deputies and 5 per cent for the others. Another county offer has been mailed to the safety members in the form of secret ballots, and the results will be tabulated by the Marin County Employees Association Wednesday. Bruce declined to disclose the proposal mailed to safety employees.

Only three supervisors are expected to attend tomorrow's regular session. Both Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. and Michael Wornum are on vacation.

Other items on the supervisors' agenda include:

I-J DISPUTE — The humane rights commission will present a letter asking the county "to actively support the Marin County clergy in their efforts to bring the Independent-Journal and the Typograuhical Union to the bargaining table to submit their differences to mediation or binding arbitration."

PROBATION SUBSIDY — The county administrator will report that a state subsidy of $98,600 is available to the county for "special supervision programs" in the probation department. The county can use the money to lower the tax rate or reinstate the probation department's Intensive Supervision Unit, which was discontinued this year.

COUNTY FAIR — Since the new Veterans Memorial Auditorium will not be ready until September of next year, the supervisors will decide whether next year's county fair should be held after September, not held at all, or moved to another site.

In the afternoon, the supervisors will consider weed abatement on several properties, hear a request for rezoning of the R.J. Tikker property on North San Pedro Road for administrative-professional use, and hold a hearing on flood control improvements planned in the Alto area by the Richardson Bay Flood Control Zone.

Ferryboat Ship-Shape To Sail Again Today

Ferryboat service between Sausalito and San Francisco, aborted last Monday by an exgine failure, was to resume this afternoon, a half day earlier than expected.

Workmen labored around the clock over the weekend to install an entirely rebuilt starboard engine, and the work was complete enough yesterday for a two-hour trial run.

Dale W. Luehring, general manager of the Golden Gate Bridge District, said the big diesel "purred like a kitten."

A final check and cleanup were scheduled this morning to be 100 per cent certain everything was operating correctly, he said.

Service was to resume today from San Francisco. The full schedule will be resumed tomorrow.

The cause of the engine failure was being investigated by the builder, the Caterpillar Co., Luehring said. All parts have been sent to the company's factory in Peoria, Ill,, for analysis.

Both sides of the engine block were torn up by the unidentified part that tore loose last week during the first weekday run of the vessel, the M.V. Golden Gate.

Luehring discounted rumors that the failure may be blamed on maintenance on the year-old vessel before it was bought in April by the district.

Each of the twin V-12's is capable of developing 1,000 horsepower at 2,200 revolutions per minute, but they are run "very conservatively" at 1,800 to develop 700 to 725 horsepower, Luehring said. The engines are Caterpillar's newest model, he noted.

The week out of service gave bridge crews time to make minor imporvements on the vessel, including installation of higher railings aft of the benches to prevent children from falling overboard, corrections to the public address system, and addition of an opening in the second deck's railing for access while at the Pier 7 maintenance facility.

Luehring also reported that estimates were being prepared on the cost of using the south side of the landing at the Ferry Building in San Francisco. The district shares the landing with Harbor Tours, which operates the Tiburon ferry, thus district time schedules have to be worked into Harbor Tours' schedule.

Some dredging, perhaps taking two days, apparently will be needed to clear access to the south side of the landing, Leuhring said.

Two Arrested In Burglarizing San Rafael Store

A 19-year-old Novato man was jailed and his 17-year-old companion booked into Marin Juvenile Hall early eaday on suspicion of burglarizing Jade French Cleaners at 175 Belvedere Street, San Rafael, police reported.

Gerald Arthur Beaudoin of 581 Fernando Drive, Novato, was held in lieu of $2,000 bail to appear this afternoon in Marin Municipal Court. John Joseph Bradley of 865 Los Gallinas Road, Apt. 8, San Rafael was booked into Marin County Juvenile Hall.

The front door of the cleaners was broken at 12:50 a.m. and neighbors reported it to police. The two were arrested at the adjacent parking lot at Sil's Market, according to police.

Building New Disney World Affects Many

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI) —The economic impact of the multimillion dollar Disney World complex under construction near here is being felt not only in this area but throughout thenation and in other countries. The huge resort-vacation-entertainment complex is scheduled to open in October, 1971.

Gates for the attraction are in production in Denver, transformers in Milwaukee, monorail beams in Tacoma, Wash., gas turbines in Canada and wigs in Guatemala.

Bay Team Can Predict Heart Attack

WALNUT CREEK, Calif. (UPI)—A physician and two electronics engineers have constructed a machine they say can predict about half of all heart attacks hours or even days in advance.

They say their "ventricular impulse detector and alarm" can predict ventricular fibrillation, an electrical failure in the heart, by picking up an unusual beat called an "ectopic" beat.

Physicians have noted that when such beats increase in frequency one of them sets the heart into deadly filbrillation which must be rapidly corrected.

One problem now is that, because these beats are not detected in time, patients die before reaching hospitals.

Their machine is about the size of a cigarette pack, has two sensors which are placed on the chest and is powered by a transistor battery.

Their machine still needs clinical tests but Chapman declares: "we're talking about the potential of saving hundreds of thousands of lives a year."

Modoc County Youth Arrested In Thefts

Police said that Michael James Pine was found at 4:15 a.m. carrying a stereo tape player, cassettes and a radio that had been stolen a few hours earlier from the school. He was booked into Sonoma County Juvenile Hall.

Plot Witness Faces Charge

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—The star witness in District Attorney Jim Garrison's investigation into the assassination of President John F. Kennedy has been arrested and charged with three counts of burglary and theft.

Police said Perry Raymond Russo and a companion were arrested Saturday at Russo's New Orleans home.

At a pretrial hearing in 1967, Russo testified he was at a party with Clay L. Shaw, Lee Harvey Oswald and David Ferry at which time the assassination of the former President was planned. Based upon Russo's testimony, Garrison charged Shaw with conspiracy to assassinate Kennedy. Shaw was acquitted March 1, 1969.

Eager Miami Dolphins Prove Dormant 49ers Need A Cleaning

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (UPI) — Coach Dick Nolan of the San Francisco 49ers has some cleaning up to do.

Returning to training camp in Santa Barbara following a passive 17-7 defeat at the hands of the Dolphins in Miami, Nolan must develop signs of life in San Francisco's so-called offensive attack.

LONE FLASH

Fleet Jimmy Thomas provided the lone flash of brilliance with a 51-yard scoring jaunt on a draw play. Much of the credit for the second quarter play must go to quarterback John Brodie, who helped create San Francisco's only touchdown by accurately reading an impending Miami blitz.

Take away Thomas' run, and the Niners garnered only 26 yards on the ground.

Miami, despite a relatively low point production, dominated the game. The Dolphins had the ball for 16 more plays from scrimmage than the Niners, who were able to run only three plays in the opening period.

Steve Spurrier took over for Brodie in the second half. One week earlier he had taken San Francisco inside the enemy's 20-yard line, failing each time to put the ball in the end zone. That performance, against the Cleveland Browns, was matched Saturday night in Miami.

Spurrier twice took his mates within the Dolphin 20-yard stripe. The second drive was foiled by a pass interception. The first ended in a more discouraging manner.

LOST ON DOWNS

With first and goal to go on the two-yard line, Spurrier sent his running backs into the Miami trenches four successive times. No one could get past the goal line and San Francisco lost the ball on downs.

Thus, the 49ers have scored only one touchdown in each of their first two pre-season contests. Poor line blocking is only partially at fault. Spurrier failed to loosen up the Miami defense with a pass play during the goal line series, and his staid play selection in that situation underlines San Francisco's inability so far to outwit and shake up enemy defenses.

ALL FOR NAUGHT — Giant's Don Mason's unorthodox slide into home in the ninth inning yesterday didn't work as Cub catcher Randy Hundley tagged him out. The Giants won anyway, 4-3. (UPI Telephoto)

Ram Veterans Impressed Raiders

Rams Seem Ready For Super Bowl

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—John Madden, the brilliant young coach of the Oakland Raiders, has paid the Los Angeles Rams the supreme compliment.

"They're ready to go to the Super Bowl right now," he said ruefully after the Rams bombed Oakland 34-23 in the teams' first meeting in history.

GABRIEL RETURNS

Out the previous weekend with a sore knee, Roman Gabriel returned to the Rams' lineup and fired three touchdown passes, two of them in the third period.

With the Raiders in front by four points, Gabriel passed 13 yards to Wendell Tucker for a touchdown. The Ram quarterback then hit Lester Josephson with an eight-yarder for another score in the third period.

Daryle Lamonica, the Oakland quarterback who was the most valuable player in the American Football League last year, also heaped praise on the Rams.

"The Rams are very solid," Lamonica said. "And when you have Merlin Olson and Deacon Jones side by side, you have the best pass ruth in football. And, as you know, that's the way to stop a passing team."

LED AT HALF

Los Angeles staged its comeback after George Blanda, the Raiders' answer to baseball's Hoyt Wilhelm, kicked a 20-yard field goal in the first 3 1-2 minutes of the second half.

"That was a typical Ram second-half comeback," commented George Allen, the Los Angeles coach whose team previously whipped Cleveland and Dallas in preseason games.

Allen, who has now won six of eight matches against old AFL clubs, called Oakland an outstanding team.

"They're probably the best team we've met so far," the Ram mentor said.

10 FOR 19

Allen went with Gabriel most of the game and the National Football League's MVP in 1969 wound up hitting 10 of 19 passes for 184 yards. Gabriel passed one yard to Billy Truax for the Rams' first score.

Rookie John Walton played all of the second quarter as Gabriel's backup man. He connected on three of nine aerials for 94 yards but had one intercepted.

Blanda, a 21-year pro who will be 43 next month, was the Raiders' quarterback in the second half. Ken Stabler, Oakland's No. 2 man behind Lamonica, was scheduled to play half the game but flew back to his Foley, Ala., home in the afternoon after his father died of a heart attack.

300 YARDS

The Oakland quarterbacks made 20 of 41 passes in the air for 330 yards. Lamonica was eight of 20 for 125 yards and a touchdown while Blanda made 12 of 20 for 175 and a score.

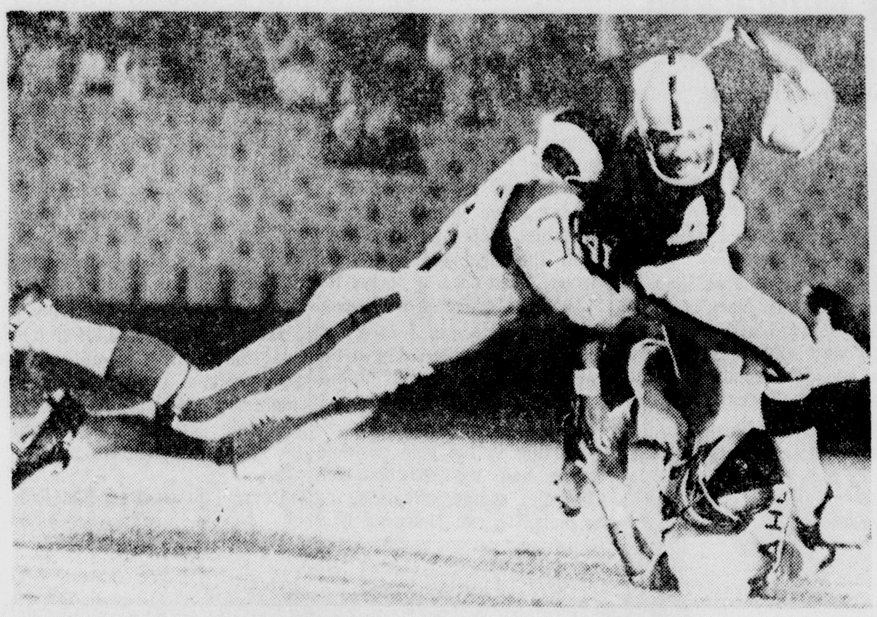
The Rams are at San Diego next Saturday night in their fourth exhibition game of the season. The Raiders, now 1-2 in preseason play, are at home against the Green Bay Packers next Sunday afternoon.



WHERE'S THE BLOCKING? — Raider rookie Alvin Wyatt's kick return was stopped when Larry Smith tackled him high and Art Strahan got him low in Saturday night's game against the Los Angeles Rams. Raiders had trouble all night and lost, 34-23. (UPI Telephoto)

Suyderhoud U.S. Water Ski Champ

Mike Suyderhoud of San Anselmo yesterday won the men's title at the National Water Ski Championships in Canton, Ohio. Holder of the overall World crown, Suyderhoud cinched the meet when he outgunned Ricky McCormick of Independence, Mo., in the jumping event, 159 feet to 151. Earlier Suyderhoud had taken the slalom event.

Johnson Makes It Happen: Giants Over .500 Again

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—They don't call Frank Johnson the San Francisco Giants' "Super Sub" for nothing.

Sunday, with Phil Regan pitching in about as tense a moment in Johnson's short big league life, "Super Sub" made it happen, lining a single to right to give the Giants a 4-3 victory over the fumbling Chicago Cubs.

Today is an off day for the Giants, now a game over the .500 mark, and Johnson can sit and think about his big hit, the fifth game-winning blow he's had this year.

The Cubs, behind Milt Pappas, took a 3-2 lead into the bottom of the ninth Sunday but Dick Dietz doubled to open the inning and Jim Hart reached first on a boot of his smash to third by the usually reliable Ron Santo.

That finished Pappas and brought on Regan, the man known as the "Vulture." He also is famous for a greaseball the players claim he throws in key situations.

Regan started off by striking out pinchhitter Ron Hunt, on what Hunt said was a greaseball. John Stephenson, another pinchhitter, hit a tap to third which Santo fired home to nail Don Mason, running for Dietz.

Bobby Bonds then hit a roller to short but Kessinger kicked it and all hands were safe. Regan muttered a few things skyward and then got ready to pitch to Johnson, hitting for Tito Fuentes.

"I was as nervous as a cat," Johnson said, "coming out to hit. I knew all I had to do was meet the ball but Regan is no cinch to hit."

Regan slipped over two quick strikes, which apparently looked strange to Giants skipper Charlie Fox because he came out to protest to plate umpire Andy Olsen that Regan was souping up the baseball.

"I don't think he is throwing it," said Olsen.

"You and I both know," Fox told Olsen, "that he can't throw a breaking ball straight down. Keep your eye on him."

Fox went back to the dugout and Olsen went back behind the plate. Olsen gave Regan a new ball to use. Regan missed outside with a fastball on the first pitch and then threw what Johnson said was a greaseball, low and away.

"I just stuck out my bat and hoped I could get a piece of it," said Johnson.

He got more than just a piece as the ball sailed on a line into the rightfield corner, scoring Frank Reberger, running for Hart, with the tieing run and Stephenson with the winner.

Lost in the confusion was another fine pitching performance by Juan Marichal, who went the distance on a five-hitter to gain his fifth straight victory and eighth of the year compared to nine losses.

Santo hit his 20th homer with a man on in the fifth against Marichal to tie the score at 2-2 after Juan had retired the first 12 men in order.

In the sixth, Pappas led off with a single and made it around on a double by Glenn Beckert, an intentional pass to Billy Williams and Jim Hickman's sacrifice fly.

The Cubs literally gave the Giants their first run as well as those two in the ninth. Bonds opened the game for San Francisco with a high popup to short center. Kessinger lost it

AVCO Waits Out Rain

SUTTON, Mass. (UPI)—Professional golf rarely bows to the weather, particularly when network television is involved. So you have to know it rained very, very hard at Pleasant Valley Country Club on Sunday.

Final round play in the $160,000 AVCO Classic had to be put off until today after a rain storm that matured into a full-fledged downpour.

At least four holes were thoroughly inundated when PGA officials finally blew the whistle. Play had been suspended 42 minutes after the start had originally been held up for 40 minutes.

PGA officials said the tournament would be completed today or, in the event of further rain, on Tuesday. However, the forecast for today called for clearing skies.

Billy Casper, the AVCO leader by a stroke after 54 holes, never went into the course Sunday since the rainout came more than 20 minutes before his scheduled tee-off time.

Casper, gunning for his fourth tournament victory of the tour and the 47th of his career, goes into the final round with an eight-under-par 208 total.

Other leaders include Dave Hill, Dan Sikes, Jim Colbert and Tom Weiskopf, all tied at 209, seven under par for 54 holes.

Other sub-par shooters through the first three rounds included Lou Graham and Larry Ziegler, tied at 210 or six under, and six others four strokes back at 212, including Bobby Mitchell, Chuck Courtney, R.H. Sikes, Tom Aycock, Herb Hooper and Dave Eichelberger.

Namath A Spectator As Jets Lose; Alworth Rejoins Chargers Tonight

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

With Minnesota quarterback Joe Kapp the last of the "retired" holdouts, the San Diego Chargers and the recently "unretired" Lance Alworth tackle the Chicago Bears tonight as the National Football League exhibition season continues on its crash program toward the opening whistle of the regular campaign.

Alworth, however, like Joe Namath of the New York Jets, is not ready for action after losing all his pre-season training.

JOE NOT READY

Namath wasn't quite ready, and certainly not about to risk his questionable legs on the muddy field of the Yale Bowl Sunday. The Jet star didn't even suit up as his teafmates bowed, 28-24, to the New York Giants as the "other quarterback in New York," Fran Tarkenton of the Giants threw three touchdown passes in the first period.

In games played Saturday, Baltimore routed Denver 24-7, Los Angeles outdistanced Oakland 34-23, Detroit whipped New Orleans 31-17, Minnesota edged Houston 14-7, Miami defeated San Francisco 17-7, Green Bay nipped Dallas, 35-34, Kansas City topped Cleveland 16-13, and St. Louis romped over Cincinnati, 41-20.

The Chargers, who will continue to go with rookie Walker Gillette in Alworth's wide receiver spot, will send veteran quarterback John Hadl to face his former protege at the University of Kansas Bobby Douglass, starting his second season with the Bears.

UNITAS, MORRALL

Baltimore got impressive performances against Denver from veteran quarterbacks Johnny Unitas and Earl Morrall who both tossed touchdown passes, in registering the 11th straight Colt pre-season victory.

Roman Gabriel showed mid-season form for the Los Angeles Rams by throwing three touchdown passes in a come-from-behind victory over Oakland. A sore knee had relegated Gabriel to a spectator role in last week's contest with Dallas.

Bobby Williams' 102-yard kickoff return highlighted the Detroit Lions' win over the New Orleans Saints. Williams' run put the Lions ahead to stay in the third quarter. Prize rookie Steve Owens, the 1969 Heisman Trophy winner, also scored for Detroit.

The Minnesota Vikings, who have failed to satisfy quarterback Kapp's salary demands, turned to Gary Cuozzo, Kapp's understudy last season. Cuozzo responded by throwing a pair of touchdown passes to subdue the Houston Oilers. The Oilers, however, picked off four Cuozzo aerials.

PACKER THRILLER

Donny Anderson, somewhat of a disappointment since signing a $200,000 bonus contract a few years back, showed his $200,000 form by scoring three times and gaining 63 yards in 11 carries as the Packers topped the Cowboys in a high-scoring thriller.

The world Champion Kansas City Chiefs Called in Jan Stenerud to put away the Browns. tSenerud kicked a pair of 40-yard field goals in the final minutes.

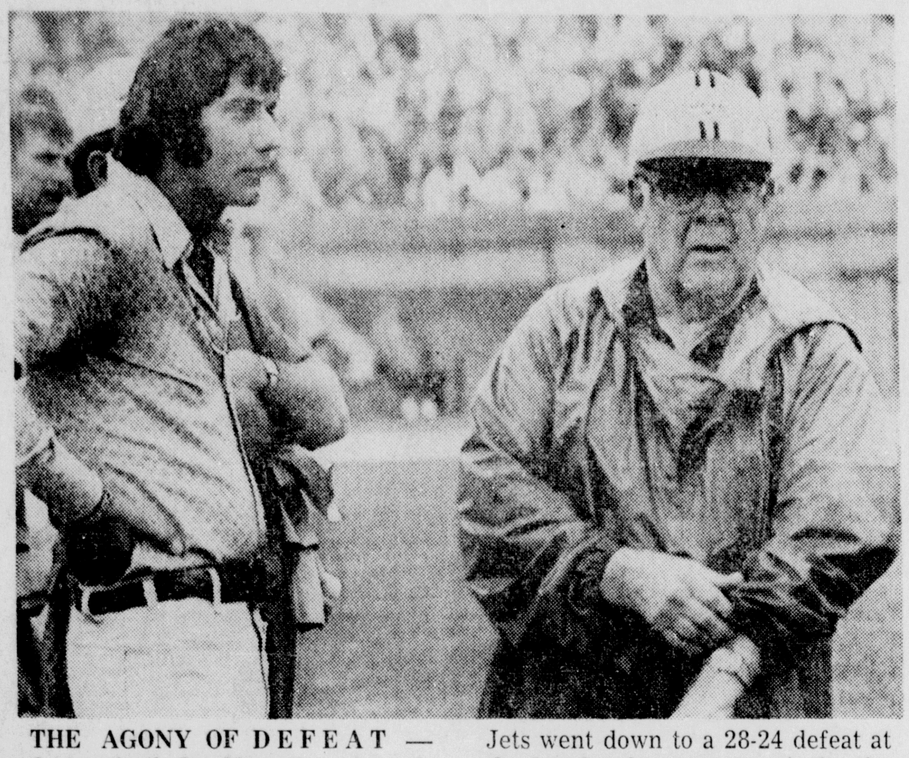
In a game played Friday night the Buffalo Bills gave coach John Rauch his first victory of the season by beating the Philadelphia Eagles 35-20. O.J. Simpson and receiver Bubba Thornton received ankle injuries but are not expected to miss this week's game against Washington.



THE AGONY OF DEFEAT — Quarterback Joe Namath and coach Weeb Ewbank were pictures of dismay yesterday as their New York Jets went down to a 28-24 defeat at the hands of cross-town rivals, the New York Giants. Namath did not suit up for the game. (UPI Telephoto)

in the sun and Williams and Joe Pepitone charged for it and then let it fall between them for a gift double.

A sacrifice by Fuentes and a long fly to right by Willie Mays brought Bonds home with the tally and the Giants scored their second run in the second on doubles by Dietz and Hal Lanier.

Marichal said he felt better Sunday than he has all year.

"I threw my fastball a lot more in this game and now I'm starting to regain my confidence in the pitch," said Marichal. "I had a lot of luck with my screwball, too."

Fox, naturally, was delighted with Marichal's performance.

Ram Star Brown Calls It Quits

FULLERTON, Calif, (UPI)— Roger Brown, the Los Angeles Ram defensive tackle who checked into camp late and overweight, announced his retirement Thursday.

The 30-year-old pro did not report to camp until Aug. 7 and weighed in at 334 pounds. He worked out on his own but was unable to cut down to his playing weight of less than 300 pounds.

Unser Leads All The Way In Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Al Unser grabbed the lead off the pole position, never relinquished it and won the 200-mile Tony Bettenhausen Classic in Milwaukee yesterday with a record speed of 114.307 miles per hour.

Unser clipped more than 5½ miles off the old mark of 108.735 mph set by Lloyd Ruby two years ago and finished three laps and 11 seconds ahead of second place Roger McCluskey.

A's Fail Again To Gain On Twins

CLEVELAND (UPI) — The Oakland A's apparently are not waiting until the change of the months before they begin their September Swoon.

Suffering from an absence of steady pitching and an inability to smack the clutch basehit, the A's were dumped 8-6 Sunday by Cleveland. The Indians swept the three-game series between the two clubs.

By losing their last two games, the Athletics have committed back-to-back sins of omission. First place Minnesota also has lost twice in a row, but the A's have not picked up any ground. They remain 6 1-2 games away from the top of the American League West.

Following Diego Segui's complete game victory against Detroit last Wednesday night, Oakland starters have not survived past the seventh inning.

Jim Hunter went seven frames in a 6-3 loss to Cleveland Friday night. Chuck Dobson was bombed from the hill after six innings in a 6-5 setback Saturday. John Odom, on Sunday, retreated after only 4 2-3 innings.

Graig Nettles slugged a three-run homer in the fourth and Ray Fosse doubled for two more tallies in the fifth to bring Cleveland from a 2-1 deficit to a 6-1 advantage. The A's had established the early lead on homers by Gene Tenace and Odom.

Rick Monday and Don Mincher made it 6-4 with homers in the seventh. Tenace and Bert Campaneris singled for two more runs and a tie score in the eighth.

Cleveland came right back to win it in the bottom of the frame. Fosse and Duke Sims singled against reliever Bob Locker. Jim Grant came to the mound and got the next batter to pop out. But Eddie Leon belted a double over the head of Rick Monday in center for the winning runs.

The A's failed Sunday, as they did in the two previous defeats, to drive in decisive runs with men on base. They stranded 10 runners Sunday.

The A's had similar problems in 1969 when they collapsed in September and fell out of the A.L. West pennant fight.

Oakland has the day off before traveling to Baltimore for a three-game series beginning Tuesday night. After playing the Orioles, the A's go to Detroit for three games against the Tigers.

Hulme Makes Can Am Look Easy

MANSFIELD, Ohio (UPI)— New Zealander-turned-Englander Denis Hulme won his third Canadian-American Challenge Cup race of the season, the $90,000 Buckeye Cup, at the nearby Mid-Ohio Race Course Sunday. And as a spectator remarked: "Hulme makes it all look so easy."

The balding 35-year-old Hulme, now a resident of Surbiton, England, indeed made it look easy as he went for a Sunday drive in his McLaren-Chevrolet M8D and flew away from the field of 25 other Group Seven cars to pocket the $12,000 first-place prize money.

"I was determined to go as quickly as possible early in the race in case it rained," Julme explained later about his blazing start.

Starting in the pole position, Julme had the 465-cubic-inch Chevrolet engine screaming as he pulled out an 11-second lead after only 12 laps and 41.5 seconds at the end of 35 laps.

He admitted that the lead would have helped him if his scarred hands, still healing from severe burns he received at Indianapolis last May, began to bother him.

"But the hands actually felt quite good," he remarked, adding, "I'm sure winning had something to do with my comfort."

Hulme finished 77 seconds ahead of runnerup Peter Revson of New York City, who turned in a creditable performance for his first Can-Am finish of the year.

Hulme averaged 95.184 m.p.h. over the twisting 2.4-mile Mid-Ohio course, well below his qualifying speed of 98.63 but a full mile per htur faster than the speed he won with here last year.

Revson, plagued by bad luck all season, said he was extremely pleased with the second-place finish and he was simply "driving as hard as I could."

Another tough-luck Can-Am veteran, Lothar Motschenbacher of Beverly Hills, Calif., drove a steady race in his McLaren-Chevy to take a third despite brake trouble through most of the event.

Ex-Cal Athlete Guilty Of Theft

OAKLAND (UPI) — Former University of California basketball center Bob Presley has pleaded guilty to charges of grand theft in a travel check swindle.

Alameda County Superior Court Judge Harold Hove dismissed two other counts Thursday against the 6-11 Presley but set sentencing for the remaining charge on Sept. 16.

Marin Swimmers Place In Consolation Finals

Denise Ham of the Marin Aquatic Club and Robin Bachrach of the Dolphins of Marin both won points in the National AAU Swimming Championships which ended yesterday at the Los Angeles Swim Stadium.

Miss Ham, one of four MAC entries in the meet, clocked her best time ever in the 200 meter butterfly to place 13th in the consolation finals of that event Saturday. Her mark of two minutes, 28.679 seconds was three sends off her trial time.

Miss Bachrach, the only other Marin contestant, also took a 13th consolation place as she swam the 200 individual medley yesterday in 2:34.12.

If the National AAU outdoor meet is any indication, the United States will field another super swimming team at the Munich Olympics.

The national championships ended with a flourish Sunday night with Hall, a versatile Indiana University sophomore, breaking his third world record in three nights and broad-shouldered John Kinsella, 17, becoming the first man to go under 16 minutes in the men's 1,500-meter freestyle.

Two other world marks tumbled on the final day of the four-day competition at the Los Angeles Swim Stadium. That made it 13 in 30 men's and women's events.

With a crowd of 5,000 in the stands, Hall bettered his own world standard in the men's 200-meter individual medley in 2:09.48. His old mark was 2:09.6.

Kinsella, an Oak Brook, Ill., product who will enroll at Indiana University next month, edged Olympic champion Mike Burton in 15:57.10. The 23-year-old Burton, who held the old world standard of 16:04.5, also dipped under 16 minutes, doing 15:57.34.

"I've never thought of myself as the world's No. 1 swimmer," the Phillips 66-Long Beach Calif., athlete said in answer to a question.

While Hall didn't have much to say, the 6-foot-3, 200-pound Kinsella was ebullient.

"I was really scared before the race," the blonde-haired teen-ager said. "I was worried until the last 200 meters. Then I thought I had it."

Kinsella, who said he hoped to be at his "peak" ofr the 1972 Olympics, had never beaten Burton until this meet. At 15, he was second to Burton in the 1968 Olympic 1,500 race.

"Mike used to kill me on the turns," Kinsella offered. "But tonight it was different. I was beating him at it.

"I thought it would take beter than 16598,753 59 28, and I felt I was capable of the world record."

Kinsella also set a world mark in the 400 freestyle Thursday night, beating Burton for the initial time in the process.

After a loss to Mike Stamm of San Diego in the men's 200-meter backstroke on the opening night, Hall came on. He broke his own world record in the 400 indicidual medley Friday night and Saturday night set a world mark in the 200 butterfly.

Hall was the top men's scorer in the meet with 77 points on his three triumphs and one second place.

Susie Atwood, a 17-year-old senior at Millikan High School in Long Beach, Calif., was a triple winner and also had a third to earn high point honors among women with 75 points.

Mark Spitz, 20-year-old Indiana University junior, set a world record of 51.94 seconds in the preliminaries of the men's 100-meter freestyle but was upset by Frank Heckl of the Los Angeles Athletic Club in the finals.

BASEBALL ROUNDUP

Reds Find Another Pitching Hero

By STEVE SMILANICH
U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Don Gullett may be just a small cog in Cincinnati's "Big Red Machine," but the fireballing rookie is contributing as much as the big wheels in his team's drive to the National League pennant.

The Reds sputtered momentarily Sunday by dropping the opener of a doubleheader to the New York Mets before Gullett went to work with an eye-popping strikeout performance in the second game.

The 19-year-old lefthander from Lynn, Ky., came on in relief and methodically mowed down six straight Mets on strikeouts in a 7-5 Cincinnati win after New York had taken the opener, 5-4.

LEAGUE RECORD

The six straight strikeouts for a relief pitcher tied the league record for consecutive strikeouts and ironically came against Tom Seaver, the losing pitcher, who holds the overall-league record high 10 straight.

Gullett wound up with eight strikeouts in the four innings he worked while gaining his third win in five starts while reaffirming the "can't miss" label the Reds tagged on him when they drafted him from Sioux Falls of the Northern League.

The split by the Reds and Mets combined with Pittsbudgh's 11-0 thrashing of Los Angeles enabled Cincinnati and the Pirates to gain a half game in their respective divisions. The Reds now lead the Dodgers by 11½ in the West, while Pittsburgh is two and one-half games ahead of the Mets.

OTHER SCORES

In other National League games Philadelphia blanked Houston 4-0, St. Louis edged San Diego, 8-7 and San Francisco nipped Chicago, 4-3. The Atlanta at Montreal contest was rained out.

In the American League, Baltimore nipped California, 6-5; Cleveland downed Oakland, 8-6; Detroit beat Milwaukee 1-0; Washington walloped Minnesota, 11-1; Kansas City defeated Boston, 4-3; and New York and Chicago split a doubleheader, the White Sox taking the opener, 2-0; and the Yanks the nightcap, 7-5.

Auerbach Team Wins In Benefit

MONTICELLO N.Y. (UPI) — Rookie Dave Cowens of the Boston Celtics scored 32 points, pulled down 23 rebounds and was named the outstanding player in the Maurice Stokes Memorial basketball game at Kutsher's Country Club Tuesday night.

Cowens led the Red Auerbach coached team to an 86-82 victory over an NBA star club coached by Dolph Shayes.

Practical Solution To Long Hair

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

PITTSBURGH — Coach Carl DePasqua brought a barber along Sunday for the opening of football practice at the university of Pittsburgh.

Displeased with the long hair sported by some of his athletes, he ordered a group of them into the barber's chair at Pitt Stadium for a trim.

He said the haircuts would not be a regular item of training camp.

"Some of them were a little shaggy," DePasqua said. "I just want it neat and trim, that's all."

Auto Racing

ONTARIO, Calif. — Mark Donohue of Media, Pa., continued to blaze the trail in practice runs over the new Ontario Motor Speedway yesterday as he turned the course in 169.81 miles an hour.

Donohue's time was achieved in a turbo-Ford and bettered his Saturday speed of 165.14 miles an hour.

Golf

She trailed going into the final 18 holes this weekend but defeated Cynthia Hill of South Haven, Mich. in the final round yesterday.

CASPER, Wyo. — Bobby Hold of Denver, deadlocked with New Mexico's Wright Garrett going into the final hole, sank a 17-foot putt on the 18th green yesterday to win the Buick Pro-Am Golf tournament.

The defending titlist from Colorado shot a one-over-par 71 to finish the 72-hole tournament with a 267 total. Garrett, a pro from Albuquerque, shot a 72 for his final round on the Casper Country Club course and had a 268 total.

Bowling

WAUKEGAN, Ill. — Dave Soutar of Gilroy, Calif., has won the $40,000 Waukegan Open Bowling Tournament. Soutar made up a 293-point deficit and came from 12th place yesterday to win by 41 points.

Hockey

Boxing

Louis Tribute Raised $75,000

DETROIT (UPI)—Detroit's tribute to Joe Louis, former heavyweight champion of the world, has netted more than $75,000, it was announced Thursday.

Donations to a special trust fund for the 56-year-old "Brown Bomber" could easily reach six figures, a spokesman for the "Salute to the Champ" organization said.

More than 12,000 persons gathered at Cobo Arena Aug. 12 to pay tribute to Louis, the man who wore the most coveted crown in boxing longer than any other champion. The ailing champion, however, was unable to attend the tribute. He remained in a Denver hospital where he is undergoing psychiatric treatment.

BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG

bowling tips saturday aug 8

The back of the right hand and forearm should form a straight line as you hold the ball at address and throughout delivery. This is important for consistency, for if this line is maintained the ball will roll with approximately the same motion every time.

Aurelio Rodriguez of the California Angels led the American League third basemen in double plays last season with 42, five more than Brooks Robinson of the Baltimore Orioles.

Notre Dame has beaten Pitt football teams six straight times and the Irish hold a 24-11-1 edge 20 shutouts last season, the most for the club since 1944 when they also had 20 shutouts.

HERE'S A COMPROMISE!

Looking for a home in a top area, with 3 or 4 bedrooms, 2 baths, a fun family room, utility room, level front and rear patios AND a Bay view? Finding that for this type and quality of home the prices are astronomical? Here's the reason this home can be bought so reasonable — highway noise. Most of the problem has been solved, however, by a wrap-around, glass-enclosed deck. Consider it a minor annoyance in return for so much quality living. $41,900.

Klanner Brands Bussing Red Plot

Addressing 1,500 persons at a Klan rally Saturday night, Shelton said "the White Race has been pushed into a corner."

Earlier in the day Shelton appeared on a local radio show to answer questions called in by listeners. However, the station said Sunday 80 per cent of the telephone calls were not questions but were praise for Shelton and the Klan.

Driver, 25, Booked In Drug Case

California Highway Patrol officers said Jeffrey George Kingry of Whitehorn, Humboldt County, was arrested at the toll plaza at 2:45 a.m., after a motorist alerted the toll sergeant.

Kingry reportedly drove eastbound along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from Highway 101 to Highway 17 and across the bridge, weaving from one side of the highway to another, officers reported.

When he was halted, there were five red capsules and four yellow-blue tablets in his pickup truck, and when he was searched at the Marin County jail there was what appeared to be a marijuana cigarette in his pocket, officers reported.

Kingry was booked on suspicion of driving under the influence of dangerous drugs and suspicion of possession of marijuana and dangerous drugs.

He posted $1,250 bail and was scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday.
